School-City Swimming Pool Plans Unveiled

The board of education for the first time yesterday openly discussed the possibility of a city-school swimming pool.

The project, patterened after one in Colombia, has been under consideration several months.

Superintendent of Schools Lynn Twitty termed the project "in the investigative phase."

Board member Bob McCord along with City Manager Raymert Miller, Mayor Lee Shell, High School Principal Roger Sherman, and Bob Stearns went to Columbia last week to learn more about that city's pool.

McCord said the Columbia project was "a beautiful plant with heavy city participation." The Columbia pool cost an estimated $425,000.

The proposed Sikeston project would be a year around, enclosed, heated Olympic sized pool. During the school year the pool would be used in the physical education program and would be the scene of swimming meets for Southeast Missouri.

During the summer the pool would be open to the public.

Plans for the pool were initiaed when the public swimming pool, operated by the Jaycees, ran into financial difficulty.

Miller said the condition of the Jaycee pool makes repairs impossible.

Plans for a pool to be included in the proposed city recreational park, now under construction, were abandoned when the joint project was proposed.

"I we could have a year round pool, it would be so much better that it would warrant the additional expenditures," Miller said.

Both Miller and McCord agreed that the project could cost less than the Columbia pool.

Funds for the financing of the pool would be sought from local, state and federal agencies.

Miller said that an application would be submitted to the Missouri Outdoor Recreational Bureau for funds. A bond issue could be another avenue of financing the project, Miller added.

Miller and a member off the school staff are working on an operating and feasibility study to be presented to the school board and the city council.

Twitty told the board that disciplinary problems had arisen at the high school and a "small minority of students were unable to conform to reasonable codes of conduct."

Twitty was referring to a clash between black and white students earlier this week. The confrontation came following a fight between a black and white student.

Officials at the school said the dispute was not a major crisis and Twitty said the school "intends to provide education for students who want to come to school to learn."

The board approved a

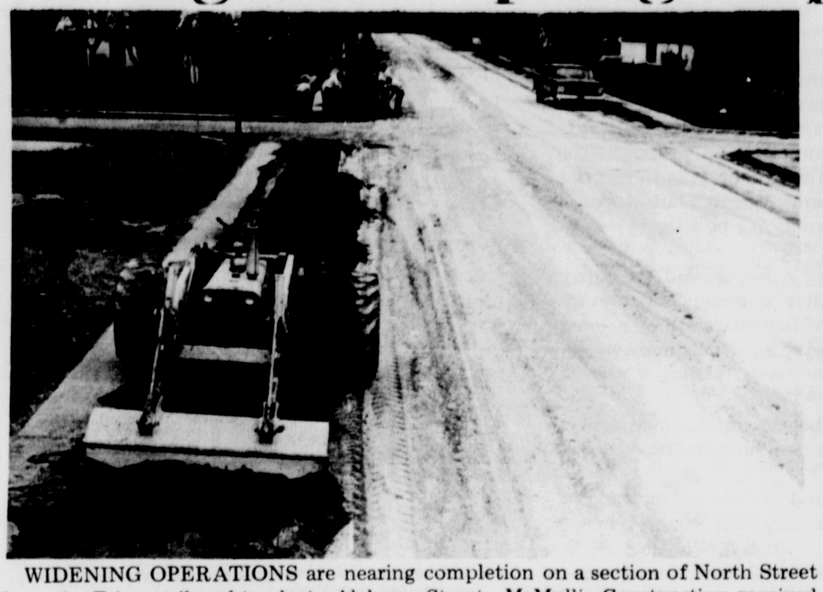
Sikeston Gets Face Lifting With Spring Improvement Projects

A 69 UNIT low income housing project is under construction west of Sunset Addition. The federally financed homes may be bought or rented when completed. Ralph Boyer Construction Company plans to complete the project in December. Sewage lines are now being laid.



WIDENING OPERATIONS are nearing completion on a section of North Street from the Frisco railroad tracks to Alabama Street. McMullin Construction received a $17,000 award on the project. Officials of the city said the improvements, to be completed within a week, will assure better surface drainage when completed.

COWAN CONSTRUCTION COMPANY will complete improvements on South Kingshighway next week between Kathleen Street and Maplewood. The street is being widened four feet with a curb being added on the west side of the street. The project cost an estimated $2,500.

Area Nursing Shortage Persists Despite Practical Training Program

Mrs. Clare Eisenbach, registered nurse at the Sikeston R-6 school nursing program, spoke on the development of the practical nurses training program since its origin in 1963 at the Kiwanis club Tuesday night at the Rustic Rock Inn.

A nominating committee chose David Bowman for vice president. The election will be held at the next meeting. A vacancy occurred when Paul Cannon resigned. The committee also chose three to fill vacancies on the board of directors. They are Russ Richards, Earl Jewell and Bob Stearns.

Program Chairman Jim Cornett presented Mrs. Eisenbach. She pointed out that in 1963 the public school system realized the need for nurses and began a practical nurse training program, with a class of 12. She then was asked by the Kennett school system to open a nursing program for it.

This was followed by a program at Hayti.

The Sikeston school system opened a program to train nurses aides for the district, to give hospital patients better nursing care.

Mrs. Eisenbach commented:

"We have exhausted every possibility for nurses and still there is a shortage. In our last classes there were 45 in training yet only five remained here. Sikeston is the first school in Missouri to be nationally accredited and now has ten instructors. Over 200 have been trained here since the program started.

"A pilot program has been started for all hospital employes. All the personnel can work parttime and attend classes. The program is given for one year with 50 attending each term."

The club will have ladies night next Tuesday at the Ramada Inn.

New Sheriff Stands for Law And Order

CARUTHERSVILLE (AP) — Pemiscot County's new sheriff is Thad Shelly, a towering 6-6, Hayti farmer, who said today he plans to "quell the lawbreakers" in Southeast Missouri.

"The past several years thieving and such has been on the increase," the 46-year-old Shelly said after his election Tuesday night.

"The outcome showed the people wanted change."

Shelly replaces ex-Sheriff Clyde Orton, who was ousted from office about a month ago by the Missouri Supreme Court. The court said Orton, 49, was removed for neglect of duty involving gambling and liquor law violations. Shelly has served as acting sheriff since Orton was ousted.

Shelly quashed a bid by Orton's wife, Hazel, to win the Sheriff's job.

Unofficial, final returns gave Shelly 1,920 votes to Mrs. Orton's 1,625, a 295 vote difference.

Shelly said he was pleased by the large voter turnout Tuesday. "They placed their confidence in me to continue in this office," he said.

More than 5,400 of the county's 9,000 registered voters cast ballots. The county has a population of about 24,000.

Shelly said he would make some adjustments in the sheriff's office, including adding one more deputy to his staff of two men.

"I'll do my best to make this a good, clean county," he said.

Six other candidates ran far behind Shelly and Mrs. Orton. They were former Deputies Charles A. Farris, 883 votes, Neely Mitchell, 413, and Richard Pankey, 147, Gail Davidson, 313, Clyde Manley, 194; and Bob White 56.

The ousted sheriff, a Demorat, filed as a candidate in the special election but the court ruled his name kept off the ballot.

St. Francis Hospital received $206.20 judgment against David Arthur and Helen Middleton. Gray Mercantile co. was awarded $195.41 judgment against Dawsey L. And Linda Jordan.

Matthews Maps War on Canines

MATTHEWS— Mayor Harold Burch said Tuesday that he has requested citizens of Matthews to report to City Marshal Pete Burch when they have seen or caught stray dogs.

"If the marshal is called, he can run them (dogs) off," Burch saud.

He said "apparently some people have brought the dogs into town and just dumped them" and that "they are running in packs scaring women and kids".

Burch said all dogs must be vaccinated and have collar tags.

"Any dog found without a collar will be eliminated," he said.

Burch said that residents of Matthews are requested to have their dogs on a leash between May 15 and June 1.

"Any dog found loose during that time will be eliminated," he said.

Freshman Band In Final Concert

The freshman band will present its final concert Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafetorium.

The program will be conducted by Director Pat Curry.

Horse Betting Edges Closer to Public Vote

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee has nudged pari-mutuel betting on horse racing closer to a vote of the people.

The constitutional change, familiar to every legislative session for years, got some revisions from the resolution passed by the House earlier, and was approved by the committee on a 7-3 vote late Tuesday.

The House version included games of chance to give religious, civic and fraternal groups authority to conduct bingo, lottery and other minor money games. The Senate committee feared such a provision would open the state to Las Vegas-type gambling and cut it out. It also omitted dog racing.

A section to provide for legalizing a state-operated lottery was accepted.

Charleston Levy Remains Same

By SHIRLEY PRITCHETT

CHARLESTON — City Manager Richard Martin presented the proposed budget for the fiscal year, which began May 1, to the city council last night.

Proposed expenditures for 1971-72 are $415,045, a $63,230 increase, income is estimated at $412,944.80.

The 1970-71 budget was $351,814.92 and $391,161,31 income.

The council reviewed and adopted the budget and an ordinance setting a tax levy at $1.40 per $100 per assessed valuation, the same rate as last year.

Halter & Brothers Construction Co., Charleston, was awarded the contract for construction of a concession stand in the Benny Hillhouse Memorial Park. The 20 feet by 20 feet building will be erected on a concrete slab and constructed of concrete blocks with a stone veneer facing. The building will house public rest rooms and storage area for recreation equipment as well as concession facilities.

The $4,100 project is part of the city's park improvement program made possible through a $13,750 matching fund grant from the Inter-Agency for Outdoor Recreation, Jefferson City.

Manager Martin reported the county court will assist the city in maintaining the city dump by supplying manpower to push the dump back or financial help when needed.

Martin reported the dump is in good condition but work will have to be done in August.

Street paving program for 1971 was approved listing portions of West Byrd, North Sixth, Gilmore, 13 streets and Charleston Avenue.

An application from Galin Ferrell to establish a mobile home park on four blocks at the north end of Johnson street was approved providing the city's mobile home ordinance is followed. Martin said Ferrell plans to buy and raze two remaining houses on the property and would put in six trailers, no more than 10, in the 45,000-square - feet area.

Mayor Sam Story, councilmen Charles Williams, Dr. Lowell Nicholas, R. Wyman Beasley, and Manager Martin will attend the Missouri Municipal League meeting Friday in Sikeston and will name an outstanding citizen to receive a citation.

The council approved salary increases for city employes as set out in the budget. The increases ranged up to six per cent.

ARMED FORCES DAY

Saturday, May 15, is Armed Forces Day. No matter how we may regard the military service, we cannot disregard the fact that there are nearly three million young Americans who are in it. They are there because their fellow countrymen passed the laws requiring them to serve. Apart from our colleges, these young men and women make up the largest concentration of young adults in the nation.

They are doing a difficult job, and a job that has become increasingly unpopular. We all agreed that it was right a generation ago to fight the Nazis but when we started fighting Communists in Korea and Vietnam, a lot of people, particularly in the media, had mixed feelings.

America is not the leader of the Free World because we volunteered for it. The job was thurst upon us by historical events. All over the United States, in dozens of foreign countries, on the oceans of the world, your young men and women are serving. More than 50,000 have lost their lives in recent years. Countless thousands more have suffered injuries. The loneliness and danger, the hardships and temptations they must live with are difficult to visualize.

We pray for the day when our military might will no longer be such a necessity. We work and hope for the time when we will have an honorable ceasefire in South Vietnam, as we have had for 18 years in South Korea. Meanwhile, we reach out in spirit and understanding to our young servicemen who must bear our nation's burden.

"Can driving over broken bottles solve an ecological problem?" The Marathon Oil Company reports that, "A 600 foot strip of roadway at the University of Missouri's Rolla campus might provide a positive answer to that question. The roadway, heavily traveled by students, faculty and visitors, has been surfaced with 180 tons of crushed glass. Of course, the glass has been mixed with asphalt so tire dealers in the vicinity shouldn't hope for a sudden sales bonanza. The experiment may offer one way to dispose of the waste glass that has become a national plague. About 720,000 old bottles and jars took the place of the gravel and stone usually mixed with paving asphalt. Researchers will test the resulting product, called glasphalt, for skid resistance and durability. Glasphalt may someday pave the nation's roads while helping to solve the important problem of glass disposal."

THERE'S NOBODY

Christopher News Notes tells about the French poet Jean Cocteau who found out early in life why diversity is better than uniformity.

As a young man, Cocteau was designing a stage set which required a tree as background. He spent night after night in the theater basement cutting out individual leaves for his creation.

Then a wealthy friend, whose father owned a factory, approached him with another idea.

"Give me the design of the leaf," he said, "and in three days you will have thousands of them here."

After his friend's return, they pasted the multitude of identical leaves onto the branches.

The result, Cocteau recalled, was "the most boring package of flat, uninteresting forms one can see."

At last he understood "why God has made each leaf of a tree and each man in the world different from any other."

The God who refused to "mass produce" His handiwork in nature could hardly be expected to cut corners when it came to creating man. Each of us is unique, special, unrepeatable.

Each person has strengths and weaknesses, insights and experiences -- a mission in life -- that are his or hers alone.

Learning to accept our individuality, to build on it and to act through it can be a major step toward living a fuller life and making our contribution to a world in danger of becoming a wasteland of uniformity.

CAMPAIGN GM II

The business of America is -- what? What's good for General Motors is good for -- whom? Not so long ago, these were easy questions to answer. Today, even the board chairman of GM would think twice before venturing a reply. Businessmen everywhere are under pressure to hire minority-group members, produce high-quality products at low cost, protect the environment, and at the same time turn a healthy profit. General Motors, as the country's largest corporation (in terms of sales), so far has borne the brunt of the many-pronged attack.

At its 1970 annual meeting, GM easily turned back two proposals of the Project on Corporate Responsibility -- to add representatives of consumers, environmental, and minority groups to the board, and to form a committee on corporate responsibility. But in a larger sense, the so-called Campaign GM scored a resounding victory. As Business Week points out (May 1, 1971), the Ralph Nader-led campaign "generated widespread discussion, gained considerable university and foundation sympathy (though few votes) and helped build pressure that led GM to appoint a black director, a board-level committee on public responsibility, and a group of scientists to advise it on environmental matters."

Now comes Campaign GM II, pointing toward the corporations's 1971 annual meeting in Detroit on Friday, May 21. This year it asks that (1) shareholder nominations of board members be included in the proxy statement; (2) the corporation report annually on pollution control, minority hiring, and auto safety; (3) GM employees, customers and dealers be permitted to nominate board candidates. GM and the banking community were stunned when the First Pennsylvania Banking and Trust Co., largest financial institution in Philadelphia, announced last month that it would vote its 300,000 shares for the annual-report proposal. The defection of such an Establishment pillar may not spark a revolution at General Motors, but it could hasten evolution of the corporation's policies.

Insects have a way of bugging drivers into having traffic accidents.

The Missouri Highway Patrol today noted that there have been many instances in the past where a traffic accident was the result of a driver trying to kill an insect such as a wasp that had entered his moving vehicle. The driver would take his eyes off the road and remove one or both hands from the steering wheel in order to strike the insect. All too often, the Patrol reports, the driver would lose control of his vehicle and end up either completely off the road or in front of an oncoming vehicle.

"Fighting an insect while your car is in motion is not very prudent," Colonel E. I. (Mike) Hockaday, the Superintendent of the Highway Patrol, stated. "The safest and surest thing to do when you are faced with a wasp or any other type of insect inside your car is to gradually pull over to the side of the road and stop. Once you are completely stopped, you can discreetly rid your vehicle of the insect."

Colonel Hockaday also urged drivers to keep their windshields clean of insects. He noted that it is difficult to see out of a windshield that is splattered with insects. Drivers should have these insects removed from their windshields at the first opportunity.

"Insects have a definite place in the nature of things," the Colonel continued. "Once in awhile, however, they get out of place by wandering into a vehicle. This situation calls for drivers to keep calm and to follow a prudent course of action to avoid an accident."

POTENTIAL HEART ATTACK VICTIMS CAN BECOME HAPPY CENTENARIANS

While these findings are for executives, coming from the Executive Health and Fitness Guide, the rules for a happy and healthy life to 100, apply to almost everyone.

The greatest danger to the middle-aged, says the Guide, is not overwork, but a big lunch, a flabby stomach and a hot temper. By avoiding these, the Guide says there is no reason why a person cannot live to 100.

It reports that the danger years are between 50 and 70 and the man who survives these years without acquiring a chronic disease such as cancer, heart disease, stroke or diabetes, is likely to live on another quarter of a century in good health.

Some of their rules:

1. Tell your doctor everything and have him help you plan a suitable health program.

2. Keep working. One study of the 20 per cent of Americans over age 95, between 1951 and 1953, found none of them idle.

3. If you are planning to retire, hunt another job. Long life depends on keeping busy.

4. Eat what you want, subject to the doctor's orders, but eat lightly. Some studies of persons living to 100 showed they avoided second helpings as a matter off course.

5. Stay slim. Insurance company studies show persons living longest are 15 to 20 pounds below ideal weights shown on charts.

6. Don't be deceived if your scale shows you are at an average weight. You may have been trading muscle for fat over the years.

7. Stop smoking. A heavy smoker runs three times the risk of heart attack and 20 times the risk of lung cancer as compared with a non-smoker.

8. Get at least an hour of exercise daily. A business man has as great a chance of dying of a heart attack as a man whose job involves physical labor.

9. Don't rely on the "executive" standby, the golf game, to keep you fit. Golf is too easy. It doesn't burn enough calories.

10. Walk whenever you can. If there is one constant habit you can count on showing up in the histories of persons who live to 90 or 100, it's the habit of walking. Many walk an hour or more a day.

11. Keep your temper. Stress from emotional upsets can result in coronary and heart trouble. The habit of a calm mind and controlled reaction to frustration can be cultivated. Losing your temper is a habit like any other.

12. Take time out to fish and think. Even if you never get near a fishing rod, the habit of unhurried meditation should be developed. It helps develop a relaxed attitude toward problems and gives you the clarity of mind to solve them.

TOO MANY 'OARS' IN LAKE ERIE

Like the marsh - dwelling Hydra which Hercules slew, pollution solution for Lake Erie keeps growing new heads.

So many, in fact, that two directors in Ohio's Department of Natural Resources have called for less study and more action. Bounded by four states (New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Ohio) and the Canadian province of Ontario, polluted but definitely not-dead Lake Erie is now being studied by:

Six international agencies and organizations, 16 Canadian federal agencies, Ontario, all four states and numerous private groups.

Perhaps, as in mythology, what is needed is someone or something with a sword in one hand and a firebrand in the other. Or at least a co - ordinated plan and the legal power to implement it.

A SUPERHUMAN JOB

A devastating answer to claims that the medical profession overcharges under Medicaid has come from a Kentucky physician. "During 1968", says this doctor, "I received $81,726.63 in Medicaid payments in Kentucky ... In 1969, I received $106,112.06 from the same program." What did the taxpayers get from this doctor for the seemingly large sum?

This performance has been close to superhuman. He says, "During 1968, I employed 13 nursing assistants and purchased the part -time help of 11 moonlighting resident physicians from a university hospital. I have office hours from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m., seven days a week, including Sundays and all holidays. I saw 117 patients on Thanksgiving Day in 1969 ... my small clinic maintains a 24-hour emergency call service and any injured or seriously ill patients can be seen in sixty seconds after he is brought in the emergency room." This physician's total patient load for 1968 was 50,744 patients. He delivered 408 babies. In 1969, the figures were 49,209 patients and 399 babies. He sees every sick man who walks in the door. His usual bed time is 2 a.m. Patients come to him, not because they have a medical card, but in many instances because no other physician is available.

This doctor's overhead in 1968 was more than $123,000. In 1969, it was $150,000. The Medicaid p ments he receives help sub.. ize free indigent care to others who come under no government program. He lost $36,000 in 1968 on his private patient accounts. Is this the kind of man the bureaucrats now propose subjecting to a "wage freeze"?

OF MOON LANDING AND SOUR GRAPES

The success of Luna 16, Russia's robot moon vehicle which brought back soil samples, touched off a stream of invective against the U.S. Not witnessed in the Soviet press since the early days of the space age, reports Aviation Week & Space Technology magazine.

According to Pravda, the U.S. Apollo program, with its attendant risk to human life, was fitting "in a country where . . . with unusual ease they murder presidents, candidates for the presidency and public figures, where armed clashes on social grounds take a daily toll ..."

Soviet science, on the other hand, "has chosen its own route," said the party paper.

H.L. Hunt Says

THE GREAT PROTEST

The massive protest hordes who struck Washington, D.C., and violated the law with disturbances have caused Chief of Police Jerry V. Wilson to make a protest himself. He has complained with great justification that $10 just isn't enough for a disturbing the peace fine.

The embattled police chief asked a panel of judges to boost the fine to $50. A $50 fine would be low enough, but it might put a little steel into the Administration's pledge that the government will not be intimidated. Intimidation was one of the goals of those participating in the "anti-war" protests. They threatened to shut down the vital functions of the national government.

Some of the "protesters" not only want the war against the Communists ended, they also demand new "social legislation" that would include a $6,500 minimum annual income. That would come, of course, out of the taxpayers' pocket.

Protest is one thing, but stalling or closing down the vital functions of government is another. Many demonstrators have jobs back home and families to take care of but the attraction of "protesting" proved too much. All of this gives Congress and the administration the jitters and Chief Wilson a headache. The chief says his headaches often come in pairs as he has had to arrest many offenders more than one time.

One Washington, D.C., judge was reported to have applied the maximum fine to the first of the mobs he encountered, but later returned, with others, to the minimum $10. Although the protesters failed in their attempts to shut down the government action, they did succeed in causing vast amounts of destruction for which taxpayers will foot the bill. The fair judgment would have been for the demonstrators' fines to cover the property damage in our capital. HLH.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The cigar industry claims that 100,000 U.S. women now smoke cigars. This mass feminine invasion will depress rather than cheer veteran male stogie puffers who have held all along that cigars are much too good to be wasted on women.

How do you receive your impressions of the world around you? Some scientists estimate that one per cent come by taste, 1½ by touch, 3½ per cent by smell, seven by hearing and 87 by sight.

Fishy facts: A shark has no bones, jellyfish have no teeth, the sea lily is an animal, and a sailfish can go faster than any manmade sailboat—up to 68 miles an hour.

America's problem with alcohol isn't getting any smaller. Of the 85 million who drink some form of alcoholic beverage, four million are classified as addicts and five million more get into some form of trouble periodically because of their taste for the cup that is supposed to cheer.

Quotable notables: 'God is now thought to be on the side not of the strongest artillery, but of the most powerful loudspeaker."—Barbara Bode.

Prosperity note: The U.S. House Appropriations Committee has figured out that the interest alone on the national debt costs taxpayers $39,000 a minute.

Household hints: Does your wife get annoyed by the task of cleaning food graters and paring knives? Win her undying regard by telling her to use a toothbrush for these chores.

"Well, they asked for it: A questionnaire filled in by tourists at Meramec Caverns in Missouri revealed that the formation they wanted most to see was—the toilet.

One way to save: If, instead of buying a pack of cigarettes a day, a 15-year-old youth put the money into a bank and kept the habit up until he retired, his savings plus the accumulated interest would give him a tidy nest egg of nearly $20,000.

Worth remembering: "You can tell a child is growing up when he stops asking where he came from and starts refusing to tell you where he is going."

It was Josh Billings who observed, "The best condition in life is not to be so rich as to be envied nor so poor as to be damned."

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON--Late last year, we decided to turn the tables on J. Edgar Hoover, who for 47 years has been running investigations of others. We, therefore, began an FBI-style investigation of the FBI chief.

This attracted considerable attention in the nation's newspapers and magazines. The ABC network showed a film of my reporter, Charles Elliott, rummaging through Hoover's trash. Our discovery of rich dinner menus and empty Gelusil cartons, leading us to conclude that the great crime fighter suffers from gas pains, was widely publicized.

But our investigation has uncovered facts far more newsworthy than Hoover's indigestion.

We found that the durable old G-man and his faithful companion Clyde Tolson, both bachelors, both now in their 70's, vacationed together each summer at LaJolla, Calif., where Hoover liked to attend the races.

They stayed in $100-a-day suites at the Hotel Del Charro near the Del Mar track. The FBI pair never paid their bills which were picked up by Texas oil millionaire Clint Murchison, the hotel owner.

The former hotel manager, Alan Witwer, told us, while he was there Hoover ran up a total tab of over $15,000 picked up by Murchison. A typical thank-you letter, signed "Edgar," said:

"It is always hard to leave one's friends after such an enjoyable stay as Clyde and I have had these past few weeks...We appreciated the superb accomodations and your many contributions toward our comfort and enjoyment of this trip."

--HOOVER'S LIMOUSINES--

Our investigations also produced the startling fact that the taxpayers provide Hoover with five bulletproof limousines, three more than are available to the President.

Two of Hoover's limousines are kept in Washington, the other three in Los Angeles, Miami and New York City. Annual costs: more than $50,000 a year. A check of the mileage run up by the five cars will show they have been held largely for Hoover's exclusive use.

We found, too, that Hoover had circumvented the law to keep his ailing sidekick in the FBI. Tolson, having reached the mandatory retirement age of 70, needed a presidential waiver to remain on active duty. But he had suffered a series of minor strokes and had undergone delicate aortal surgery. He could never have passed the physical, which is required for a presidential waiver.

Hoover got around the law by retiring his old friend, then bringing him back. The FBI chief used a legal provision which allows the employment of retired personnel temporarily to complete a project they were working on at the time of their mandatory retirement.

But most serious of all, Hoover used FBI personnel to research and write three books, which have brought him over $250,000 in royalties. The books were produced, in other words, at the taxpayers' expense. But royalty checks were made out to Hoover personally.

J. Edgar Hoover has built the FBI into a law enforcement agency with a reputation unmatched anywhere in the world. It is also a tribute to Hoover and the FBI that they are denounced with equal ferocity by the extremists of the left and right.

But our investigation has uncovered conduct that is curious, indeed, for the man who has become symbolic of the fight against evil doers. It is past time for the indomitable old man to retire. The FBI will survive quite well, since he has given it a firm foundation.

--WASHINGTON EXPOSE--

Fireworks Smuggling--Mafia fireworks hustlers are scheming to sneak high-powered Singapore firecrackers past Customs inspectors in time for July 4. Probably entry port will be Los Angeles or Baltimore. In the past, the Mafia fireworks men have joked about the ease with which they slipped contraband fireworks past the supposedly keen-eyed Customs men. They avoided high duties by labeling their fireworks "Container made in U.S., " thus cuttind down the Customs assessment. A schoolboy could have opened the cones and tubes and found the containers were made from old Hong Kong newspapers.

Land Barons--The Bureau of Reclamation tried valiantly to get the Justice Department to appeal a court decision favoring the land barons and undercutting small family farms in California's Imperial Valley. But the Bureau was turned down after big GOP contributors took their case directly to Justice.

Political Payoff--N. W. Ayer and Son, the ad agency whose subsidiary produced those savage smear ads against eight liberal Democratic Senators on the eve of the 1970 election, has been awarded the $10.6 million contract to produce the Army's controversial recruiting commercials. The nonpartisan Fair Campaign Practices Committee awarded the Ayer political ads "worst place" for the 1970 campaign.

GI Addicts--We have had access to three Pentagon reports on drug addiction among servicemen in Vietnam. Taken together, these reports indicate at least 15,000 heroin addicts will soon return to the U.S. where, almost certainly, they will be compelled to take up crime to finance their habit.

Ann Landers

Advice Given to Young Mother Who Loses Baby

Dear Ann Landers: On occasion you print letters suggesting Do's and Don'ts from people who know the score. Here is a letter which might be of help when you visit a young mother who has lost a baby at birth.

1. DON'T say: "Get pregnant again as soon as you regain your strength." She might not want or be able to get pregnant right away and perhaps she should not do so for medical reasons.

2. DON'T say: "Adopt a baby." I am a social worker and I know that no reputable agency will let a couple adopt a baby just to replace one that died.

3. DON'T play doctor and tell a woman what went wrong or what should have been done to save the baby. You cannot possibly know any of these things.

4. DON'T pass up the opportunity to do something constructive-- such as bring a little gift to the other children when you go to call. Remember they are probably disappointed because the promised baby was not brought home.

5. When you visit a woman who has just lost a baby, don't ask questions. Let her lead the conversation. She might want to talk endlessly about her grief--and she might want to talk about everything else but. Real friends understand.---Sally.

Dear Sally: I learn from my readers every day. Thanks for some practical pointers.

Dear Ann Landers: I was married a couple of weeks ago in the apartment of a girl I work with. It was a very small wedding, only 22 people present including the minister. Through some mixup my parents were not invited.

My mother always promised that when I got married she would give me my grandmother's dishes. My parents are not well-to-do but my grandparents were quite rich when they lived in Hungary. I need dishes very badly and would like it very much if my mother would keep her promise.

She is quite cool to me and I want to know what is the best way to remind her.---Bride Without Dishes.

Dear Bride: The casual manner in which you state that your parents were not invited to your wedding due to "some mixup" is interesting indeed. How mixed up can a girl get?

My advice is to buy dishes -- whatever you can afford. Your mother will probably give you the china at a later date -- after she has recovered from a devastating blow. It might take years.

Dear Ann Landers: I read in a recent column that the last breath of fresh air in the United States disappeared three weeks ago--and it was in Flagstaff, Arizona. I have some news for you, Ann.

Maybe Flagstaff, Arizona is out of fresh air but we still have plenty of it here in Thermopolis, Wyoming. In fact, we have the cleanest, freshest air and the bluest sky in the United States. There's no pollution here. Our sunrises and sunsets are spectacular.

If you don't believe me, please come and see for yourself. It's beyond description.---A Lady Who Lives In Thermopolis And Loves It.

Dear Lady: I just checked the map and I see that Thermopolis is located in north central Wyoming--a two hour drive from National Yellowstone Park, via U.S. 20 and WYO 120. I'm packing.

Too many couples go from matrimony to acrimony. Don't let your marriage flop before it gets started. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage--What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Classic 40's Shown in Blazer

NEW YORK (AP) — The year of the blazer has arrived in fashion. Classic sportswear with a 40s flavor is back.

After the midi hassle last fall and a group grope for the public pulse in spring clothes, designers have chosen a "new" classic look for fall. This spring, designers added "little dresses" to their collections to meet the growing need for wearable clothes, unadorned by nervous ruffles.

However, designer Bill Blass feels the little dress movement isn't "that important," although "they all thought the little dress would make a big comeback," he says.

Sportswear is the big thing. Blass will soon present his own new sportswear line, Blassport.

"This is the moment for that kind of sportswear. I don't think it would have worked at all a year ago," says Blass.

"I don't intend to shock or cause gasps," he says of his couture collection. He will give his customers beautiful colors, wearable clothes with "staying power," including an important suit look,

"Wearable, a year ago, would have been a dirty word," he says, adding that his clothes are "more classic" this fall.

Oscar de la Renta is another designer who is quieting down a bit. His new sportswear collection, Something!, is full of tailored blazers, pants at all lengths and men's ties worn with matching print shirts.

Included were some clear bright colored suedes pants and jackets—and patchwork velvet hot pants for evening.

Clear, clean tones will be good this year, particularly in the purple family. Frank Masandrea for Modelia and Victor Joris are both going into livelier colors. Both have shortened coat lengths to just below the knee.

Frank Smith

Cadet Smith A Finalists

MEXICO — Cadet Frank Smith of Sikeston is one of the eight finalists in Missouri Military Academy's 39th annual W. Wallace Fry public speaking contest May 28.

The contest marks the first activity in the academy's commencement weekend with school ending May 30.

The eight finalists are survivors of a semi-final round conducted recently. Cadets give their initial speeches before their English classes. They advance to the semifinal on recommendation of their English teacher.

The semifinalists are then judged by a board consisting of all English teachers. The final judging May 28 will be done by a board from outside the Academy.

Besides the traditional W. Wallace Fry Cup presentation, the Winston Churchill Memorial Award will be made for the second year. This award, sponsored by Westminster College of Fulton, goes to the cadet whose speech best reflects the ideals of Winston Churchill.

Cadet Smith will speak on "False Advertising."

Judy Stroup

Stroup Goes To Retreat

Miss Judy Stroup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom B. Stroup, Benton, was one of 50 campus leaders at the University of Missouri chosen to attend a university-wide leadership retreat held last weekend May 7-9 at Jefferson City.

The retreat was sponsored by the Office of Student Life for the purpose of discussing campus problems and finding ways to improve student life and involve more students in decision-making processes in student government. Miss Stroup was recently chosen as Director of Personnel for Student Activities Board. Student Activities Board directs the work of fifteen committees which bring broadway plays, popular concerts, minority programs, speakers, films, exhibits, Carousal nightclub, and Homecoming to campus. SA this year has a budget of approximately . $90,000 of student money, from which these programs are financed.

Representatives of other organizations included officers of Missouri Students Association, Association of Women Students, Independent Residence Hall Association, Everyday People, and divisional governments.

Also in attendance were faculty and deans from various departments of the University.

Blind Teacher Applauded

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — When Carla Franklin announced that classes were dismissed for the semester, the fifth-graders resonded with a round of applause.

They were cheering a 22year-old woman, blind since birth, who had been their student teacher since January.

"I'm going to miss them so terribly," Mrs. Franklin said Friday as she collected her books from Field Elementary Schoo!. "They treated me just like any other teacher."

Mrs. Franklin, who taught math, music and some language arts to the 33 youngsters, admitted she "could have have been a real liability. I could have been a blob sitting in the back of the classroom."

But Mrs. Franklin did the job so well she earned an "A" in the student teachers course at the Louisville school and an informal rating of "terrific" from her supervisor, Mrs. Elinor Tasch.

By the end of her first day at school, Mrs. Franklin had matched up all students' voices and names.

For the actual classroom work, she had braille copies of part of the math, spelling and English books. Her husband, Donald, helped with other reading and lent a hand with grading papers.

Chinese Women Without Props

TOKYO (AP) — Deprived of the props so dear to feminine hearts, the women of China nevertheless continue to be among the loveliest anywhere.

Gone are the tight-fitting silk cheong-sam skirts with their provocative slits up the thigh. Gone are the lipstick, rouge, eyebrow pencil, hair curlers and fingernail polish without which most women would feel naked.

Nakedness is not a problem for the women of the People's Republic: They are amply covered in jackets and trousers not so much different from those worn by their menfolk.

During my visit to Shanghai, Peking and Canton, I saw no skirts at all.

There are no boutiques to d display a fashion which never changes: no beauty parlors to style the hair. Women's hair styles in China are simply and easily attended to by the ordinary barber. They come in three kinds: the revolutionary bob, twin pigtails braided and held together by bits of wool yarn, or the bun at the back favored by older women.

I saw no earrings, bracelets, expensive rings or necklaces on China's women, except the very old and the very young. Old ladies, who look like the dignified matrons of the Sung dynasty statues, wore cherished brooches, combs or ear rings in pierced ears, Children, too, were gay with tassels and bells on their caps, bracelets on their chubby wrists and outfits of red, blue and green.

The Chinese permit these extremes only at the beginning and near the end of life. The rest of the population—men and women alike—are studies in blue or brown, with an occasional dash of white or black thrown in.

Gone, too, are the high heels of yesteryear; sensible, flat sandals, sneakers or cloth shoes, all eminently suitable for work in factory or field, have taken their place.

Though the fashions of Paris, London or New York mean little to Chinese women, some of them are aware of the world of haute couture. They are the women engaged in turning out Western style dresses, coats, furs, hats and accessories for export. Their handiwork is on display at the Canton Trade Fair twice a year.

A comparative handful of women get a chance to see the real thing as delegations from many countries troop through Peking, Shanghai and Canton. On the U.S. table tennis team's trip they saw players in hippie garb and girls in minis and midis. What they thought of them was not recorded.

Bound feet—the "lily feet" of the past, acquired through painful binding and sometimes accelerated by the use of ground glass—are no more.

Despite the absence of artifice, beauty survives on its own. Life in the open may not do much for the fingernails, but it has brought a bloom to young cheeks as convincing as rouge. And the girls and women still have the poise, the personality and the charm which have long set Chinese women apart.

Their lot in other ways has improved under the new order. They are guaranteed full equality with men, and Chinese law says: "The state protects marriage, the family and the mother and child."

From age 18 they are entitled to the vote.

Function of Pill Hard to Explain

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Concerning contraceptives, women ask two main questions—does it work? Is it safe?

Scientists ask the same questions and add another—how and why does it work?—in order to produce more effective and safer birth control measures.

Today, scientists have a prime mystery trying to explain the mechanism of action of one highly effective contraceptive—the IUD or intrauterine device.

The IUD is a small piece of plastic or metal shaped like a coil, an S, or other geometric pattern. Inserted, painlessly, into the uterus it somehow prevents a woman's fertilized egg from becoming implanted in the lining or endometrium of the uterus or womb.

While the pill is 100 per cent effective if taken as directed, the IUD can be accidentally expelled, and is not so absolute a contraceptive as the pill. But, once inserted successfully, it is safer physiologically since it is inert, while hormones in the pill may act upon a variety of body tissues as well as preventing conception.

The IUD does work well, however, especially a new one containing tiny amounts of copper.

But no one really knows why, says Dr. Egon Diczfalusy, director of the Reproductive Endocrinology Research Unit at the Karolinska Hospital here, and a scientist world renowned for research in human reproductive physiology.

One current research project, involving healthy young volunteers, is to learn exactly what changes occur in the endometrium during the full menstrual cycle in women using a copper IUD, or using one type of contraceptive pill, compared with women not using either method.

Biopsies, or tissue specimens, are taken at intervals from the endometrium of the volunteers. They receive a nominal payment for their participation. All are attending the outpatient clinic of the Department of Women's Diseases, Karolinska Hospital, or that of the Swedish Association for Sex Education, the Swedish national equivalent of the Planned Parenthood Federation in the United States.

"With their help, we are now able to obtain 300 to 400 biopsies a year," Diczfalusy said in a recent interview.

One technique, using a small nylon brush, permits the taking of intact, isolated single cells of the endometrium, for analysis of changes in their content of DNA and RNA—component chemicals of the genetic code of life—and glycogen or sugar, and enzymes, the controllers of biochemical reactions.

Endometrial tissues also is being assayed for changes during the cycle in content of trace elements of copper, zinc, manganese, sodium and other metals.

Essex Man Outstanding English Scholar

BLOOMFIELD--An Essex student, Herman E. Morse of Route Two, has been voted the outstanding graduating English major for the current school year at Southeast Missouri State College, Dr. Henry Sessoms, head of the department has announced.

Dr. Sessoms said the selection of Morse was by vote of the English faculty. Eligible students included English majors graduating this year with at least an overall B average.

The honored student accompanied Dr. Sessoms and several other members of the English faculty to the spring meeting Saturday (April 24) of the Missouri Association of Teachers of English at Rolla.

Morse, a Bloomfield High School graduate, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Morse of Essex. He will enter the Air Force after his graduation magna cum laude from Southeast Missouri State on May 30 and will probably be assigned to attend a language school to study Russian.

After service in the Air Force, Morse plans to do graduate work in English and eventually to teach at the college level.

At Southeast Missouri State Morse is a member of Sigma Tau Delta, English honor fraternity, and Phi Mu Alpha, professional music fraternity. He was a member of the college band for two years.

Wells to Be Guest Artist

POPLAR BLUFF--Jake Wells, Southeast Missouri State College at Cape Girardeau, will be guest artist at the art festival sponsored by the Poplar Bluff artists Guild at the Valley Plaza Shopping Center May 15.

Wells will exhibit and demonstrate water coloring.

Area artists are invited to participate, and should bring paints, easels and pictures for exhibit.

Sidewalk artists will gather at 9:30 a.m. and paint throughout the day.

Dear Sir

I was one of the group who went to Jefferson City to oppose the Legalized Abortion Bill.

I wrote to the Baptist Minister who opposed the bill and asked for his speech. He sent me several copies with permission that it may be printed in our local paper. But he would like a copy of the paper.

We would like for it to be put in your paper and would you please send him a copy of the paper.

Thank you very much.

Yours truly
Mrs. Stella Hulshof

THOU SHALT NOT KILL!!
(Opposition to House Bill 650)

The principle characteristic of the tyrant state is that in effect it wages perpetual war against its own people. This is particularly evident in the history of Czechoslovakia and Germany. We can see it today in our own country. The mark which characterizes the destruction of a nation is that it holds human life to be more a burden than God's blessing. A nation that makes a crusade out of reducing its birth rate at any cost will ultimately reap the dividends of internal strife, rebellion, unconcern, anarchy, permissiveness, insurrection and criminal attitudes of the people.

Life is everywhere regarded as a gift of God. Therefore, we must assume that He alone has the right to interfer with it or take it away. Life is given for the express purpose of promoting the Creator's glory and fulfilling those duties which He has laid down. To injure or destroy life, therefore, is to make it fall short of its original purpose. The unborn fetus inside the mother's womb is not something impersonal and undesired as a tumor growth or malignancy, but is human life. Someone has aptly said, "not only a potential life, but a life with potential." We have a moral and religious obligation to protect his or her life. Who will defend their case? The Constitution gives every individual the assurance of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. Neither can be achieved if that life that has begun is murdered because of an individuals whim or desire. I would like to give some reasons why I am opposed to "Legal Abortion on Demand," introduced in House Bill 650.

First, the fetus, or baby, is a living human being from conception; and has his or her right to the Constitution's protection. Secondly, there are very few reasons a baby is a danger to its mother's life. Quoted in the Linacre Quarterly, Dr. Roy S. Hefferman, of Tufts University at the Congress of the American College, said, "Anyone who performs a therapeutic abortion is either ignorant of modern methods of treating complications in pregnancy or is unwilling to take the time to use them." Also, Dr. Joseph P. Donally, former medical director of the Margaret Hague Hospital in New Jersey said, "Abortion is never necessary to save the life of the mother. There were 115,000 deliveries in this maternity hospital from 1947-1961 during which time no abortions were performed." Thirdly, there are some who say unwanted pregnancies cause suicide tendencies. Dr. Milton Halpern, Chief Medical Examiner for New York City, states he cannot recall an autopsy on a death by suicide during the years 1950-1956. His conclusion was, "We have no record of any woman known to be pregnant having committed suicide." Statistics in England have verified that there are fewer suicides among pregnant women than non-pregnant women. Last, even if a girl is raped, does that give mankind, the medical doctor, the psychiatrist or anyone else the right to commit murder? Two wrongs never have made a right and never will.

The methods used by doctors are in themselves murderous. The three commonly used are: One, the suction method in which the suction apparatus is inserted and the fetus is sucked out into a bottle; two, the curretage method in which a sharp instrument is inserted into the womb and the baby is cut into small pieces and spooned out piece by piece; three, the saline injection which involves giving a local anesthetic and a needle is placed through the abdomen and into the uterus. Some of the fluid is withdrawn and a salt solution is injected to kill the fetus and start labor. There has been cases of live births despite the intent to kill. Disposal has become a major problem. It has been said that "one was choked", another was "dropped in a hospital basket to expire", another "dropped in water'. and still another had a "wet towel placed over its face". Then comes the problem of the remains. The favored method-- incineration. Yes, the methods of abortion are indeed murderous.

The Declaration of Independence and the 14th Amendment of the Constitution read, "all men are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights--life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; "and " no state shall make or enforce any law which will deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law." To destroy the unborn fetus is to destroy a human life. Those who favor abortion would have us believe that an unborn baby is not human. My question is, "what is it?" The eighth day of pregnancy the sex of the child is certain; the tenth day the first veins have developed; the fourteenth day the mouth is developed; the twenty-first day the heart is beating; the fifty-sixth day all organs are present; the sixty-second day the hair and eyebrows are present; the sixty-fourth day the eyes are developed. The Medical WorldNews, in a pictorial article of March 15, 1968 entitled, "Closeup of Human Life Before Birth", says, "all body systems in the 2 and a half inch fetus are now working." To allow, or to perform an abortion is nothing short of murder. The Bible gives us the command, "Thou shalt not kill" (Exodus 20:13). Some of our educators, psychologists and legislators will answer for murder at the judgment bar of God. They shall hear, as the voices of the 130,000 murdered babies of New York City, echo across the corridors of time and the chambers of justice, "Thou shalt not kill!! Thou shalt not kill!! Thou shalt not kill!! Thou shalt not kill!!!

Counseling Offered in Summer

POPLAR BLUFF, -- Students who will need remedial instruction to qualify for admission to Three Rivers Junior College in the fall semester were urged by Jack D. Vincent, vice president and dean of the college, to register for the special instruction and counseling in the summer session.

Rules for admission of high school graduates have been changed, he pointed out. Those who rank in the lower 20 per cent of their graduating class and below the twentieth percentile in the Ohio Psychological Examination or another recognized college admissions test must begin their program at TRJC in either the summer or spring sessions if they intend to enroll in the Academic Division.

Two daily classes in Remedial English and one daily class in College Reading are being offered this summer for high school graduates who need or desire such courses to help them with their other studies.

Those who are in the group whose initial enrollment is restricted to the summer or spring sessions may enroll in the fall session if they complete successfully the remedial courses in the summer session.

Heart Data Available

COLUMBIA — "You and Your Heart," a new 16-page booklet filled with basic facts about the heart in health and disease, is available from the Missouri Heart Association.

Using cartoons and simple diagrams in red and black, the booklet defines many technical terms. It also gives advice on reducing the risk of heart attack. The booklet tells how to recognize the early warning signs and what immediate steps to take to increase the chance of survival, should a heart attack occur.

"You and Your Heart" explains how the heart and blood vessel system works, what goes wrong to bring on heart attack and stroke, and what roles are played by hardening of the arteries and high blood presure.

A special section describes ways to help prevent heart attack – what to eat and what to avoid; how to determine proper body weight; and maintain it; what kinds of exercise are beneficial if done regularly; and how tension and cigarette smoking can affect the circulatory system.

The person who avoids excessive worry, shuns cigarettes, has regular check -ups, and watches his weight and intake of saturated fats lessens his chances of having a heart attack and increases his prospects for healthier living.

For more information about heart attack and risk reduction, ask the Missouri Heart Association for a free copy of "You and Your Heart".

Honors Day At Cape on May 13

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- The annual Honors' Day program of Southeast Missouri State College, set aside to recognize students who have excelled in various ways, will be held at 8 p.m. May 13 in the auditorium of Academic Hall on the campus.

The program will include the awarding of honor cords to 108 seniors who will graduate with honors, the presentation of several special service scholarships, the tapping of new members for Wakapa and Cardinal Key, local honor societies for women and men respectively, and recognition of students named earlier in the year to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Also included in the evening's activities will be the granting of the annual Community Service Award to a student organization which in the judgment of a panel of Cape Girardeau businessmen, has rendered distinguished service to both the college and community during the past academic year.

Sponsors of the Honors' Day program are the college's Panhellenic Council and the Association of Women Students. Co-chairmen for this year's event are Miss Barbara Andrews of Rt. 2, Senath, and Miss Janet Potthast of 304 Breezeview, Ballwin.

Dr. David Strand, dean of the college, will present the honor cords to the graduating seniors. Sixteen students of the senior class of nearly 1,100 are graduating summa cum laude (with highest honors), 34 are graduating magna cum laude (with great honors), and 58 are graduating cum laude (with honors).

To graduate with highest honors at Southeast Missouri State, a student must have an overall grade point average of at least 3.75 (4.0 is perfect and would indicate straight A's). Graduation with great honors goes to students achieving an overall grade point average of at least 3.50, and students with an overall grade point average of at least 3.25 are graduated with honors.

Cardinal Key and Wakapa are local honor societies for outstanding junior and senior men and women who excel in character, service, scholarship, and leadership, according to Mrs. Mary Helen Flentge, associate dean of students.

Students are selected by the current members of the societies with the advice and help of faculty members, Mrs. Flentge said.

Art Lewis of 8828 Manda Lane, Crestwood, newly-elected president of the Student Senate at the college, will reveal the organization earning the Community Service Award.

Mrs. Flentge said, "Throughout the year the organizations which wish to be considered for this award submit monthly reports of their activities. The final selection is made by a panel of Cape businessmen."

The 26 students who will be recognized at the assembly as members of Who's Who Among Students were announced last October.

Following the assembly, which is being held at night for the second year, there will be a coffee in the ballroom of Memorial Hall for the honorees, their families, and faculty members.

The program in Academic Hall is open to all students and the general public.

Court Rejects Zatezalo Bid For Dismissal

CLAYTON, Mo. (AP) -- A motion to dismiss an indictment charging Rudolph E. Zatezalo, a Kansas City banker, with bribery was denied Friday in St. Louis County Circuit Court.

Zatezalo had sought dismissal on grounds he had not been informed of his rights before appearing before the county grand jury.

He is charged with offering Missouri finance commissioner C. W. Culley $8,000 last year to delay closing of the defunct First State Bank of Bonne Terre.

Circuit Judge Robert Lee Campbell, granted Zateealo permission to question members of the grand jury as to their qualifications.

He also ordered the county prosecutor to give Zatezalo a copy of his testimony before the grand jury.

Zatezalo, indicted earlier this year, is free on bond.

Senator Asks Soil Saving Funds Hike

WASHINGTON--"Only 30 per cent of the cropland in Missouri is receiving adequate conservation treatment," Senator Stuart Symington (D-Mo) remarked today in a statement to the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Agriculture. Urging an increase in the Soil Conservation Service Appropriations for fiscal year 1972, Symington stated that Missouri has more land not included in the Soil Conservation Districts than the rest of the Nation combined.

"The basic cause of this situation," Symington continued, "Is not that Missouri farmers are unwilling to practice good conservation, but that there are insufficient Federal funds to provide the needed technical assistance."

The Senator stressed that three programs in particular -- Conservation Operations, Public Law 566 watersheds, and Resource Conservation and Development projects -- need additional funding in order to provide more effective assistance throughout rural America.

A total increase of $1 million in fiscal year 1972 appropriations is needed for Conservation Operations in Missouri alone. In order to adequately staff the 95 district offices in the State -- 8 new districts have been added in the last 2 years -- $600,000 is needed for an additional 100 employees. In addition $400,000 should be authorized for technical assistance for the prevention of agriculture pollution, blamed as a major source of water pollution. By reducing soil erosion, siltation of streams can be controlled and waste material from feed lots, fertilizers, and pesticides from farm fields can be prevented from reaching these streams.

For the 17 authorized PL 566 watersheds in Missouri and other such projects throughout the Nation, an additional $2 million for fiscal year 1972 is needed. The watershed projects provide flood protection, soil erosion control, expansion of land productivity, as well as more recreational opportunities, fish and wildlife habitats, and an increase in water supplies for communities and industries. "These benefits provide a needed stimulus for rural development," Symington said.

An appropriation of $20 million for fiscal year 1972 would allow 15 new starts in Resource Conservation and Development projects -- 5 more than requested by the Administration. Missouri's 2 active RC and D projects include 15 counties and cover more than 6.6 million acres of rural land. It is estimated that new industries attracted by these projects provide 8,500 man years of employment annually.

"Regrettably," the Senator stated, "both for our State and nationally, the Administration is requesting less for fiscal year 1972 than was appropriated in fiscal year 1971" for all three Soil Conservation programs."

"The Soil Conservation Service now plays an important role in meeting needs throughout rural America but it could do much more if given adequate appropriations."

"Favorable action to meet these needs will be a sound investment in the future."

Car Gets Rough Treatment From Balky Airplane

SCOTT CITY, Kan. (AP) – An airplane that wouldn't start finally cranked up Thursday at the Scott City airport -- and gave a nearby car a sound drubbing.

When Bruce Emberton, 40, Springfield, Mo., had trouble getting his Beechcraft Roman Bonanza started, he asked a friend to pull alongside the plane in his car so he could use jumper cables to start the craft.

When the plane started, the parking brake apparently slipped. The plane spun around, hitting the top of the car with a wing. At the same time, the propellor chewed up the right side of the car. Damage was estimated at $2,000 to the plane and about $1,500 to the car.

Publisher at MPA Dinner

COLUMBIA — C. L. Blanton, Jr., publisher of the Sikeston Daily Standard, was one of approximately 25 past presidents of the Missouri Press Association who attended the annual MPA executive dinner at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

The annual dinner was held in conjunction with Journalism Week activities Monday to Saturday at the University of Missouri.

Missouri Secretary of State James C. Kirkpatrick and Stanley R. Fike, administrative assistant to Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), were other past presidents attending the luncheon.

LOST PET RETURNS

LEEK WOOTON, England (AP) — Smokey the cat went out — for nearly six years. He disappeared one spring evening in 1965 and owner Dorothy Dee gave him up for lost.

Recently he turned up at his Worcestershire home as if nothing had happened, drank a dish of milk and curled up on his favorite chair.

Blanton Buys Monroe City Newspaper

SHELBINA — Carter V. Blanton and H. Michael Sell are the new owners and publishers of the Monroe City News. Blanton and Sell purchased the newspaper Saturday.

Blanton will manage the operation and Sell will serve as the editor and publisher. Blanton also publishes The Democrat with is father Edgar P. Blanton.

Blanton is fourth generation newspaper man who began his career at age 12 as a printers devil working at the Monroe County Appeal. He graduated with honors from Shelbina High School and enrolled at Journalism School at the University of Missouri.

In the semester of his junior year he quit school to join the Navy during World War II.

After his discharge from the service, he returned to journalism school. He then returned to Shelbina to become advertising manager of The Democrat and in 1947 went to work for the Sikeston Daily Standard.

He returned to Shelbina after working in Sikeston. Blanton has remained here since then.

Sell is a senior in journalism school at The University of Missouri and will assume his position in Monroe City when he graduates this June.

Sell is majoring in photojournalism and served as a hospital corpsman in the Navy. He is married and has three children.

Department Head Elected President

CAPE GIRARDEAU— Mrs. Grace Hoover, head of the department of home economics at Southeast Missouri State College, was elected president of the Missouri Home Economics Association.

Her election came at the joint spring conference of the Kansas-Missouri Home Economics Association in Kansas City.

Mrs. Hoover, who served as an assistant instructor in home economics at Southeast Missouri State in 1958-59, returned to the campus in 1962 and became head of the department in 1967.

She taught previously in the public schools in Advance and Zalma.

First Printing Press

Mexico claims to have had the first printing press in the New World. In 1536, less than 100 years after the press was invented, craftsmen in Mexico City were printing books.

Torme Premiere Looks Like Summer TV Hit

NEW YORK (AP) — Singer Mel Torme and a good research staff are parlaying nostalgia and sentiment into a pretty good bet as an ABC summer show.

"It Was a Very Good Year," in its premiere Monday night, focused on 1945, the year World War II ended. The program was bound to evoke memories for any viewer over 35.

It was fairly easy to assemble the material, but the sights and particularly the musical sounds were put together effectively. Torme, working in front of an orchestra, opened the show with "Sentimental Journey," one of the top songs, and followed it by scribbling "Kilroy was here" on a blackboard.

Recalled were such sights as the V-for-victory sign, an olivedrab Jeep with a star on the hood, queues of women trying to buy scarce nylon stockings, ration stamps, V-mail and Rosie the Riveter.

Torme reeled off some of the popular radio programs of the day—"Duffy's Tavern," "The F.B.I. in Peace and War," "Easy Aces" and "Information Please."

Franklin D. Roosevelt, in his final months as president and in death, dominated the program. There was a montage of brief film clips that gave a picture of the war in Europe and the Pacific and activity on the home front.

The mushroom cloud of the first atomic explosion was there, and then some most effective newsreel film showing American fighting men coming home to emotional reunions with their families.

Three Rivers Bulletin Published

POPLAR BLUFF — First copies of the 1971 edition of the Three Rivers College Bulletin have been received from the publisher and will be ready soon for distribution.

This year's catalogue is the largest published thus far in the number of courses offered and the number of pages containing information on services and the listing of subjects.

The total number of courses offered for the new academic year of 1971-72 is 253, an increase of about 60 over the first comparable year in which the college offered freshman and sophomore subjects in both the Academic and Technical divisions.

Although the college began operation with a summer session 1967, only freshman courses were offered the first year. For the 1968-69 academic year, the Academic division offered both freshman and sophomore subjects and the Technical division offered freshman subjects. The first class of Academic division graduates received degress in the spring of 1969.

In the 1969-70 academic year, both the Academic and Technical divisions offered both freshman and sophomore subjects. The total of courses listed in the catalogue for that year was 195.

Last May was the first time that both the Academic and Technical divisions awarded degrees to students who had completed two years of work.

Although the number of courses has increased as the college expanded its offerings to the Three Rivers Junior College District and the surrounding service area, the real test of the college has been in the quality of subjects and instruction, said Jack D. Vincent, vice president and dean of the college. General acceptability of TRJC credits at four-year colleges to which academic graduates transfer and the proficiency of the technical students entering various occupations have demonstrated the quality of instruction in both divisions. Three Rivers graduates have been able consistently to transfer the full quota of credits allowable for transfer students by accepting institutions throughout Missouri and most other states, Dean Vincent said.

Three Rivers has been fully accredited by the Missouri State Department of Education since its first year of operation, and now is a recognized candidate for accreditation by the North Central Association.

project calling for the purchase of five buses for the 1971-1972 school term. The buses will be purchased on a new lease-purchase plan in which the school pays one-fifth of the cost of the vehicles each year for five years, and at the end of that time, the school owns the buses. Bids for the project will be accepted until May 17.

The buses to be purchased included two supercruisers. The buses have a 72-passenger capacity.

One conventional 66-passenger buses will be purchased for the rural areas.

One 12-passenger carry-all will be bought to eliminate strain on the bigger buses and to act as a substitute when a smaller bus can carry the load of a bigger one.

One step-van food service truck will be purchased.

"Because of budget allowance cut-backs from the state in recent years, we have had to cut down on our transportational needs," Twitty said.

A second lease-purchase plan approved by the board yesterday brings up an issue that has been controversial.

Twitty said that under provisions of a federal law, funds cannot be received for educationally disadvantaged students if they are being taught in classrooms along with regular students.

Because of overcrowding, Twitty said that some of the disadvantaged students were placed in regular class rooms and federally regulations would no longer permit this policy.

The board approved the possible purchase of three to four mobile classroom units to "relieve the overcrowded classroom conditions and to isolate disadvantaged children." The plan, as approved by the board, would place three of the units at Lee Hunter school, where greatest overcrowding exists. The self-contained units would be accepted on a bid basis.

Twitty said the mobile classrooms were "not the most ideal, but the best available."

"This is a good way to get classrooms without a bond issue," he added.

The covering of a walk-way joining the junior high school and Bailey school was approved by the board. The project, to cost an estimated $4,800, would be erected by school labor.

Twitty called the project the "number one priority in the building line and said it would cost as much as $10,000 if the project were contracted to an independent firm."

The board said there was a "great need for the project and approved all details of construction.

Twitty said in his monthly superintendent's report that for the first time in recent years there are more teachers than the demand. He added that the economic conditions of the nation were responsible for the overabundance of teachers.

He also added that the school budget was in a "good state", and added it would be amended if more funds were made available by the state.

The board approved the payment of nearly $40,000 in bills for April.

Stolen Tape Player Seen, One Arrest

Police have arrested 22-year old Terry Brown of 414 Wilson on a felony charge of stealing over $50.

The arrest came following a report that a stereo tape player stolen in January had been seen by its owner.

Gary Chism reported to police in January that a $90 stereo tape player was taken from his car. The tape player had been pried from the vehicle.

Chism, a student at the high school, told police he discovered his tape player yesterday when another student at the school, Robert Lasment of 814 Mary, was repairing a player.

When Sgt. Leonard Campbell arrived at the school, he said Lashment told him that a friend had asked him to repair the player and he did not know it was stolen.

Lashment told police Brown had given him the player the night before.

Brown was arrested at his home and was reported to have denied the theft.

Brown was released without bond Tuesday afternoon.

SHS Pitchers Rule

Don Miller and Bob Blankenship teamed for a 1-0, 12-inning victory over Cape Girardeau Cental at VFW stadium yesterday and moved the Sikeston Bulldogs into the sectionals of the state high school baseball tournament.

Blankenship picked up the victory, working two innings of no-hit ball after Miller went 10, yielding only three hits while walking three and fanning 11. A prep rule prohibits a pitcher from working over 10 innings.

Nearly 500 fans were on hand for the 4 p.m. opening pitch and not a half dozen of them had left almost four hours later when the game moved into the 12th inning.

"It was one of the finest high school baseball games I've ever been associated with," Coach N. P. McDaniel commented. "A lot of excitement and tense moments."

Coach McDaniel said before the encounter, after reviewing the last meeting with the Bengals in which his pack were bombed 9-0, that he hoped the team would "put up some defense behind Don." Well it did, some outstanding defensive plays were recorded along with four miscues.

David Hackney, who led the team's seven-hit attack with two safeties, hauled in three long blasts in centerfield while second sacker Mark Adams came up with a big play and Third Baseman David Evans added perhaps the biggest when he hauled in a streaming liner at his shoe topes to end a ninth inning threat.

Despite that ninth inning bit of heroics, the 5-foot-9-inch speedster darted home with the only run of the game in the 12th after walking, stealing second and advancing to third on Hackney's second hit of the game he sped home as the Bengals first baseman had trouble handling Miller's high chopper.

Both teams threatened throughout the contest, but key defensive plays and some outstanding pitching on the part of both Miller and his opponent, Mark Hogan, kept the game scoreless through 10 innings.

Hogan, a peppery lefthander, scattered six hits, fanned eight and walked four during his nine and a third innings of work.

Gene Schlick was tagged with the defeat after working two and two thirds innings, giving up one hit, one walk and fanning three.

The Bulldog diamond crew will converge on the Bengals home grounds for a regular season game Friday afternoon before engaging Gideon in the sectional battle at VFW stadium Tuesday at 4 p.m.

The GHS crew sports one of the district's hardest throwing righthanders in Mark Littlell and have been poking the ball with great consistency.

Sikeston is the defending sectional champion. It bowed out to state action during regional play last year to perennial champion Lafayette of St. Louis.

Tuesday's winner will advance into the regional at Cape Girardeau with that winner moving to Springfield for the semifinals May 28.

DAVID EVANS, who was one of the many stars of Tuesday's 1-0, 12-inning victory over Cape Girardeau Central in district baseball action, shows his happiness after ending a ninth inning threat by hauling in a liner at his shoe tops. He scored the winning run in the 12th inning as the Dogs moved to the sectionals Tuesday at VFW stadium against Gideon.

Battle Resumes

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah Stars Coach Bill Sharman has concentrated his team's efforts in two areas for tonight's battle with the Kentucky Colonels to break a 2-2 tie in the American Basketball Association championship playoffs.

"We have to play defense and not get scattered around like we did Saturday, and we will have to rebound better," Sharman declared.

The Stars were heavily outrebounded in losing the last two games of the series at Louisville. Sharman says he feels that was partly due to Zelmo Beaty's early foul trouble and Red Robbins being sick.

Sharman said he didn't think Kentucky played its best at Louisville.

Kentucky Coach Frank Ramsey will start the same five players that started the first four games of the series. Darel Carrier and Louie Dampier will be the guards with Jim Ligon and Cincy Powell at forwards and Dan Issel at center.

The Utah Starters are a little less definite. Beaty is healthy, but has gotten into foul trouble early in the last two games. Red Robbins has recovered from a weekend bout with the flu, but isn't expected to be up to par.

Merv Jackson is a doubtful starter at guard with a bad knee. Sharman may have to throw swingman Ron Boone against Dampier. Glen Combs is expected to guard Carrier. Willie Wise has recovered from a bout with the flu enough to take the forward position.

The 13,208 tickets for tonight's game have been sold out since Monday. Stars officials have announced they plan a closed-circuit television broadcast to a nearby auditorium which can seat 2,400 persons.

The sixth game will be played Saturday afternoon in Louisville. A seventh game, if necessary, will be played Tuesday in the Salt Palace.

Utah must win tonight's game to preserve the homecourt advantage, which it won by having a better regular-season record than Kentucky.

SEMO Players Busy in Minors

Southeast Missouri's two minor league baseball players continue to see action.

Tom Nichols of Dexter, playing for the Charlotte Twins of the Dixie AA League, was o-for 1 last week nd dropped his average to .095 on two hits in 21 times at bat. He has scored four runs.

Greg Buys of Kennett, playing for the Ft. Lauderdale Yanks in the Florida State class A League, lowered his season's earned run average to 3 by pitching seven innings in two games last week, allowing eight hits, fanning six and walking four.

For the season he has pitched in three games, allowed 12 hits in nine innings, struckout six and walked six.

'Dream Mile'

NEW YORK (AP) — Nothing since the 1968 Olympic Games has stirred interest in track and field as Sunday's head-tohead "Dream Mile" race between Jim Ryun and Marty Liquori.

Ryun, the world's top miler from 1965 until mononucleosis slowed him in 1968, and Liquori, who beat Ryun in the 1969 NCAA and AAU championships, will face each other on the lightning-fast Tartan track of Philadelphia's Franklin Field in the Martin Luther King Freedom Games.

On paper, Ryun has an impressive edge. He has beaten Liquori in six out of eight races at the mile and the "metric mile," 1,500 meters. He holds the world record for both distances, 3:51.1 for the mile and 3:33.1 for the 1,500 meters, while Liquori's best times are a 3:57.2 mile and 3:37.2 for the metric distance.

"Marty's a competitor," says Jim "Jumbo" Elliott, Liquori's coach at Villanova. "He never runs for time, but only to win, so naturally his times aren't as fast as Ryun's. But Marty's in the best shape of his life, and he's really ready for this race. Remember, he beat Ryun the last two times they raced, and he's two years older and stronger now."

"When I stepped into Jim's shoes as Number One," says Liquori, "I realized what it had been like for him. You feel you have to win every race—even the unimportant ones you don't care about."

Now Ryun, after more than a year away from competition, is making an impressive comeback. After tying the world indoor record of 3:56.4 in his second race last winter, he emphasized his return to form with a 3:55.8 at the Kansas Relays on April 24.

Ryun lives in Eugene, Oregon now, but his coach at the University of Kansas, Bob Timmons, still advises him by call.

Schultz Takes It On the Nose

MONTREAL (AP)--Pitching Coach Barney Schultz of the St. Louis Cardinals suffered a broken nose when he was hit by a ball during batting practice before Tuesday night's game against the Montreal Expos.

A St. Louis team spokesman said that Schultz' activities would "be limited for the next four or five days."

Unser's Mechanic To Be Honored

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)--Geoge Bignotti, chief mechanic for 1970 U.S. Auto Club racing champion Al Unser, will be coaxed away from his wrenches next Wednesday long enough to receive the D-A mechanical achievement award.

Master mechanics value the annual award as much as race drivers cherish the Borg-Warner Trophy for winning the Indianapolis 500-mile race. The D-A winners also like the $3,000 that goes with the plaque.

Tom Binford, president of the D-A racing oil firm and former USAC president, started giving the mechanics' award 12 years ago for outstanding preparation of Indianapolis cars.

'Super Game' May 28

NEW YORK (AP) — "This 'Super Game,'" superstar Oscar Robertson said, "will show that the two pro leagues can play against each other at the highest competitive level without an illegal merger."

The game pits all stars from the warring National Basketball Association and American Basketball Association May 28 in the Houston Astrodome.

By agreeing to the first meeting between the two loops, the NBA Players Association defied the league owners who barred such a game until a formal merger occurs.

The players' group opposes any merger and has a court injunction now in effect to bar one. Just last week the owners of both leagues agreed to seek congressional legislation to clear the way for it.

Asked whether the owners approved of the game, Robertson, a star guard for the NBA champion Milwaukee Bucks and president of the players association, snapped: "It doesn't matter whether they approve or not!"

He said that by refusing to present such a game without a merger "the owners' sole motivation becomes clear—money.

"What should be of interest is the fan and the quality of product he sees."

NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy refused to say what action the league might take to halt the contest but ABA Commissioner Jack Dolph said his league would "take steps to stop our player ame would be detrimental to the league—which we have not.

"A player's contract requires him to get permission from his team for any such game," Dolph added.

But Arlen Preblud, attorney for the ABA Players Association, insisted:

"It is not the intention of the ABA players to play this in defiance of our owners. And it has nothing to do with the merger. The ABA players are merely playing a game with the NBA players for the Whitney Young Foundation."

The net gate receipts from the game will go to the newly created foundation which directs funds to programs that prepare ghetto youngsters for college.

The game will be syndicated for national television at 8:30 p.m., EDT, by TVS, an independent network. The television receipts will go to supplement the pension plans for the players in both leagues with a share of it also going to the participating players in the game.

The NBA players will be centers Lew Alcindor of Milwaukee and Nate Thurmond of San Francisco, forwards Billy Cunningham of Philadelphia, Dave DeBusschere of New York, John Havlicek of Boston and Elvin Hayes of San Diego and guards Earl Monroe of Baltimore, Dave Bing of Detroit, Walt Frazier of New York and Robertson.

The ABA's 11 players will be centers Zelmo Beaty of Utah and Mel Daniels of Indiana, forwards Rick Barry of New York, Roger Brown of Indiana, Willie Wise of Utah and Dan Issel of Kentucky and guards Charlie Scott of Virginia, Larry Jones of the Floridians, Bill Melchionni of New York, Steve Jones of Memphis and Donnie Freeman of Texas.

Robertson said the NBA will name its 11th player next week, along with the coaches for the two teams. They will not be existing NBA or ABA coaches, he said.

Cards Flex HR Muscles

The St. Louis Cardinals, featuring explosive home run power, ripped the Montreal Expos 10-4 Tuesday night, but the Kansas City Royals bowed to Baltimore 5-4 in 10 innings.

Joe Torre belted two two-run homers to pace the Redbirds. Dick Schofield and Jose Cardenal also had home runs to help St. Louis starter Reggie Cleveland boost his record to 32.

Torre's first shot broke a 3-3 tie in the fifth inning and his second blast highlighted a fourrun ninth. Catcher Ted Simmons contributed two singles and a double to the Cards' cause.

Carl Morton, 3-5, was the Montreal loser.

In Baltimore, Merv Rettenmund singled off Kansas City shortstop Fred Patek's glove to drive in Brooks Robinson for the Oriole's winning run.

The Royals tied the game 4-4 in the ninth when Joe Keough doubled and Amos Otis tripled with two out. Baltimore had gone ahead in the eighth on a double by Dave Johnson and a sacrife fly by Andy Etchebarren.

The Royals jumped into the lead with two runs in the first inning but Baltimore grabbed the advantage with a single run in the fourth and two more in the fifth.

Kansas tied it 3-3 in the sixth when Ed Kirkpatrick scored on a passed ball.

Eddie Watt pitched one inning and picked up his first victory of the year against no defeats. Ted Abernathy, 1-2, pitched one and a third innings and was charged with the Royals defeat.

When the teams square off again tonight Bob Gibson, 3-3, will pitch for the Cards against Ernie McAnally, 0-2, in Montreal and Mike Hedlund, 3-1, of the Royals will oppose Grant Jackson, 0-0, in Baltimore.

TUESDAY'S STARS
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BATTING— Merv Rettenmund, Orioles, had four singles, the last of which drove in the winning run in a 5-4, 10-inning victory over Kansas City.

PITCHING— Clyde Wright, Angels, scattered eight hits in blanking Detroit 5-0.

Willies on Spree

A couple of West Coast Willies are off on a whirlwind spree and, for a change, neither one answers to the name Mays.

Willie McCovey, coming on strong after a slow start this season, belted three hits, including his seventh home run, as the San Francisco Giants widened their National League West lead to eight games with a 6-1 triumph over Cincinnati Tuesday night.

Willie Davis, meanwhile, continued his torrid hitting with three singles and a triple, helping the Los Angeles Dodgers whip Atlanta 6-1 to snap a three-game losing string and move into second place behind the runaway Giants.

Davis has banged out 11 hits in his last 13 trips to the plate, hiking his batting average to .395. McCovey has gone 9-for-12 in his last four starts, bringing his average up to .311.

Elsewhere in the NL, the New York Mets battered Houston 8-1 behind Nolan Ryan's three-hitter and Dave Marshall's grand slam homer; two homers by Joe Torre paced St. Louis to a 10-4 romp over Montreal; Pittsburgh drubbed San Diego 10-4 with Manny Sanguillen stroking four hits and the Chicago Cubs clubbed Philadelphia 6-2.

In the American League, Cleveland topped Oakland 7-5; Baltimore shaded Kansas City 5-4 in 10 innings; Boston nipped Minnesota 5-4 and California beat Detroit 5-0. Rain washed out the New York Yankees' game at Milwaukee and the Washington-Chicago White Sox contest at Chicago.

McCovery put the wraps on the Giants' 24th victory in 33 games with a two-run homer in the third inning after Mays, a .375 hitter, drew a walk from Jim Merritt.

Bobby Bonds' eighth homer, singles by Chris Speier, McCovey and Ken Henderson and another homer by Dick Dietz had given the division leaders a 4-0 first inning jump.

Gaylord Perry, 4-1, checked the reeling Reds on six hits. Merritt, a 20-game winner last year, absorbed his fourth setback in as many decisions.

Davis punched a two-out single in the first inning before Richie Allen walked and Wes Parker drilled a two-run double, sending the Dodgers ahead to stay at Los Angeles.

After Bill Buckner's three-run homer in the fourth chased Braves' starter Jim Nash, Davis tagged reliever Pat Jarvis for a triple and scored on a single by Allen.

Southpaw Claude Osteen tamed Atlanta on six hits for a 4-3 season mark as the Dodgers moved percentage points ahead of the Braves into second place in the west.

Ryan walked seven Houston batters and hit another, but pitched hitless ball until the fifth inning, struck out eighth and wound up, breezing to his fourth victory without a loss.

The Mets, who have won four in a row for a one-game edge over second-place Pittsburgh in the East, scored three runs off Larry Dierker in the third and knocked out the Houston ace in the sixth before Marshall rocked reliever George Culver for his bases-loaded homer.

Ryan has issued 24 walks—but has yielded just 12 hits while fanning 23—in 25 innings of work this season.

Torre broke a 3-3 tie at Montreal with a two-run homer in the fifth inning and walloped his sixth homer of the year— another two-run shot—in the ninth. Jose Cardenal and Dick Schofield also homered for the Cards.

Sanguillen drove in two runs for the Pirates, who overcame a 2-1 fifth inning deficit and then poured it on against the Padres. Roberto Clemente slammed a double and his first homer of the season, delivering three runs, and Gene Clines sent Pittsburgh in front with a two-run triple in the fifth.

Chicago's Bill Hands, backed by two-run homers off the bats of Johnny Callison, Billy Williams and Ron Santo, held Philadelphia hitless after the third inning, finishing with a five-hitter to square his record at 4-4.

Williams' homer off Rick Wise and Santo's blast off reliever Woody Fryman shot the Cubs out of reach in the third.

Exciting Novel Of a Miner Seeking Justice

THE BAREFOOT MAN. By Davis Grubb. Simon & Schuster. $6.95.

"It was through the north window that they would see the killers when they came . . ."

From the very first line of this brutally realistic and yet unreal novel, the reader understands this is no ordinary world he is entering, but rather one of nightmare. A strange, tormented place in which those who wander in unwittingly from the outside, as does the protagonist, Farjeon, immediately are regarded as potential strikebreakers rather than innocent wanderers. A place where men distrust and with good reason other men and instead trust rats, again with reason. ". . . don't chunk no more coal at them rats, Jack. A rat, he's a miner's friend. When the rats start running it's time to get out. A rat like that one yonder, he can hear a fall coming before it's hardly commenced. There's many a miner owes his life to rats, mister."

This world into which Farjeon wanders, after being dispossessed from his farm during the Great Depression, is one in which tumbledown miners' shacks huddle close to the killer coal mine in which they work.

Coffee Corner

By Cherie

Did I ever have a Mother's Day! Charles was out of town so this day was strictly between the fellas and me and though I'm rather pooped by the whole affair still I wouldn't have changed it for the world.

Saturday evening I was tucked into bed amid much whispering and after a brief consultation was informed I should stay there Sunday morning until the fellas wanted me up — I agreed, they giggled and we all climbed into bed and went promptly to sleep. And we slept, and we slept and we slept until I thought (I am usually drinking coffee by six thirty every morning), I would have a caffine fit right there between and betwix the sheets till finally we awoke at nine thirty. "Don't get up", they cried, as one sprang from his bed and the other sprang from mine where he had been kicking me like a mule at regular intervals for about six hours when he had decided to "keep me cozy" in the middle of the night! Sitting up in bed and pushing the new bedspread as far off the bed as possible in case of spills, I awaited my breakfast. It finally came a wavering step at a time up the stairs, carried by my youngest who could hardly be seen behind the immense tray, upon which he had placed a cup of coffee and a vegetable bowl full of bran flakes floating in a quart of milk but minus the sugar. Bran flakes are hard to take, but you don't know nothing till you try and swallow them down without any sugar!! Next came the gifts and you can't begin to believe how many floaters, hooks, sinkers, lines etc. came spilling out of those packages, why, I've got the best equipped bamboo pole you ever saw! Next came, "get up and lets go try out your presents," (which they had to try out on their casting rods since my pole doesn't work too well with anything but a hook and a worm) and away we went fishing. Lee caught a bass and it was the first one we ever caught big enough to eat and then wonder or wonders, I caught one too, on my hook and worm — and Lee had the nerve to drop mine in the water trying to get it on a stringer and pull a crawdad out of its mouth at the same time. Oh well, I was so grateful to the fish for letting me catch him (my very first), that I didn't even mind and thus was the finale to one of the most exhausting but most wonderful Mother's Days a girl could ever have!

Malden Area Sprayed for White Beetle

MALDEN — A crew of workmen from the State and Federal Departments of Agriculture have been busy this week spraying yards and alleys in Malden in an effort to eradicate the white fringe beetle.

Lloyd Seagraves of Sikeston, an employee of the USDA, says that the Malden area is being sprayed in an effort to control and prevent the spreading of the beetle. He said that the beetle was discovered in Malden last year and they are spraying now while it is in the dormant stage.

The area being sprayed is from the Cotton Belt Railroad to about four blocks on both sides. He said that they are also spraying in Cardwell, Hayti and Portageville.

The white fringe beetle is a hitchhiker. It is common in the deep south and travels north on trucks, railroad cars, or on imported plants. It is destructive to farm crops and a number of plants. They are all females and reproduce rapidly.

A chemical named Chlordane is being used in an effort to destroy them. It is being sprayed at the ratio of about ten pounds to the acre.

Greased Pig Contest Set

NEW MADRID--A greased pig contest for two age divisions will be held at 4 p.m. May 16 at the city park during celebration activities of the Sesquicentennial of the state of Missouri, according to Sam Atwell, chairman.

Cash awards of $5 each will be given to three contestants in each division, who catch and hold a greased pig. Division one is for ages 8, 9, and 10, and division two includes ages 11, 12, 13, and 14.

The contest will be in the Little League baseball park, Atwell said, and is open to youths in these age groups.

Fancy Menus In Honolulu

HONOLULU (AP) — Take a tip from Waikiki's restaurants the next time your husband asks, "What's for dinner?"

Don't just say chicken and hot from the broiler where the sherbet. "Tonight," you tell him, chef has tenderly basted them "it's whole milk-fed baby squab, with a secret blending of wines fat and sassy little birds, bursting and herbs.

with juice, brought to the table

"And for dessert, passion fruit sherbet, le grande passion between you and tropical passion fruit, squeezed lovingly of its juices and whirled into a frosty delight, cool and refreshing as a fern sheltered waterfall."

That's what you get when you order squab at Canlis' Charcoal Broiler or sherbet at Paradise Park. Both descriptions come straight from the menu.

Hawaii restaurants like to serve up a dash of poetry and history with their fancy fare and menu writers are spending more time in the library these days.

The menu at the Dynasty could be required reading for students of Asian history.

"New England puts milk in its clam chowder," the menu says. "New York uses water and tomatoes.

Bids Asked On Cape I-55 Project

JEFFERSON CITY—The Missouri State Highway Commission will open bids May 21 on an estimated $18 million in highway construction and improvements.

The projects are in 15 counties and cover 51.8 miles. They include 14.1 miles of Interstate system work; 8.3 miles on the Primary highway system; a 1.9-mile Urban system improvement; 22.4 miles on Supplementary (farm to market) system routes; and 5.1 miles on Recreational Access roads.

Interstate system projects are:

HARRISON: Interstate Route 35 -- highway signing and fencing along a 0.6-miles stretch from the Iowa state line southerly to Zadie Creek.

HARRISON: Interstate Route 35 -- 7.1 miles grading, signing, fencing, and laying two 24-foot wide portland cement concrete pavements from about a half-mile south of the Iowa state line southerly to Route N at Eagleville.

JACKSON: Interstate Route 435 -- laying two 36-foot wide portland cement concrete pavements and signing along a 2.8-mile stretch from the Missouri River south to U.S. Route 24.

ST. LOUIS: Interstate Route 44 North Outer Roadway -- asphaltic concrete resurfacing from Allenton Road wast to present concrete pavement in Eureka. The project totals 1.7 miles in length.

ST. LOUIS: Interstate Route 44 North Outer Roadway -- 1.4 miles asphaltic concrete resurfacing from west of Route 141, westerly.

CAPE GIRARDEAU: Interstate Route 55 -- 0.4 mile grading, culverts, fencing, signing, ramps and an 18-foot wide concrete pavement at the U.S. Route 61 and Route 74 interchange south of Cape Girardeau.

Primary system work includes:

LINCOLN: U.S. Route 61 -- 3.8 miles grading, culverts, bridging, signing, laying two 24-foot wide portland cement concrete pavements on part and resurfacing with asphaltic concrete one 24-foot pavement on part from north of the Cuivre River southeast to a mile south of Troy.

LINCOLN: Route 47 -- 3.2 miles grading, culverts and laying one 24-foot concrete pavement (Troy bypass) from west of Route H to east of U.S. Route 61.

Mitchell Compares Mayday Mobs to Hitler Brownshirts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell compared last week's Mayday demonstrators to Hitler's brownshirts Monday and said "Nothing else could have been done" except to make the mass arrests that swept them off Washington's streets by the thousands.

"I am proud of the Washington city police," Mitchell said.

"I am proud that they stopped a repressive mob from robbing the rights of others."

Mitchell's remarks were in a speech prepared for the 51st annual conference of the California Peace Officers Association.

He expressed alarm over what he termed "a growing threat to civil rights in this country." That is, he said, "the trend of extremist groups, in the name of free assembly and free speech to deny freedom of others."

"I hope that Washington's decisive opposition to mob force will set an example for other communities, in similar circumstances to do the same," Mitchell said. "If they do we will see an end to the extremist practice of running roughshod over the rights of others."

Taking note of criticism of the tactics used by police to round up demonstrators attempting to stop traffic in the capital, Mitchell criticized what he termed "sideliners stepping forward to sympathize with the law-breakers and fault the police."

"Some have done so again, and unfortunately we find a few occupying high office, including some in the United States Senate," he said.

One of them, Mitchell said, "dragged out" the tired old comparison with the Nazis.

"Perhaps it is good that he brought this up, because I would like to recall another group of civilians who roamed the streets of Germany in the 1920s, bullying people, shouting down those who disagreed with them, and denying other citizens their civil rights," Mitchell said.

"They were called Hitler's brownshirts," he said. "And if they had been called to account for their theft of the rights of others and made to pay for it before they could take over the German government, the world might have been spared a whole era of violence and misery."

Mitchell did not name the senators to whom he referred.

Eye Clinic in Portageville On May 27

PORTAGEVILLE--May 27, the annual New Madrid county eye clinic will be held at the Armory.

This clinic is a part of the continuing program administered by the Bureau for the Blind with the cooperation of the New Madrid county welfare office. The clinic provides medical eye service to those who need help to prevent loss of sight or cure diseases of the eye.

The welfare office will refer for examination any individual who is believed to be in need of an eye examination and is considered to be medically indigent. All recipients of public assistance and members of public assistance households are automatically considered medically indigent.

Those who wish to attend the clinic may notify the New Madrid County Welfare Office, 600 N. Main in New Madrid prior to May 27. Those who are unable to come to the welfare office should contact the Office by mail or phone 748-5536 and a family service worker will visit them.

The Clinic is for all residents of the county who qualify.

Ratchford Will Address Seniors

COLUMBIA--Dr. C. Brice Ratchford, interim president of the University of Missouri, will speak at commencement exercises at the University of Missouri at 6 p.m. June 1.

Interim Chancellor Herbert W. Schooling said that the ceremonies will be conducted at Memorial Stadium.

A graduating class of 3,000, a little larger than a year ago, will qualify for degrees as members of the January and June graduating classes.

In Iceland children are required by law to learn to swim.

Donna Cokencour

Theresa Farrenburg

Melba Tallie

Three Girls Cited for Scholarship

NEW MADRID--Donna Cokenour and Theresa Farrenburg have been announced as top scholastic New Madrid high school graduates.

Miss Cokenour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cokenour, is valedictorian and Miss Farrenburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Farrenburg, route one, salutatorian.

Melba Tallie,. daughter of Mrs. Jewel Tallie, received the Raymond T. Sides $500 memorial scholarship award, founded by the Jaycees and financed by civic clubs.

Miss Cokenour receives a regent's award, a waiver of incidental fees from Southeast Missouri State College, Cape Girardeau. She plans to attend SEMO state and major in English and music. She has been accepted as a member of the Golden Eagles marching band.

She received the John Phillip Sousa outstanding muscianship award. Her name will be engraved on a permanent plaque in the band department.

Band activities include concert band, stage band, head majorette, all division band and all district band. She has received two high school band medals and three all division band medals.

A member of the Beta club, JAC club, activities editor of the yearbook, and sophomore class secretary, she has received typing award pins, shorthand award pins, creative writing award, bookkeeping and English medals, and received second place award in a national Daughters of the American Revolution competition for composition of a song. She received a blue ribbon in sew with cotton competition.

She is pianist for the Presbyterian Sunday school, prepares weekly bulletins for both New Madrid and Parma Presbyterian churches, teaches private piano students, and works after school at the county courthouse.

Miss Farrenburg has been a member four years of Beta club, band majorette and cheerleader, serving as captain one year. She has been captain of the high school volleyball team, JAC Club president and junior class secretary. She plans to attend SEMO state college at Cape Girardeau and the University of Tennessee school of nursing.

Miss Tallie plans to attend summer school at SEMO state college, and transfer to School of the Ozarks to major in elementary education. She received the outstanding home economics award. School activities include Future Homemakers Association, JAC Club, senior class play and chorus.

Robison to Take Part in Mock Trial

COLUMBIA, MO.--A mock arson trial and an arson investigation will be featured at the fourth annual arson investigator seminar June 7-9 at the University of Missouri-Columbia.

George E. Schaaf, circuit judge of St. Louis county, will act as judge, Arthur T. Stephenson, prosecuting attorney of Pemiscot county, as prosecutor, and James R. Robison of Sikeston as defense council at the trial.

The workshop will divide enrollees into 10-man teams with a leader to tour a fire scene and investigate. Rex McGraw, detective in the Jackson county sheriff department, will coordinate a panel for a critique of investigations.

The seminar is sponsored by UMC and the Missouri chapter of International Association of Arson Investigators of which Holdinghaus is president.

OYSTER POWER

LONDON (AP) — Scientists at Aberdeen University hunting for drugs and anti-biotics in sea creatures say the oyster may contain tumor-fighting chemicals.

Mollusks, crabs, fish and prawns are also being screened for use in human medicine.

A PROMISING DRUG

NEW YORK (AP) — Arthritis and all its weakening effects on equines and canines (6 million horses and 25 million dogs) may become a thing of the past if a new drug called Neo-Arth lives up to its promise.

The Generics Corporation of America has developed this new drug which has proved successful on 76 per cent of the afflicted horses in New York and Florida, says Dr. I.O. Reed, DVM, who is Generics' director of veterinary medicine.

Hope is being expressed that future research may provide a similar breakthrough in the treatment and relief of human arthritis.

It is believed that 50 per cent of all dogs over age 5 suffer from arthritis, says the GCA.

CANTERBURY, England (AP) —

Archaeologists have enlisted the help of school children in excavating a first to third century B.C. Iron Age settlement. The dig uncovered huts, storage pits and pottery remains.

Environment to Be Discussed at Seminar

CAPE GIRARDEAU–The environment and how educators in Southeast Missouri should react to environmental problems will be the focus of a one-day seminar, Tuesday.

Public and private school officials in 22 regional counties have been invited to send representatives of the superintendent's or central office, secondary education, elementary education, and one junior or senior high school student to the meetings which will be held at the Language Arts Building, Southeast Missouri State College, Cape Girardeau.

Sponsored by the University of Missouri at Columbia college of education and extension division in cooperation with State Department of Education and the United States Office of Education, Bureau of Educational Professions Development, the seminar will be free to the participants.

Beginning at 9 a.m., the students, teachers and officials will look at environmental problems from several vantage points and consider a variety of possible responses that educators might make.

Columbia Campus and University of Missouri at Rolla faculty members with diverse backgrounds and specialty areas will make presentations that highlight the problems of environment from the points of view of man, agriculture, municipalities, industry, economics and population.

These speakers will get together in the afternoon for a panel consideration of the problems. Then John Hooser, science consultant to the State Department of Education, will speak on "The School Curriculum and Environmental Studies."

At 3 p.m., the participants will join in small group discussions of what the schools are doing now in relation to the environment, what long range goals should be established, and the kinds of specific measures that can be taken, beginning with the next school year, to give more appropriate attention to environment in the school.

Representatives of school districts in these counties will participate in the seminar: Bollinger, Butler, Cape Girardeau, Carter, Dent, Dunklin, Iron, Madison, Mississippi, New Madrid, Oregon, Pemiscot, Perry, Reynolds, Ripley, St. Francois, Ste. Genevieve, Scott, Shannon, Stoddard, Washington and Wayne.

Rotarians Told of 4-H Club Work

Work of the Sikeston Community 4-H club was outlined last night at a Rotary club father, son and daughter dinner at the Holiday Inn.

Stan Polivick said the 115-member club will hold a bake sale May 22 and rummage sales to raise money to pay for 4-H camp fees. He said a car wash will be held in July to raise money for a 4-H Fair pavilion.

On May 23 at 7:30 p.m. at Hunter Memorial First Presbyterian church 4-H Sunday will be observed. A campout will be held June 11-13 at the Peter Meyers farm. The 4-H fair will be held during the Jaycee Bootheel Rodeo.

Other 4-H members reported on their projects, David Blackburn on small motors, Angela Cooper, child care; Peter Myers Jr., ecology; Chuck Springs, electricity; and Cathy Christiansen, sewing, foods and child care.

Mrs. Gerald Jackson, co-chairman of the club, said that 4-H interests no longer were confined to the farm. She said that the clubs offered training in how to conduct and participate in a business meeting, individual projects and club activities. Mrs. Peter Myers, co-chairman, reported on national activities of the clubs.

Ralph McElroy, introduced Tom Jennings, who has been awarded a Rotary club scholarship at Southeast Missouri State College in Cape Girardeau.

Herbert Mennen of Wilmington, Ill., and John W. Shelton of Dexter were visiting Rotarians. Peter Myer Sr. was a guest of Alex Waters.

Debbie Launius entertained at the piano.

The club will meet next Monday at Lucian Stoner's cabin on Lake Wappapello.

Cape Entry In Queen Contest

MALDEN–Miss Jean Ann Spalding of Cape Girardeau, will be one of the entries to compete for the 'Miss Southeast Missouri Title.

The pageant sponsored by the Jaycees, will be held on June 5 at the high school gymnasium, and is open to all eligible entries in the area.

Winner of the Miss Southeast Missouri Title will receive a $250 scholarship plus an all expense paid trip for her and her chaperon to Mexico, Mo., where she will compete for the Miss Missouri title.

Jean Ann, 19, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gene Spalding, and is a 1970 graduate of Cape Central high school. Her talent presentation will be a dance-twirl routine.

Entries in the SEMO area are being accepted by the Jaycees. Interested candidates may write to Dr. Larry L. Webster, 110 West Main, Malden, Missouri 63836 or call 276-3893. Deadline date for entries is May 21.

School Contract Maneuver Ruled Out of Order

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)–Atty. Gen. John C. Danforth held Wednesday that a school board and its superintendent cannot terminate the superintendent's contract and then draw up a new one for the sole purpose of increasing his salary.

Danforth provided the opinion for Rep. Donald J. Gralike, D-St. Louis, who said such a procedure frequently is used in St. Louis County school districts.

"It is common practice," he said in requesting the opinion, "for superintendents to resign before the expiration of the three year contract and be re-appointed to this position by the school board with a salary increase for a new three-year period."

Danforth said that would be unconstitutional because it "amounts to a 'grant of public money' to a private person in violation of Article III, Section 38 (A)."

Mother Accused Of Leaving Tots Locked up Alone

KANSAS CITY (AP)--Police reported a 21-year-old mother was charged with child abandonment Tuesday after two children, one 6 months old and the other 1½ years of age, were left alone for two days in a locked apartment.

The boy was treated at Children's Mercy Hospital for dehydration and hunger. His 6-month-old sister was taken to the Jackson County Children's shelter.

Police said the mother was held under $250 bond and ordered to appear in municipal court May 10.

Police said the mother told them she had to leave the apartment and gave a friend $10 with which to care for the children. Officers said the boy was found walking through trash and broken dishes in the apartment and the girl was found lying on a bed.

Falling Rock Fatal To Mine Worker

BIXBY, Mo. (AP)--Jess L. Wells, 28, of Fredericktown, Mo., was injured fatally Tuesday night in a mining accident at the Cominco Magmont operations near Bixby. Company officials said a piece of rock fell from the mine roof and struck Wells.

Interstate Brands Earnings and Sales Increase

KANSAS CITY--Record highs in both earnings and sales for Interstate Brands Corporation during the first quarter of 1971 were reported today by Ernest B. Hueter, president.

Net income for IBC — one of the nation's largest bakery-food firms — for the 16 weeks ended Apr. 17, was reported as $1,147,951 — an increase of 3.4 per cent, compared with $1,110,341 reported during the first quarter of 1970. Earnings per share increased to 49 cents from 47 cents for the same period a year ago.

Sales for the first quarter reached $79,832,899, representing an increase of $3,963,257, or 5.2 per cent, over record sales of $75,869,642 reported for the like period of 1970.

17 Girl Scouts Win Awards

Washington Report

By Senator Stuart Symington

U.S. Senator — Missouri

ADMINISTRATION REVERSES POSITION ON FUNDING OF OLDER AMERICANS ACT

Budget cuts planned by The Administration for programs under the Older Americans Act have been rescinded in the wake of Senate hearings that showed how adversely senior citizens would be affected if the cuts were made.

Specifically, President Nixon recommended reducing funds for the title III community grant program by $3.65 million, for the foster grandparent program by $3 million, and for the research and training programs by $2.15 million.

On March 25, 19, 30, and 31, the Senate Special Committee on Aging, presided over by Senator Church of Idaho, and the Subcommittee on Aging of the Labor and Public Welfare Committee, of which I am chairman, held joint hearings at which witnesses testified about the serious consequences that would follow from these funding reductions.

On April 27 this series of hearings was concluded with testimony from Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Richardson. At that time Secretary Richardson announced that the Administration has reversed its position on the funding of these programs and will now recommend that the title III community grant program, the foster grandparent program, and the research and training programs be funded at their fiscal 1971 levels.

This is indeed welcome news, and I commend the Administration for reconsidering its previous untenable position.

Still Not Enough

There is, however, no cause for euphoria. The Administration's revised budget requests amount simply to a status quo budget for these existing programs which have proven so popular and successful and which I believe should be expanded.

The increase of $7.5 million over fiscal 1971 in the total budget for the Administration on Aging is for the purpose of implementing two new programs authorized by Congress in 1969-the areawide model projects program and the retired senior volunteer program.

In other words, the Administration's revised budget represents not so much a step forward for older Americans as a decision not to move backward. Clearly the task of obtaining a higher priority for the needs of senior citizens remains before us. Nevertheless, the elderly citizens of the nation have had a minor victory.

Mail Box

Dear Charlie:

I'm answering the letter written by Duane Williams. He wrote about the farce Little league tryouts are, and about 100 boys left unable to play. I know my husband picks the boys by ability. He has had worked with Little League for 4 years now and our son isn't old enough to play yet. Mr. Williams hasn't put himself out and neither has hundreds of other parents.

I've been told that 4 more teams have been formed and Mr. Williams is going to manage one. Next year at tryouts I want to know how he comes out.

After one year of parents calling him and griping because he took their kid out of a game, or because he didn't play at all he'll know what the managers have put up with for years.

Good Luck Mr. Williams,
Yours truly,
Pat Harper

Odd Fellows, Rebekahs To Convene

CAPE GIRARDEAU — International Order of Odd Fellows Grand Lodge and Rebekah Assembly of Missouri will hold their annual statewide meeting May 23 - 26, the first time the state meeting has been held in Cape Girardeau since 1915, according to Russel L. Faust, general chairman for the Grand Lodge session.

He said approximately 500 representatives and delegates are expected for the meeting, and that at the present time over 300 have registered.

Registration of all units will be held May 23 from 2 to 6 p.m. and May 24 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Holiday Inn, headquarters for the Rebekah Assembly. Grand Lodge headquarters are at the Ramada Inn. Business and committee sessions will be held by each group at their respective headquarters duringthe meetinig.

The sessions will be presided over by L. J. Fetter, grand master of the IOOF Grand Lodge, and Mrs. Inez Misner, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Missouri. They will be honored at a banquet May 25 at 6:30 p.m at the Arena Building to be followed by the joint installation of new officers.

A Decoration of Chivalry will be held May 24 at 7 p.m. at the Arena Building followed by the introduction and seating of officers at 8 o'clock.

Distinguished guests attending the sessions will include B. Edward Richter of Milwaukee, Wis., general commander of the patriarchs Militant; Clarence Bryant of Iowa, IOOF sovereign grand warden. and Mrs. Daphne Kenealy of Washington, president of the International Association of Rebekah Assemblies.

Room reservations must be made through the committee chairmen, Mr. an Mrs. Coy L. Welker. 1721 Brucher, and banquet reservations through the committee chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Boss, 642 Whitelaw.

Consumer Needs to Be Informed

OXFORD, Miss. — "Prosperity is everybody's business . . ."

This asseration by a former Secretary of Commerce points to the necessity of good salesmanship at all levels in our economy as the key to national prosperity.

Prosperity cannot be made by automobile manufacturers in Detroit.

It cannot be made by appliance manufacturers in Philadelphia or Los Angeles.

The manufacturers can help by producing better products and advertising them well and by keeping a large labor force employed.

But the giant industries are dependent upon the retailers of all the towns and cities of the nation. Their ambitions wither and their plants close when the local retailer fails in the ultimate job of placing new products in the hands of the consumer.

It is the business of industry to promote the general features of its products through national advertising. But it is probably of more importance for the local retailer to inform the consumer on specific details which will lead to purchases.

And it is, of course, the business of the consumer to spend his money when and where he may find goods and services which will enrich his life. However, the consumer cannot be expected to spend money for the sake of spending.

For the consumer to take full part in creating and maintaining prosperity, he necessarily needs the information which can be provided only through retail advertising.

It is the business of

Grant for 3 Workshops

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Three Southeast Missouri State College biology professors have received federal grants for summer study and research, Dr. Robert Kuster, head of the biology department, reports.

The three are Dr. Travis Brooks, Paul Heye, and Dr. Carl Train. Dr. Brooks and Dr. Train received grants from the National Science Foundation. Heye received his award from the Atomic Energy Commission.

According to Dr. Kuster, the grants are awarded on a competitive basis to provide college teachers with an opportunity to study and conduct research in areas that cannot be provided by their home institution.

Dr. Brooks, assistant professor, will take part in an NSF research program at the University of Oklahoma Biological Station at Lake Texoma from June 7 - July 31.

A member of the Southeast Missouri State faculty since 1967, Dr. Brooks earned his bachelor's and master's degrees at KANSAS State University and his Ph.D. at the University of Kansas.

Dr. Train, who received his bachelor's degree from Bethany College and his master's and Ph.D. degrees from Kansas State, will participate in an NSF Institute on the History, Philosophy, and Sociology of Science. It will run from June 13 - July 23 at The Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Train also joined the college faculty in 1967 and is an assistant professor.

Heye, associate professor and member of the faculty since 1955, will take part in an AEC Radiation Biology Institute at the University of Tennessee Medical School in Memphis June 21-July 30.

He received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Missouri. He has done additional graduate work there as well as at the University of Michigan.

CRITICAL STUDENTS

NEW YORK (AP) — At a recent seminar students of Traphagen School of Fashion expressed a desire to change a lot more than just the style of garments worn by women.

They attacked today's poor workmanship, the designing of way out items for the sake of promotion and clothes that are styled to look well only on size eight models.

Support Sought for Road Program

JEFFERSON CITY — The Highway Commission is attempting to gain public support for its proposed 12-year, $1.4 billion construction program to improve Missouri's Intercity-Interregional highway network.

Key features of the program include:

About 1850 miles of four-lane divided highways.

About 350 miles of ultimate four-lane highways.

Reasonable access throughout the system.

Grade separations at all railroad crossings where four-lane construction is planned.

Interchanges at all route crossings where traffic estimates indicate their necessity.

Improvement of overburdened facilities in the St. Louis and Kansas City areas.

Under the plan, most major routes through the state would become four-lane divided highways on the portions with heaviest traffic. Right of way for four-lane highways would be obtained on other sections where construction is required to provide an adequate quality of service.

Included in the north-south improvements to four-lane would be U.S. Route 65 from Chillicothe to near Branson; U.S. Route 63 from Kirksville to Rolla, and from U.S. Route 60 to West Plains; U.S. Route 61 from near Canton to St. Louis; U.S. Route 67 from Crystal City to Poplar Bluff; U.S. Route 71 from Maryville to Interstate Route 29 and from Kansas City to near Neosho; and Route 7 from Harrisonville to Warsaw.

The rest of these routes would be ultimate four-lane facilities, that is, two-lane facilities which will provide an adequate quality of service, with four-lane right-of-way purchased in areas where construction of the planned facility requires acquisition of additional right-of-way.

Four-lane improvements of east-west routes would include U.S. Route 36 from St. Joseph to Hannibal; U.S. Route 54 from U. S. Route 61 south of Hannibal to U.S. Route 65; and U.S. Route 60 from Springfield to Willow Springs and from Route 21 to Sikeston.

Also included for ultimate four-laning are:

U. S. Route 54 from U. S. Route 65 west to the Kansas line; U. S. Route 63 from West Plains to the Arkansas line; U. S. Route 60 from its junction with U. S. Route 63 north of West Plains to the intersection with Route 21; Route 72 from the U. S. Route 67 junction to Jackson; Route 8 from Interstate Route 44 to Flat River; and Routes 53, 25 and 84 from Poplar Bluff to Interstate Route 55 at Hayti.

Funds to construct U. S. 63 from Rolla to U. S. 60 near Cabool as an expressway are committed to developing this facility or the route from Rolla to U. S. 60 near Van Buren by way of Salen, whichever section indicates the greater need near the end of the plan's period.

In the St. Louis area the plan would include work on Routes 141 and HH, and the Page Avenue and Brown Road extenstions.

In the Kansas City area, work would include the Route 24 Freeway, completion of the South Midtown Freeway and a speedup on the northern segment of Interstate Route 435.

The proposed system would provide service equal to or approaching that experienced on the Interstate system.

The added cost for the average Missouri driver would be less than $22 a year, about $1.80 a month, 42 cents a week -- or 6 cents a dav.

That's The Law

State Liable for Accident

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

The night was clear but the road was dark as Herbert drove home from his vacation. And, for 12 miles, the state-maintained highway, which was several hundred feet above sea level, had been as straight as a church minister.

But then, Herbert and the highway suddenly parted company. Without warning, the road curved at an 80 degree angle and Herbert shot off into space as if he were headed for Mars. Upon landing on earth, he sued the state for his many injuries.

"The state wasn't driving his car," was the state's defense. "He was! He should have kept his eyes peeled at all times."

"If I kept them any more peeled," retorted Herbert, "I would have felt like a banana. What's more, my headlights were on and I wasn't speeding. The fact is, the state should have posted a warning that the road was going to curve. Not having done so, was pure negligence."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you hold the state liable for Herbert's voyage into space?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that a motorist is entitled to be warned that danger and sharp curves lurk in the road ahead. By not giving this notice, a state can be held liable for negligence in failing in its required duty.

School-City Swimming Pool Plans Unveiled

The board of education for the first time yesterday openly discussed the possibility of a city-school swimming pool.

The project, patterened after one in Colombia, has been under consideration several months.

Superintendent of Schools Lynn Twitty termed the project "in the investigative phase."

Board member Bob McCord along with City Manager Raymert Miller, Mayor Lee Shell, High School Principal Roger Sherman, and Bob Stearns went to Columbia last week to learn more about that city's pool.

McCord said the Columbia project was "a beautiful plant with heavy city participation." The Columbia pool cost an estimated $425,000.

The proposed Sikeston project would be a year around, enclosed, heated Olympic sized pool. During the school year the pool would be used in the physical education program and would be the scene of swimming meets for Southeast Missouri.

During the summer the pool would be open to the public.

Plans for the pool were initiaed when the public swimming pool, operated by the Jaycees, ran into financial difficulty.

Miller said the condition of the Jaycee pool makes repairs impossible.

Plans for a pool to be included in the proposed city recreational park, now under construction, were abandoned when the joint project was proposed.

"I we could have a year round pool, it would be so much better that it would warrant the additional expenditures," Miller said.

Both Miller and McCord agreed that the project could cost less than the Columbia pool.

Funds for the financing of the pool would be sought from local, state and federal agencies.

Miller said that an application would be submitted to the Missouri Outdoor Recreational Bureau for funds. A bond issue could be another avenue of financing the project, Miller added.

Miller and a member off the school staff are working on an operating and feasibility study to be presented to the school board and the city council.

Twitty told the board that disciplinary problems had arisen at the high school and a "small minority of students were unable to conform to reasonable codes of conduct."

Twitty was referring to a clash between black and white students earlier this week. The confrontation came following a fight between a black and white student.

Officials at the school said the dispute was not a major crisis and Twitty said the school "intends to provide education for students who want to come to school to learn."

The board approved a

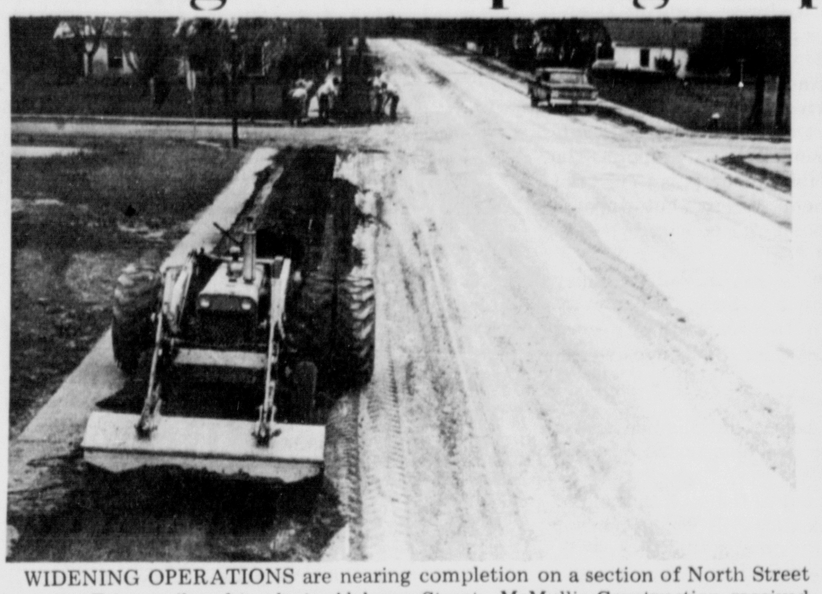
Sikeston Gets Face Lifting With Spring Improvement Projects

A 69 UNIT low income housing project is under construction west of Sunset Addition. The federally financed homes may be bought or rented when completed. Ralph Boyer Construction Company plans to complete the project in December. Sewage lines are now being laid.



WIDENING OPERATIONS are nearing completion on a section of North Street from the Frisco railroad tracks to Alabama Street. McMullin Construction received a $17,000 award on the project. Officials of the city said the improvements, to be completed within a week, will assure better surface drainage when completed.

COWAN CONSTRUCTION COMPANY will complete improvements on South Kingshighway next week between Kathleen Street and Maplewood. The street is being widened four feet with a curb being added on the west side of the street. The project cost an estimated $2,500.

Area Nursing Shortage Persists Despite Practical Training Program

Mrs. Clare Eisenbach, registered nurse at the Sikeston R-6 school nursing program, spoke on the development of the practical nurses training program since its origin in 1963 at the Kiwanis club Tuesday night at the Rustic Rock Inn.

A nominating committee chose David Bowman for vice president. The election will be held at the next meeting. A vacancy occurred when Paul Cannon resigned. The committee also chose three to fill vacancies on the board of directors. They are Russ Richards, Earl Jewell and Bob Stearns.

Program Chairman Jim Cornett presented Mrs. Eisenbach. She pointed out that in 1963 the public school system realized the need for nurses and began a practical nurse training program, with a class of 12. She then was asked by the Kennett school system to open a nursing program for it. This was followed by a program at Hayti.

The Sikeston school system opened a program to train nurses aides for the district, to give hospital patients better nursing care.

Mrs. Eisenbach commented:

"We have exhausted every possibility for nurses and still there is a shortage. In our last classes there were 45 in training yet only five remained here. Sikeston is the first school in Missouri to be nationally accredited and now has ten instructors. Over 200 have been trained here since the program started.

"A pilot program has been started for all hospital employes. All the personnel can work parttime and attend classes. The program is given for one year with 50 attending each term."

The club will have ladies night next Tuesday at the Ramada Inn.

New Sheriff Stands for Law And Order

CARUTHERSVILLE (AP) — Pemiscot County's new sheriff is Thad Shelly, a towering 6-6, Hayti farmer, who said today he plans to "quell the lawbreakers" in Southeast Missouri.

"The past several years thieving and such has been on the increase," the 46-year-old Shelly said after his election Tuesday night.

"The outcome showed the people wanted change."

Shelly replaces ex-Sheriff Clyde Orton, who was ousted from office about a month ago by the Missouri Supreme Court. The court said Orton, 49, was removed for neglect of duty involving gambling and liquor law violations. Shelly has served as acting sheriff since Orton was ousted.

Shelly quashed a bid by Orton's wife, Hazel, to win the Sheriff's job.

Unofficial, final returns gave Shelly 1,920 votes to Mrs. Orton's 1,625, a 295 vote difference.

Shelly said he was pleased by the large voter turnout Tuesday. "They placed their confidence in me to continue in this office," he said.

More than 5,400 of the county's 9,000 registered voters cast ballots. The county has a population of about 24,000.

Shelly said he would make some adjustments in the sheriff's office, including adding one more deputy to his staff of two men.

"I'll do my best to make this a good, clean county," he said.

Six other candidates ran far behind Shelly and Mrs. Orton. They were former Deputies Charles A. Farris, 883 votes, Neely Mitchell, 413, and Richard Pankey, 147, Gail Davidson, 313, Clyde Manley, 194; and Bob White 56.

The ousted sheriff, a Demorat, filed as a candidate in the special election but the court ruled his name kept off the ballot.

Matthews Maps War on Canines

MATTHEWS— Mayor Harold Burch said Tuesday that he has requested citizens of Matthews to report to City Marshal Pete Burch when they have seen or caught stray dogs.

"If the marshal is called, he can run them (dogs) off," Burch saud.

He said "apparently some people have brought the dogs into town and just dumped them" and that "they are running in packs scaring women and kids".

Burch said all dogs must be vaccinated and have collar tags.

"Any dog found without a collar will be eliminated," he said.

Burch said that residents of Matthews are requested to have their dogs on a leash between May 15 and June 1.

"Any dog found loose during that time will be eliminated," he said.

Horse Betting Edges Closer to Public Vote

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee has nudged pari-mutuel betting on horse racing closer to a vote of the people.

The constitutional change, familiar to every legislative session for years, got some revisions from the resolution passed by the House earlier, and was approved by the committee on a 7-3 vote late Tuesday.

The House version included games of chance to give religious, civic and fraternal groups authority to conduct bingo, lottery and other minor money games. The Senate committee feared such a provision would open the state to Las Vegas-type gambling and cut it out. It also omitted dog racing.

A section to provide for legalizing a state-operated lottery was accepted.

Charleston Levy Remains Same

By SHIRLEY PRITCHETT

CHARLESTON — City Manager Richard Martin presented the proposed budget for the fiscal year, which began May 1, to the city council last night.

Proposed expenditures for 1971-72 are $415,045, a $63,230 increase, income is estimated at $412,944.80.

The 1970-71 budget was $351,814.92 and $391,161,31 income.

The council reviewed and adopted the budget and an ordinance setting a tax levy at $1.40 per $100 per assessed valuation, the same rate as last year.

Halter & Brothers Construction Co., Charleston, was awarded the contract for construction of a concession stand in the Benny Hillhouse Memorial Park. The 20 feet by 20 feet building will be erected on a concrete slab and constructed of concrete blocks with a stone veneer facing. The building will house public rest rooms and storage area for recreation equipment as well as concession facilities.

The $4,100 project is part of the city's park improvement program made possible through a $13,750 matching fund grant from the Inter-Agency for Outdoor Recreation, Jefferson City.

Manager Martin reported the county court will assist the city in maintaining the city dump by supplying manpower to push the dump back or financial help when needed.

Martin reported the dump is in good condition but work will have to be done in August.

Street paving program for 1971 was approved listing portions of West Byrd, North Sixth, Gilmore, 13 streets and Charleston Avenue.

An application from Galin Ferrell to establish a mobile home park on four blocks at the north end of Johnson street was approved providing the city's mobile home ordinance is followed. Martin said Ferrell plans to buy and raze two remaining houses on the property and would put in six trailers, no more than 10, in the 45,000-square - feet area.

Mayor Sam Story, councilmen Charles Williams, Dr. Lowell Nicholas, R. Wyman Beasley, and Manager Martin will attend the Missouri Municipal League meeting Friday in Sikeston and will name an outstanding citizen to receive a citation.

The council approved salary increases for city employes as set out in the budget. The increases ranged up to six per cent.

ARMED FORCES DAY

Saturday, May 15, is Armed Forces Day. No matter how we may regard the military service, we cannot disregard the fact that there are nearly three million young Americans who are in it. They are there because their fellow countrymen passed the laws requiring them to serve. Apart from our colleges, these young men and women make up the largest concentration of young adults in the nation.

They are doing a difficult job, and a job that has become increasingly unpopular. We all agreed that it was right a generation ago to fight the Nazis but when we started fighting Communists in Korea and Vietnam, a lot of people, particularly in the media, had mixed feelings.

America is not the leader of the Free World because we volunteered for it. The job was thurst upon us by historical events. All over the United States, in dozens of foreign countries, on the oceans of the world, your young men and women are serving. More than 50,000 have lost their lives in recent years. Countless thousands more have suffered injuries. The loneliness and danger, the hardships and temptations they must live with are difficult to visualize.

We pray for the day when our military might will no longer be such a necessity. We work and hope for the time when we will have an honorable ceasefire in South Vietnam, as we have had for 18 years in South Korea. Meanwhile, we reach out in spirit and understanding to our young servicemen who must bear our nation's burden.

"Can driving over broken bottles solve an ecological problem?" The Marathon Oil Company reports that, "A 600 foot strip of roadway at the University of Missouri's Rolla campus might provide a positive answer to that question. The roadway, heavily traveled by students, faculty and visitors, has been surfaced with 180 tons of crushed glass. Of course, the glass has been mixed with asphalt so tire dealers in the vicinity shouldn't hope for a sudden sales bonanza. The experiment may offer one way to dispose of the waste glass that has become a national plague. About 720,000 old bottles and jars took the place of the gravel and stone usually mixed with paving asphalt. Researchers will test the resulting product, called glasphalt, for skid resistance and durability. Glasphalt may someday pave the nation's roads while helping to solve the important problem of glass disposal."

THERE'S NOBODY

Christopher News Notes tells about the French poet Jean Cocteau who found out early in life why diversity is better than uniformity.

As a young man, Cocteau was designing a stage set which required a tree as background. He spent night after night in the theater basement cutting out individual leaves for his creation.

Then a wealthy friend, whose father owned a factory, approached him with another idea.

"Give me the design of the leaf," he said, "and in three days you will have thousands of them here."

After his friend's return, they pasted the multitude of identical leaves onto the branches.

The result, Cocteau recalled, was "the most boring package of flat, uninteresting forms one can see."

At last he understood "why God has made each leaf of a tree and each man in the world different from any other."

The God who refused to "mass produce" His handiwork in nature could hardly be expected to cut corners when it came to creating man. Each of us is unique, special, unrepeatable.

Each person has strengths and weaknesses, insights and experiences -- a mission in life -- that are his or hers alone.

Learning to accept our individuality, to build on it and to act through it can be a major step toward living a fuller life and making our contribution to a world in danger of becoming a wasteland of uniformity.

CAMPAIGN GM II

The business of America is -- what? What's good for General Motors is good for -- whom? Not so long ago, these were easy questions to answer. Today, even the board chairman of GM would think twice before venturing a reply. Businessmen everywhere are under pressure to hire minority-group members, produce high-quality products at low cost, protect the environment, and at the same time turn a healthy profit. General Motors, as the country's largest corporation (in terms of sales), so far has borne the brunt of the many-pronged attack.

At its 1970 annual meeting, GM easily turned back two proposals of the Project on Corporate Responsibility -- to add representatives of consumers, environmental, and minority groups to the board, and to form a committee on corporate responsibility. But in a larger sense, the so-called Campaign GM scored a resounding victory. As Business Week points out (May 1, 1971), the Ralph Nader-led campaign "generated widespread discussion, gained considerable university and foundation sympathy (though few votes) and helped build pressure that led GM to appoint a black director, a board-level committee on public responsibility, and a group of scientists to advise it on environmental matters."

Now comes Campaign GM II, pointing toward the corporations's 1971 annual meeting in Detroit on Friday, May 21. This year it asks that (1) shareholder nominations of board members be included in the proxy statement; (2) the corporation report annually on pollution control, minority hiring, and auto safety; (3) GM employees, customers and dealers be permitted to nominate board candidates. GM and the banking community were stunned when the First Pennsylvania Banking and Trust Co., largest financial institution in Philadelphia, announced last month that it would vote its 300,000 shares for the annual-report proposal. The defection of such an Establishment pillar may not spark a revolution at General Motors, but it could hasten evolution of the corporation's policies.

Insects have a way of bugging drivers into having traffic accidents.

The Missouri Highway Patrol today noted that there have been many instances in the past where a traffic accident was the result of a driver trying to kill an insect such as a wasp that had entered his moving vehicle. The driver would take his eyes off the road and remove one or both hands from the steering wheel in order to strike the insect. All too often, the Patrol reports, the driver would lose control of his vehicle and end up either completely off the road or in front of an oncoming vehicle.

"Fighting an insect while your car is in motion is not very prudent," Colonel E. I. (Mike) Hockaday, the Superintendent of the Highway Patrol, stated. "The safest and surest thing to do when you are faced with a wasp or any other type of insect inside your car is to gradually pull over to the side of the road and stop. Once you are completely stopped, you can discreetly rid your vehicle of the insect."

Colonel Hockaday also urged drivers to keep their windshields clean of insects. He noted that it is difficult to see out of a windshield that is splattered with insects. Drivers should have these insects removed from their windshields at the first opportunity.

"Insects have a definite place in the nature of things," the Colonel continued. "Once in awhile, however, they get out of place by wandering into a vehicle. This situation calls for drivers to keep calm and to follow a prudent course of action to avoid an accident."

POTENTIAL HEART ATTACK VICTIMS CAN BECOME HAPPY CENTENARIANS

While these findings are for executives, coming from the Executive Health and Fitness Guide, the rules for a happy and healthy life to 100, apply to almost everyone.

The greatest danger to the middle-aged, says the Guide, is not overwork, but a big lunch, a flabby stomach and a hot temper. By avoiding these, the Guide says there is no reason why a person cannot live to 100.

It reports that the danger years are between 50 and 70 and the man who survives these years without acquiring a chronic disease such as cancer, heart disease, stroke or diabetes, is likely to live on another quarter of a century in good health.

Some of their rules:

1. Tell your doctor everything and have him help you plan a suitable health program.

2. Keep working. One study of the 20 per cent of Americans over age 95, between 1951 and 1953, found none of them idle.

3. If you are planning to retire, hunt another job. Long life depends on keeping busy.

4. Eat what you want, subject to the doctor's orders, but eat lightly. Some studies of persons living to 100 showed they avoided second helpings as a matter off course.

5. Stay slim. Insurance company studies show persons living longest are 15 to 20 pounds below ideal weights shown on charts.

6. Don't be deceived if your scale shows you are at an average weight. You may have been trading muscle for fat over the years.

7. Stop smoking. A heavy smoker runs three times the risk of heart attack and 20 times the risk of lung cancer as compared with a non-smoker.

8. Get at least an hour of exercise daily. A business man has as great a chance of dying of a heart attack as a man whose job involves physical labor.

9. Don't rely on the "executive" standby, the golf game, to keep you fit. Golf is too easy. It doesn't burn enough calories.

10. Walk whenever you can. If there is one constant habit you can count on showing up in the histories of persons who live to 90 or 100, it's the habit of walking. Many walk an hour or more a day.

11. Keep your temper. Stress from emotional upsets can result in coronary and heart trouble. The habit of a calm mind and controlled reaction to frustration can be cultivated. Losing your temper is a habit like any other.

12. Take time out to fish and think. Even if you never get near a fishing rod, the habit of unhurried meditation should be developed. It helps develop a relaxed attitude toward problems and gives you the clarity of mind to solve them.

TOO MANY 'OARS' IN LAKE ERIE

Like the marsh - dwelling Hydra which Hercules slew, pollution solution for Lake Erie keeps growing new heads.

So many, in fact, that two directors in Ohio's Department of Natural Resources have called for less study and more action. Bounded by four states (New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Ohio) and the Canadian province of Ontario, polluted but definitely not-dead Lake Erie is now being studied by:

Six international agencies and organizations, 16 Canadian federal agencies, Ontario, all four states and numerous private groups.

A SUPERHUMAN JOB

A devastating answer to claims that the medical profession overcharges under Medicaid has come from a Kentucky physician. "During 1968", says this doctor, "I received $81,726.63 in Medicaid payments in Kentucky ... In 1969, I received $106,112.06 from the same program." What did the taxpayers get from this doctor for the seemingly large sum?

This performance has been close to superhuman. He says, "During 1968, I employed 13 nursing assistants and purchased the part -time help of 11 moonlighting resident physicians from a university hospital. I have office hours from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m., seven days a week, including Sundays and all holidays. I saw 117 patients on Thanksgiving Day in 1969 ... my small clinic maintains a 24-hour emergency call service and any injured or seriously ill patients can be seen in sixty seconds after he is brought in the emergency room." This physician's total patient load for 1968 was 50,744 patients. He delivered 408 babies. In 1969, the figures were 49,209 patients and 399 babies. He sees every sick man who walks in the door. His usual bed time is 2 a.m. Patients come to him, not because they have a medical card, but in many instances because no other physician is available.

This doctor's overhead in 1968 was more than $123,000. In 1969, it was $150,000. The Medicaid p ments he receives help sub. ize free indigent care to others who come under no government program. He lost $36,000 in 1968 on his private patient accounts. Is this the kind of man the bureaucrats now propose subjecting to a "wage freeze"?

H.L. Hunt Says

THE GREAT PROTEST

The massive protest hordes who struck Washington, D.C., and violated the law with disturbances have caused Chief of Police Jerry V. Wilson to make a protest himself. He has complained with great justification that $10 just isn't enough for a disturbing the peace fine.

The embattled police chief asked a panel of judges to boost the fine to $50. A $50 fine would be low enough, but it might put a little steel into the Administration's pledge that the government will not be intimidated. Intimidation was one of the goals of those participating in the "anti-war" protests. They threatened to shut down the vital functions of the national government.

Some of the "protesters" not only want the war against the Communists ended, they also demand new "social legislation" that would include a $6,500 minimum annual income. That would come, of course, out of the taxpayers' pocket.

Protest is one thing, but stalling or closing down the vital functions of government is another. Many demonstrators have jobs back home and families to take care of but the attraction of "protesting" proved too much. All of this gives Congress and the administration the jitters and Chief Wilson a headache. The chief says his headaches often come in pairs as he has had to arrest many offenders more than one time.

One Washington, D.C., judge was reported to have applied the maximum fine to the first of the mobs he encountered, but later returned, with others, to the minimum $10. Although the protesters failed in their attempts to shut down the government action, they did succeed in causing vast amounts of destruction for which taxpayers will foot the bill. The fair judgment would have been for the demonstrators' fines to cover the property damage in our capital. HLH.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The cigar industry claims that 100,000 U.S. women now smoke cigars. This mass feminine invasion will depress rather than cheer veteran male stogie puffers who have held all along that cigars are much too good to be wasted on women.

How do you receive your impressions of the world around you? Some scientists estimate that one per cent come by taste, 1½ by touch, 3½ per cent by smell, seven by hearing and 87 by sight.

Fishy facts: A shark has no bones, jellyfish have no teeth, the sea lily is an animal, and a sailfish can go faster than any manmade sailboat—up to 68 miles an hour.

America's problem with alcohol isn't getting any smaller. Of the 85 million who drink some form of alcoholic beverage, four million are classified as addicts and five million more get into some form of trouble periodically because of their taste for the cup that is supposed to cheer.

Quotable notables: 'God is now thought to be on the side not of the strongest artillery, but of the most powerful loudspeaker."—Barbara Bode.

Prosperity note: The U.S. House Appropriations Committee has figured out that the interest alone on the national debt costs taxpayers $39,000 a minute.

Household hints: Does your wife get annoyed by the task of cleaning food graters and paring knives? Win her undying regard by telling her to use a toothbrush for these chores.

"Well, they asked for it: A questionnaire filled in by tourists at Meramec Caverns in Missouri revealed that the formation they wanted most to see was—the toilet.

One way to save: If, instead of buying a pack of cigarettes a day, a 15-year-old youth put the money into a bank and kept the habit up until he retired, his savings plus the accumulated interest would give him a tidy nest egg of nearly $20,000.

Worth remembering: "You can tell a child is growing up when he stops asking where he came from and starts refusing to tell you where he is going."

It was Josh Billings who observed, "The best condition in life is not to be so rich as to be envied nor so poor as to be damned."

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON--Late last year, we decided to turn the tables on J. Edgar Hoover, who for 47 years has been running investigations of others. We, therefore, began an FBI-style investigation of the FBI chief.

This attracted considerable attention in the nation's newspapers and magazines. The ABC network showed a film of my reporter, Charles Elliott, rummaging through Hoover's trash. Our discovery of rich dinner menus and empty Gelusil cartons, leading us to conclude that the great crime fighter suffers from gas pains, was widely publicized.

But our investigation has uncovered facts far more newsworthy than Hoover's indigestion.

We found that the durable old G-man and his faithful companion Clyde Tolson, both bachelors, both now in their 70's, vacationed together each summer at LaJolla, Calif., where Hoover liked to attend the races.

They stayed in $100-a-day suites at the Hotel Del Charro near the Del Mar track. The FBI pair never paid their bills which were picked up by Texas oil millionaire Clint Murchison, the hotel owner.

The former hotel manager, Alan Witwer, told us, while he was there Hoover ran up a total tab of over $15,000 picked up by Murchison. A typical thank-you letter, signed "Edgar," said:

"It is always hard to leave one's friends after such an enjoyable stay as Clyde and I have had these past few weeks...We appreciated the superb accomodations and your many contributions toward our comfort and enjoyment of this trip."

--HOOVER'S LIMOUSINES--

Our investigations also produced the startling fact that the taxpayers provide Hoover with five bulletproof limousines, three more than are available to the President.

Two of Hoover's limousines are kept in Washington, the other three in Los Angeles, Miami and New York City. Annual costs: more than $50,000 a year. A check of the mileage run up by the five cars will show they have been held largely for Hoover's exclusive use.

We found, too, that Hoover had circumvented the law to keep his ailing sidekick in the FBI. Tolson, having reached the mandatory retirement age of 70, needed a presidential waiver to remain on active duty. But he had suffered a series of minor strokes and had undergone delicate aortal surgery. He could never have passed the physical, which is required for a presidential waiver.

Hoover got around the law by retiring his old friend, then bringing him back. The FBI chief used a legal provision which allows the employment of retired personnel temporarily to complete a project they were working on at the time of their mandatory retirement.

But most serious of all, Hoover used FBI personnel to research and write three books, which have brought him over $250,000 in royalties. The books were produced, in other words, at the taxpayers' expense. But royalty checks were made out to Hoover personally.

J. Edgar Hoover has built the FBI into a law enforcement agency with a reputation unmatched anywhere in the world. It is also a tribute to Hoover and the FBI that they are denounced with equal ferocity by the extremists of the left and right.

But our investigation has uncovered conduct that is curious, indeed, for the man who has become symbolic of the fight against evil doers. It is past time for the indomitable old man to retire. The FBI will survive quite well, since he has given it a firm foundation.

Fireworks Smuggling--Mafia fireworks hustlers are scheming to sneak high-powered Singapore firecrackers past Customs inspectors in time for July 4. Probably entry port will be Los Angeles or Baltimore. In the past, the Mafia fireworks men have joked about the ease with which they slipped contraband fireworks past the supposedly keen-eyed Customs men. They avoided high duties by labeling their fireworks "Container made in U.S., " thus cuttind down the Customs assessment. A schoolboy could have opened the cones and tubes and found the containers were made from old Hong Kong newspapers.

Land Barons--The Bureau of Reclamation tried valiantly to get the Justice Department to appeal a court decision favoring the land barons and undercutting small family farms in California's Imperial Valley. But the Bureau was turned down after big GOP contributors took their case directly to Justice.

Political Payoff--N. W. Ayer and Son, the ad agency whose subsidiary produced those savage smear ads against eight liberal Democratic Senators on the eve of the 1970 election, has been awarded the $10.6 million contract to produce the Army's controversial recruiting commercials. The nonpartisan Fair Campaign Practices Committee awarded the Ayer political ads "worst place" for the 1970 campaign.

GI Addicts--We have had access to three Pentagon reports on drug addiction among servicemen in Vietnam. Taken together, these reports indicate at least 15,000 heroin addicts will soon return to the U.S. where, almost certainly, they will be compelled to take up crime to finance their habit.

Advice Given to Young Mother Who Loses Baby

Dear Ann Landers: On occasion you print letters suggesting Do's and Don'ts from people who know the score. Here is a letter which might be of help when you visit a young mother who has lost a baby at birth.

1. DON'T say: "Get pregnant again as soon as you regain your strength." She might not want or be able to get pregnant right away and perhaps she should not do so for medical reasons.

2. DON'T say: "Adopt a baby." I am a social worker and I know that no reputable agency will let a couple adopt a baby just to replace one that died.

3. DON'T play doctor and tell a woman what went wrong or what should have been done to save the baby. You cannot possibly know any of these things.

4. DON'T pass up the opportunity to do something constructive-- such as bring a little gift to the other children when you go to call. Remember they are probably disappointed because the promised baby was not brought home.

5. When you visit a woman who has just lost a baby, don't ask questions. Let her lead the conversation. She might want to talk endlessly about her grief--and she might want to talk about everything else but. Real friends understand.---Sally.

Dear Sally: I learn from my readers every day. Thanks for some practical pointers.

Dear Ann Landers: I was married a couple of weeks ago in the apartment of a girl I work with. It was a very small wedding, only 22 people present including the minister. Through some mixup my parents were not invited.

My mother always promised that when I got married she would give me my grandmother's dishes. My parents are not well-to-do but my grandparents were quite rich when they lived in Hungary. I need dishes very badly and would like it very much if my mother would keep her promise.

She is quite cool to me and I want to know what is the best way to remind her.---Bride Without Dishes.

Dear Bride: The casual manner in which you state that your parents were not invited to your wedding due to "some mixup" is interesting indeed. How mixed up can a girl get?

My advice is to buy dishes -- whatever you can afford. Your mother will probably give you the china at a later date -- after she has recovered from a devastating blow. It might take years.

Dear Ann Landers: I read in a recent column that the last breath of fresh air in the United States disappeared three weeks ago--and it was in Flagstaff, Arizona. I have some news for you, Ann.

Maybe Flagstaff, Arizona is out of fresh air but we still have plenty of it here in Thermopolis, Wyoming. In fact, we have the cleanest, freshest air and the bluest sky in the United States. There's no pollution here. Our sunrises and sunsets are spectacular.

If you don't believe me, please come and see for yourself. It's beyond description.---A Lady Who Lives In Thermopolis And Loves It.

Dear Lady: I just checked the map and I see that Thermopolis is located in north central Wyoming--a two hour drive from National Yellowstone Park, via U.S. 20 and WYO 120. I'm packing.

Too many couples go from matrimony to acrimony. Don't let your marriage flop before it gets started. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage--What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Function of Pill Hard to Explain

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Concerning contraceptives, women ask two main questions—does it work? Is it safe?

Scientists ask the same questions and add another—how and why does it work?—in order to produce more effective and safer birth control measures.

Today, scientists have a prime mystery trying to explain the mechanism of action of one highly effective contraceptive—the IUD or intrauterine device.

The IUD is a small piece of plastic or metal shaped like a coil, an S, or other geometric pattern. Inserted, painlessly, into the uterus it somehow prevents a woman's fertilized egg from becoming implanted in the lining or endometrium of the uterus or womb.

While the pill is 100 per cent effective if taken as directed, the IUD can be accidentally expelled, and is not so absolute a contraceptive as the pill. But, once inserted successfully, it is safer physiologically since it is inert, while hormones in the pill may act upon a variety of body tissues as well as preventing conception.

The IUD does work well, however, especially a new one containing tiny amounts of copper.

But no one really knows why, says Dr. Egon Diczfalusy, director of the Reproductive Endocrinology Research Unit at the Karolinska Hospital here, and a scientist world renowned for research in human reproductive physiology.

One current research project, involving healthy young volunteers, is to learn exactly what changes occur in the endometrium during the full menstrual cycle in women using a copper IUD, or using one type of contraceptive pill, compared with women not using either method.

Biopsies, or tissue specimens, are taken at intervals from the endometrium of the volunteers. They receive a nominal payment for their participation. All are attending the outpatient clinic of the Department of Women's Diseases, Karolinska Hospital, or that of the Swedish Association for Sex Education, the Swedish national equivalent of the Planned Parenthood Federation in the United States.

"With their help, we are now able to obtain 300 to 400 biopsies a year," Diczfalusy said in a recent interview.

One technique, using a small nylon brush, permits the taking of intact, isolated single cells of the endometrium, for analysis of changes in their content of DNA and RNA—component chemicals of the genetic code of life—and glycogen or sugar, and enzymes, the controllers of biochemical reactions.

Endometrial tissues also is being assayed for changes during the cycle in content of trace elements of copper, zinc, manganese, sodium and other metals.

Classic 40's Shown in Blazer

NEW YORK (AP) — The year of the blazer has arrived in fashion. Classic sportswear with a 40s flavor is back.

After the midi hassle last fall and a group grope for the public pulse in spring clothes, designers have chosen a "new" classic look for fall. This spring, designers added "little dresses" to their collections to meet the growing need for wearable clothes, unadorned by nervous ruffles.

However, designer Bill Blass feels the little dress movement isn't "that important," although "they all thought the little dress would make a big comeback," he says.

Sportswear is the big thing. Blass will soon present his own new sportswear line, Blassport.

"This is the moment for that kind of sportswear. I don't think it would have worked at all a year ago," says Blass.

"I don't intend to shock or cause gasps," he says of his couture collection. He will give his customers beautiful colors, wearable clothes with "staying power," including an important suit look,

"Wearable, a year ago, would have been a dirty word," he says, adding that his clothes are "more classic" this fall.

Oscar de la Renta is another designer who is quieting down a bit. His new sportswear collection, Something!, is full of tailored blazers, pants at all lengths and men's ties worn with matching print shirts.

Included were some clear bright colored suedes pants and jackets—and patchwork velvet hot pants for evening.

Clear, clean tones will be good this year, particularly in the purple family. Frank Masandrea for Modelia and Victor Joris are both going into livelier colors. Both have shortened coat lengths to just below the knee.

Frank Smith

Cadet Smith A Finalists

MEXICO — Cadet Frank Smith of Sikeston is one of the eight finalists in Missouri Military Academy's 39th annual W. Wallace Fry public speaking contest May 28.

The contest marks the first activity in the academy's commencement weekend with school ending May 30.

The eight finalists are survivors of a semi-final round conducted recently. Cadets give their initial speeches before their English classes. They advance to the semifinal on recommendation of their English teacher.

The semifinalists are then judged by a board consisting of all English teachers. The final judging May 28 will be done by a board from outside the Academy.

Besides the traditional W. Wallace Fry Cup presentation, the Winston Churchill Memorial Award will be made for the second year. This award, sponsored by Westminster College of Fulton, goes to the cadet whose speech best reflects the ideals of Winston Churchill.

Cadet Smith will speak on "False Advertising."

Blind Teacher Applauded

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — When Carla Franklin announced that classes were dismissed for the semester, the fifth-graders resonded with a round of applause.

They were cheering a 22year-old woman, blind since birth, who had been their student teacher since January.

"I'm going to miss them so terribly," Mrs. Franklin said Friday as she collected her books from Field Elementary Schoo!. "They treated me just like any other teacher."

Mrs. Franklin, who taught math, music and some language arts to the 33 youngsters, admitted she "could have have been a real liability. I could have been a blob sitting in the back of the classroom."

But Mrs. Franklin did the job so well she earned an "A" in the student teachers course at the Louisville school and an informal rating of "terrific" from her supervisor, Mrs. Elinor Tasch.

By the end of her first day at school, Mrs. Franklin had matched up all students' voices and names.

Stroup Goes To Retreat

Miss Judy Stroup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom B. Stroup, Benton, was one of 50 campus leaders at the University of Missouri chosen to attend a university-wide leadership retreat held last weekend May 7-9 at Jefferson City.

The retreat was sponsored by the Office of Student Life for the purpose of discussing campus problems and finding ways to improve student life and involve more students in decision-making processes in student government. Miss Stroup was recently chosen as Director of Personnel for Student Activities Board. Student Activities Board directs the work of fifteen committees which bring broadway plays, popular concerts, minority programs, speakers, films, exhibits, Carousal nightclub, and Homecoming to campus. SA this year has a budget of approximately . $90,000 of student money, from which these programs are financed.

Representatives of other organizations included officers of Missouri Students Association, Association of Women Students, Independent Residence Hall Association, Everyday People, and divisional governments.

Also in attendance were faculty and deans from various departments of the University.

Chinese Women Without Props

TOKYO (AP) — Deprived of the props so dear to feminine hearts, the women of China nevertheless continue to be among the loveliest anywhere.

Gone are the tight-fitting silk cheong-sam skirts with their provocative slits up the thigh. Gone are the lipstick, rouge, eyebrow pencil, hair curlers and fingernail polish without which most women would feel naked.

Nakedness is not a problem for the women of the People's Republic: They are amply covered in jackets and trousers not so much different from those worn by their menfolk.

During my visit to Shanghai, Peking and Canton, I saw no skirts at all.

There are no boutiques to d display a fashion which never changes: no beauty parlors to style the hair. Women's hair styles in China are simply and easily attended to by the ordinary barber. They come in three kinds: the revolutionary bob, twin pigtails braided and held together by bits of wool yarn, or the bun at the back favored by older women.

I saw no earrings, bracelets, expensive rings or necklaces on China's women, except the very old and the very young. Old ladies, who look like the dignified matrons of the Sung dynasty statues, wore cherished brooches, combs or ear rings in pierced ears, Children, too, were gay with tassels and bells on their caps, bracelets on their chubby wrists and outfits of red, blue and green.

The Chinese permit these extremes only at the beginning and near the end of life. The rest of the population—men and women alike—are studies in blue or brown, with an occasional dash of white or black thrown in.

Gone, too, are the high heels of yesteryear; sensible, flat sandals, sneakers or cloth shoes, all eminently suitable for work in factory or field, have taken their place.

Though the fashions of Paris, London or New York mean little to Chinese women, some of them are aware of the world of haute couture. They are the women engaged in turning out Western style dresses, coats, furs, hats and accessories for export. Their handiwork is on display at the Canton Trade Fair twice a year.

A comparative handful of women get a chance to see the real thing as delegations from many countries troop through Peking, Shanghai and Canton. On the U.S. table tennis team's trip they saw players in hippie garb and girls in minis and midis. What they thought of them was not recorded.

Bound feet—the "lily feet" of the past, acquired through painful binding and sometimes accelerated by the use of ground glass—are no more.

Despite the absence of artifice, beauty survives on its own. Life in the open may not do much for the fingernails, but it has brought a bloom to young cheeks as convincing as rouge. And the girls and women still have the poise, the personality and the charm which have long set Chinese women apart.

Their lot in other ways has improved under the new order. They are guaranteed full equality with men, and Chinese law says: "The state protects marriage, the family and the mother and child."

From age 18 they are entitled to the vote.

Essex Man Outstanding English Scholar

BLOOMFIELD--An Essex student, Herman E. Morse of Route Two, has been voted the outstanding graduating English major for the current school year at Southeast Missouri State College, Dr. Henry Sessoms, head of the department has announced.

Dr. Sessoms said the selection of Morse was by vote of the English faculty. Eligible students included English majors graduating this year with at least an overall B average.

The honored student accompanied Dr. Sessoms and several other members of the English faculty to the spring meeting Saturday (April 24) of the Missouri Association of Teachers of English at Rolla.

Morse, a Bloomfield High School graduate, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Morse of Essex. He will enter the Air Force after his graduation magna cum laude from Southeast Missouri State on May 30 and will probably be assigned to attend a language school to study Russian.

After service in the Air Force, Morse plans to do graduate work in English and eventually to teach at the college level.

At Southeast Missouri State Morse is a member of Sigma Tau Delta, English honor fraternity, and Phi Mu Alpha, professional music fraternity. He was a member of the college band for two years.

Dear Sir

I was one of the group who went to Jefferson City to oppose the Legalized Abortion Bill.

I wrote to the Baptist Minister who opposed the bill and asked for his speech. He sent me several copies with permission that it may be printed in our local paper. But he would like a copy of the paper.

We would like for it to be put in your paper and would you please send him a copy of the paper.

Thank you very meuh.

Yours truly

THOU SHALT NOT KILL!!
(Opposition to House Bill 650)

The principle characteristic of the tyrant state is that in effect it wages perpetual war against its own people. This is particularly evident in the history of Czechoslovakia and Germany. We can see it today in our own country. The mark which characterizes the destruction of a nation is that it holds human life to be more a burden than God's blessing. A nation that makes a crusade out of reducing its birth rate at any cost will ultimately reap the dividends of internal strife, rebellion, unconcern, anarchy, permissiveness, insurrection and criminal attitudes of the people.

Life is everywhere regarded as a gift of God. Therefore, we must assume that He alone has the right to interfer with it or take it away. Life is given for the express purpose of promoting the Creator's glory and fulfilling those duties which He has laid down. To injure or destroy life, therefore, is to make it fall short of its original purpose. The unborn fetus inside the mother's womb is not something impersonal and undesired as a tumor growth or malignancy, but is human life. Someone has aptly said, "not only a potential life, but a life with potential." We have a moral and religious obligation to protect his or her life. Who will defend their case? The Constitution gives every individual the assurance of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. Neither can be achieved if that life that has begun is murdered because of an individuals whim or desire. I would like to give some reasons why I am opposed to "Legal Abortion on Demand," introduced in House Bill 650.

First, the fetus, or baby, is a living human being from conception; and has his or her right to the Constitution's protection. Secondly, there are very few reasons a baby is a danger to its mother's life. Quoted in the Linacre Quarterly, Dr. Roy S. Hefferman, of Tufts University at the Congress of the American College, said, "Anyone who performs a therapeutic abortion is either ignorant of modern methods of treating complications in pregnancy or is unwilling to take the time to use them." Also, Dr. Joseph P. Donally, former medical director of the Margaret Hague Hospital in New Jersey said, "Abortion is never necessary to save the life of the mother. There were 115,000 deliveries in this maternity hospital from 1947-1961 during which time no abortions were performed." Thirdly, there are some who say unwanted pregnancies cause suicide tendencies. Dr. Milton Halpern, Chief Medical Examiner for New York City, states he cannot recall an autopsy on a death by suicide during the years 1950-1956. His conclusion was, "We have no record of any woman known to be pregnant having committed suicide." Statistics in England have verified that there are fewer suicides among pregnant women than non-pregnant women. Last, even if a girl is raped, does that give mankind, the medical doctor, the psychiatrist or anyone else the right to commit murder? Two wrongs never have made a right and never will.

The methods used by doctors are in themselves murderous. The three commonly used are: One, the suction method in which the suction apparatus is inserted and the fetus is sucked out into a bottle; two, the curretage method in which a sharp instrument is inserted into the womb and the baby is cut into small pieces and spooned out piece by piece; three, the saline injection which involves giving a local anesthetic and a needle is placed through the abdomen and into the uterus. Some of the fluid is withdrawn and a salt solution is injected to kill the fetus and start labor. There has been cases of live births despite the intent to kill. Disposal has become a major problem. It has been said that "one was choked", another was "dropped in a hospital basket to expire", another "dropped in water'. and still another had a "wet towel placed over its face". Then comes the problem of the remains. The favored method-- incineration. Yes, the methods of abortion are indeed murderous.

The Declaration of Independence and the 14th Amendment of the Constitution read, "all men are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights--life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; "and " no state shall make or enforce any law which will deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law." To destroy the unborn fetus is to destroy a human life. Those who favor abortion would have us believe that an unborn baby is not human. My question is, "what is it?" The eighth day of pregnancy the sex of the child is certain; the tenth day the first veins have developed; the fourteenth day the mouth is developed; the twenty-first day the heart is beating; the fifty-sixth day all organs are present; the sixty-second day the hair and eyebrows are present; the sixty-fourth day the eyes are developed. The Medical WorldNews, in a pictorial article of March 15, 1968 entitled, "Closeup of Human Life Before Birth", says, "all body systems in the 2 and a half inch fetus are now working." To allow, or to perform an abortion is nothing short of murder. The Bible gives us the command, "Thou shalt not kill" (Exodus 20:13). Some of our educators, psychologists and legislators will answer for murder at the judgment bar of God. They shall hear, as the voices of the 130,000 murdered babies of New York City, echo across the corridors of time and the chambers of justice, "Thou shalt not kill!! Thou shalt not kill!! Thou shalt not kill!! Thou shalt not kill!!!

Counseling Offered in Summer

POPLAR BLUFF, -- Students who will need remedial instruction to qualify for admission to Three Rivers Junior College in the fall semester were urged by Jack D. Vincent, vice president and dean of the college, to register for the special instruction and counseling in the summer session.

Rules for admission of high school graduates have been changed, he pointed out. Those who rank in the lower 20 per cent of their graduating class and below the twentieth percentile in the Ohio Psychological Examination or another recognized college admissions test must begin their program at TRJC in either the summer or spring sessions if they intend to enroll in the Academic Division.

Two daily classes in Remedial English and one daily class in College Reading are being offered this summer for high school graduates who need or desire such courses to help them with their other studies.

Those who are in the group whose initial enrollment is restricted to the summer or spring sessions may enroll in the fall session if they complete successfully the remedial courses in the summer session.

Bell City Names Scholars

BELL CITY—Joan Hoosier has been named valedictorian and Vivian Kay Hankins salutatorian of the 1971 high school graduating class.

Miss Hoosier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hoosier, route one, was a cheerleader for two years, a member of the marching and concert band for one year, Future Homemakers of America for three years and secretary of the organization one year.

She was a student council member two years, Beta club member three years serving as president her senior year, pep club member three years, a staff member of the Cub's Den student newspaper two years and editor her senior year.

She was chosen Miss Freshman and Miss Bell City attendant her freshman and senior years and chosen Prom Queen candidate this year and is currently Bellmo Queen.

She has received the Daughters of the American Revolution good citizenship award, the journalism award, social studies award, and English award, and was selected a 1971 Outstanding Teenager of America and to the Society of Outstanding American High School Students.

She served as class president her sophomore year and secretary-treasurer her senior year.

In the senior personalities, she was elected best leader and most likely to succeed.

Miss Hoosier plans to attend Southeast Missouri State College, Cape Girardeau, this summer and enter the school of nursing in the fall.

Miss Hankins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Hankins, was a member of the Beta Club, Future Homemakers of America, and pep club three years.

She was Future Homemakers of America candidate, Class Sweetheart candidate, and Barnwarming Queen candidate.

She had received English, typing shorthand, perfect attendance, Outstanding Teenage of America, and outstanding American high school student awards. Miss Hankins plans to attend Southeast Missouri State College in Cape Girardeau and major in speech.

Report on Carousel

The Optimist club at its meeting at the Holiday Inn heard a report by Larry Casey and Leo Schade, members of the fund raising committee for the new kiddie carousel in operation in Kingsway Plaza.

Guests were Charles Hutson and his brother, James Hutson, both of Cape Girardeau. The former is past president of the Cape evening Optimist club.

Charles Brady is program chairman for next Monday.

Boutique Now Open

Milady Boutique, 133 East Front, has opened for business, Mrs. Violetta Reed, operator and owner, said today.

Mrs. Reed said the store is an extension of the beauty salon at 113 Branum Street, which she owns and operates.

Milady Boutique offers merchandise including women and men's wigs, costmetics, custom jewelry, and uniforms.

Accountants Re-elect Shaver

J. M. Shaver, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Shaver, Sr., of 256 West Kathleen St., has been re-elected vice president of the New York City chapter of the National Association of Accountants.

The NAA is the largest accounting society with more than 65,000 members, of which about 2,000 are in the New York City Chapter.

Shaver is a graduate of Diebldadt high school, th University of Missouri at Columbia and New York University. He is manager of personnel and administration of the Standard Oil Company (N.J.) controller's department in New York City.

Heart Data Available

COLUMBIA — "You and Your Heart," a new 16-page booklet filled with basic facts about the heart in health and disease, is available from the Missouri Heart Association.

Using cartoons and simple diagrams in red and black, the booklet defines many technical terms. It also gives advice on reducing the risk of heart attack. The booklet tells how to recognize the early warning signs and what immediate steps to take to increase the chance of survival, should a heart attack occur.

"You and Your Heart" explains how the heart and blood vessel system works, what goes wrong to bring on heart attack and stroke, and what roles are played by hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure.

A special section describes ways to help prevent heart attack – what to eat and what to avoid; how to determine proper body weight, and maintain it; what kinds of exercise are beneficial if done regularly; and how tension and cigarette smoking can affect the circulatory system.

The person who avoids excessive worry, shuns cigarettes, has regular check-ups, and watches his weight and intake of saturated fats lessens his chances of having a heart attack and increases his prospects for healthier living.

For more information about heart attack and risk reduction, ask the Missouri Heart Association for a free copy of "You and Your Heart".

Got a few minutes? Cook a fabulous meal in a Countertop Electronic Oven

TAPPAN FIRST IN ELECTRONIC COOKING

New Tappan Electronic oven fits on your kitchen countertop, plugs into standard outlets, can be moved to dining room, patio or den. Now enjoy all the many benefits of electronic cooking from Tappan . . . the people who introduced electronic cooking for the home back in 1954.

When electronic energy comes into contact with foods, instant heating takes place.

The electronic oven cooks with time. There are no temperatures to watch.

Metal reflects electronic energy. So the oven walls stay cool, easy to clean.

No more pots and pans! Now you can cook in glass, paper or plastic utensils.

Honors Day At Cape on May 13

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- The annual Honors' Day program of Southeast Missouri State College, set aside to recognize students who have excelled in various ways, will be held at 8 p.m. May 13 in the auditorium of Academic Hall on the campus.

The program will include the awarding of honor cords to 108 seniors who will graduate with honors, the presentation of several special service scholarships, the tapping of new members for Wakapa and Cardinal Key, local honor societies for women and men respectively, and recognition of students named earlier in the year to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Also included in the evening's activities will be the granting of the annual Community Service Award to a student organization which in the judgment of a panel of Cape Girardeau businessmen, has rendered distinguished service to both the college and community during the past academic year.

Sponsors of the Honors' Day program are the college's Panhellenic Council and the Association of Women Students. Co-chairmen for this year's event are Miss Barbara Andrews of Rt. 2, Senath, and Miss Janet Potthast of 304 Breezeview, Ballwin.

Dr. David Strand, dean of the college, will present the honor cords to the graduating seniors. Sixteen students of the senior class of nearly 1,100 are graduating summa cum laude (with highest honors), 34 are graduating magna cum laude (with great honors), and 58 are graduating cum laude (with honors).

To graduate with highest honors at Southeast Missouri State, a student must have an overall grade point average of at least 3.75 (4.0 is perfect and would indicate straight A's). Graduation with great honors goes to students achieving an overall grade point average of at least 3.50, and students with an overall grade point average of at least 3.25 are graduated with honors.

Cardinal Key and Wakapa are local honor societies for outstanding junior and senior men and women who excel in character, service, scholarship, and leadership, according to Mrs. Mary Helen Flentge, associate dean of students.

Students are selected by the current members of the societies with the advice and help of faculty members, Mrs. Flentge said.

Art Lewis of 8828 Manda Lane, Crestwood, newly-elected president of the Student Senate at the college, will reveal the organization earning the Community Service Award.

Mrs. Flentge said, "Throughout the year the organizations which wish to be considered for this award submit monthly reports of their activities. The final selection is made by a panel of Cape businessmen."

The 26 students who will be recognized at the assembly as members of Who's Who Among Students were announced last October.

Following the assembly, which is being held at night for the second year, there will be a coffee in the ballroom of Memorial Hall for the honorees, their families, and faculty members.

The program in Academic Hall is open to all students and the general public.

Court Rejects Zatezalo Bid For Dismissal

CLAYTON, Mo. (AP) -- A motion to dismiss an indictment charging Rudolph E. Zatezalo, a Kansas City banker, with bribery was denied Friday in St. Louis County Circuit Court.

Zatezalo had sought dismissal on grounds he had not been informed of his rights before appearing before the county grand jury.

He is charged with offering Missouri finance commissioner C. W. Culley $8,000 last year to delay closing of the defunct First State Bank of Bonne Terre.

Circuit Judge Robert Lee Campbell, granted Zateaalo permission to question members of the grand jury as to their qualifications.

He also ordered the county prosecutor to give Zatezalo a copy of his testimony before the grand jury.

Senator Asks Soil Saving Funds Hike

WASHINGTON--"Only 30 per cent of the cropland in Missouri is receiving adequate conservation treatment," Senator Stuart Symington (D-Mo) remarked today in a statement to the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Agriculture. Urging an increase in the Soil Conservation Service Appropriations for fiscal year 1972, Symington stated that Missouri has more land not included in the Soil Conservation Districts than the rest of the Nation combined.

"The basic cause of this situation," Symington continued, "Is not that Missouri farmers are unwilling to practice good conservation, but that there are insufficient Federal funds to provide the needed technical assistance."

The Senator stressed that three programs in particular -- Conservation Operations, Public Law 566 watersheds, and Resource Conservation and Development projects -- need additional funding in order to provide more effective assistance throughout rural America.

A total increase of $1 million in fiscal year 1972 appropriations is needed for Conservation Operations in Missouri alone. In order to adequately staff the 95 district offices in the State -- 8 new districts have been added in the last 2 years -- $600,000 is needed for an additional 100 employees. In addition $400,000 should be authorized for technical assistance for the prevention of agriculture pollution, blamed as a major source of water pollution. By reducing soil erosion, siltation of streams can be controlled and waste material from feed lots, fertilizers, and pesticides from farm fields can be prevented from reaching these streams.

For the 17 authorized PL 566 watersheds in Missouri and other such projects throughout the Nation, an additional $2 million for fiscal year 1972 is needed. The watershed projects provide flood protection, soil erosion control, expansion of land productivity, as well as more recreational opportunities, fish and wildlife habitats, and an increase in water supplies for communities and industries. "These benefits provide a needed stimulus for rural development," Symington said.

An appropriation of $20 million for fiscal year 1972 would allow 15 new starts in Resource Conservation and Development projects -- 5 more than requested by the Administration. Missouri's 2 active RC and D projects include 15 counties and cover more than 6.6 million acres of rural land. It is estimated that new industries attracted by these projects provide 8,500 man years of employment annually.

"Regrettably," the Senator stated, "both for our State and nationally, the Administration is requesting less for fiscal year 1972 than was appropriated in fiscal year 1971" for all three Soil Conservation programs."

"The Soil Conservation Service now plays an important role in meeting needs throughout rural America but it could do much more if given adequate appropriations."

"Favorable action to meet these needs will be a sound investment in the future."

Car Gets Rough Treatment From Balky Airplane

SCOTT CITY, Kan. (AP) – An airplane that wouldn't start finally cranked up Thursday at the Scott City airport -- and gave a nearby car a sound drubbing.

When Bruce Emberton, 40, Springfield, Mo., had trouble getting his Beechcraft Roman Bonanza started, he asked a friend to pull alongside the plane in his car so he could use jumper cables to start the craft.

When the plane started, the parking brake apparently slipped. The plane spun around, hitting the top of the car with a wing. At the same time, the propellor chewed up the right side of the car. Damage was estimated at $2,000 to the plane and about $1,500 to the car.

Publisher at MPA Dinner

COLUMBIA — C. L. Blanton, Jr., publisher of the Sikeston Daily Standard, was one of approximately 25 past presidents of the Missouri Press Association who attended the annual MPA executive dinner at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

The annual dinner was held in conjunction with Journalism Week activities Monday to Saturday at the University of Missouri.

Missouri Secretary of State James C. Kirkpatrick and Stanley R. Fike, administrative assistant to Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), were other past presidents attending the luncheon.

LOST PET RETURNS

LEEK WOOTON, England (AP) — Smokey the cat went out — for nearly six years. He disappeared one spring evening in 1965 and owner Dorothy Dee gave him up for lost.

Recently he turned up at his Worcestershire home as if nothing had happened, drank a dish of milk and curled up on his favorite chair.

Blanton Buys Monroe City Newspaper

SHELBINA — Carter V. Blanton and H. Michael Sell are the new owners and publishers of the Monroe City News. Blanton and Sell purchased the newspaper Saturday.

Blanton will manage the operation and Sell will serve as the editor and publisher. Blanton also publishes The Democrat with is father Edgar P. Blanton.

Blanton is fourth generation newspaper man who began his career at age 12 as a printers devil working at the Monroe County Appeal. He graduated with honors from Shelbina High School and enrolled at Journalism School at the University of Missouri.

In the semester of his junior year he quit school to join the Navy during World War II.

After his discharge from the service, he returned to journalism school. He then returned to Shelbina to become advertising manager of The Democrat and in 1947 went to work for the Sikeston Daily Standard.

He returned to Shelbina after working in Sikeston. Blanton has remained here since then.

Sell is a senior in journalism school at The University of Missouri and will assume his position in Monroe City when he graduates this June.

Sell is majoring in photojournalism and served as a hospital corpsman in the Navy. He is married and has three children.

Department Head Elected President

CAPE GIRARDEAU— Mrs. Grace Hoover, head of the department of home economics at Southeast Missouri State College, was elected president of the Missouri Home Economics Association.

Her election came at the joint spring conference of the Kansas-Missouri Home Economics Association in Kansas City.

Mrs. Hoover, who served as an assistant instructor in home economics at Southeast Missouri State in 1958-59, returned to the campus in 1962 and became head of the department in 1967.

She taught previously in the public schools in Advance and Zalma.

First Printing Press

Mexico claims to have had the first printing press in the New World. In 1536, less than 100 years after the press was invented, craftsmen in Mexico City were printing books.

Torme Premiere Looks Like Summer TV Hit

NEW YORK (AP) — Singer Mel Torme and a good research staff are parlaying nostalgia and sentiment into a pretty good bet as an ABC summer show.

"It Was a Very Good Year," in its premiere Monday night, focused on 1945, the year World War II ended. The program was bound to evoke memories for any viewer over 35.

It was fairly easy to assemble the material, but the sights and particularly the musical sounds were put together effectively. Torme, working in front of an orchestra, opened the show with "Sentimental Journey," one of the top songs, and followed it by scribbling "Kilroy was here" on a blackboard.

Recalled were such sights as the V-for-victory sign, an olivedrab Jeep with a star on the hood, queues of women trying to buy scarce nylon stockings, ration stamps, V-mail and Rosie the Riveter.

Torme reeled off some of the popular radio programs of the day—"Duffy's Tavern," "The F.B.I. in Peace and War," "Easy Aces" and "Information Please."

Franklin D. Roosevelt, in his final months as president and in death, dominated the program. There was a montage of brief film clips that gave a picture of the war in Europe and the Pacific and activity on the home front.

The mushroom cloud of the first atomic explosion was there, and then some most effective newsreel film showing American fighting men coming home to emotional reunions with their families.

Three Rivers Bulletin Published

POPLAR BLUFF — First copies of the 1971 edition of the Three Rivers College Bulletin have been received from the publisher and will be ready soon for distribution.

This year's catalogue is the largest published thus far in the number of courses offered and the number of pages containing information on services and the listing of subjects.

The total number of courses offered for the new academic year of 1971-72 is 253, an increase of about 60 over the first comparable year in which the college offered freshman and sophomore subjects in both the Academic and Technical divisions.

Although the college began operation with a summer session 1967, only freshman courses were offered the first year. For the 1968-69 academic year, the Academic division offered both freshman and sophomore subjects and the Technical division offered freshman subjects. The first class of Academic division graduates received degress in the spring of 1969.

In the 1969-70 academic year, both the Academic and Technical divisions offered both freshman and sophomore subjects. The total of courses listed in the catalogue for that year was 195.

Last May was the first time that both the Academic and Technical divisions awarded degrees to students who had completed two years of work.

Although the number of courses has increased as the college expanded its offerings to the Three Rivers Junior College District and the surrounding service area, the real test of the college has been in the quality of subjects and instruction, said Jack D. Vincent, vice president and dean of the college. General acceptability of TRJC credits at four-year colleges to which academic graduates transfer and the proficiency of the technical students entering various occupations have demonstrated the quality of instruction in both divisions. Three Rivers graduates have been able consistently to transfer the full quota of credits allowable for transfer students by accepting institutions throughout Missouri and most other states, Dean Vincent said.

Three Rivers has been fully accredited by the Missouri State Department of Education since its first year of operation, and now is a recognized candidate for accreditation by the North Central Association.

Cape and Area Papers Win Awards

COLUMBIA — Four Southeast Missouri weekly newspapers received nine awards and the daily Cape Girardeau Southeast Missourian picked up four awards in the Missouri Press Association better newspaper contest at an award's luncheon Friday during Journalism Week at the University of Missouri.

In the awards category for weekly newspapers, the Malden Press-Merit won first place for best agricultural coverage and for best editorial. The newspaper also won honorable mention for best sports page and David Black, of the Malden Press-Merit, received a commendation for a sports picture story.

The Caruthersville Pemiscot Journal won second place for best editorial, honorable mention for best editorial page, and honorable mention for typographical excellence.

Ben Hogan, Caruthersville Pemiscot Journal, received a second place award for best feature story.

The Dexter Statesman won honorable mention for best advertising or promotion.

Chris Black, of the Charleston Enterprise-Courier, won second and third place awards for feature pictures. Art Wallenhausen of the Charleston paper won a third place award for spot news.

The Cape Girardeau newspaper won first place awards for best sports page and best editorial. The newspaper received second place awards for best agricultural coverage and general excellence. General excellence is the top award category.

project calling for the purchase of five buses for the 1971-1972 school term. The buses will be purchased on a new lease-purchase plan in which the school pays one-fifth of the cost of the vehicles each year for five years, and at the end of that time, the school owns the buses. Bids for the project will be accepted until May 17.

The buses to be purchased included two supercruisers. The buses have a 72-passenger capacity.

One conventional 66-passenger buses will be purchased for the rural areas.

One 12-passenger carry-all will be bought to eliminate strain on the bigger buses and to act as a substitute when a smaller bus can carry the load of a bigger one.

One step-van food service truck will be purchased.

"Because of budget allowance cut-backs from the state in recent years, we have had to cut down on our transportational needs," Twitty said.

A second lease-purchase plan approved by the board yesterday brings up an issue that has been controversial.

Twitty said that under provisions of a federal law, funds cannot be received for educationally disadvantaged students if they are being taught in classrooms along with regular students.

Because of overcrowding, Twitty said that some of the disadvantaged students were placed in regular class rooms and federally regulations would no longer permit this policy.

The board approved the possible purchase of three to four mobile classroom units to "relieve the overcrowded classroom conditions and to isolate disadvantaged children." The plan, as approved by the board, would place three of the units at Lee Hunter school, where greatest overcrowding exists. The self-contained units would be accepted on a bid basis.

Twitty said the mobile classrooms were "not the most ideal, but the best available."

"This is a good way to get classrooms without a bond issue," he added.

The covering of a walk-way joining the junior high school and Bailey school was approved by the board. The project, to cost an estimated $4,800, would be erected by school labor.

Twitty called the project the "number one priority in the building line and said it would cost as much as $10,000 if the project were contracted to an independent firm."

The board said there was a "great need for the project and approved all details of construction.

Twitty said in his monthly superintendent's report that for the first time in recent years there are more teachers than the demand. He added that the economic conditions of the nation were responsible for the overabundance of teachers.

He also added that the school budget was in a "good state", and added it would be amended if more funds were made available by the state.

The board approved the payment of nearly $40,000 in bills for April.

Stolen Tape Player Seen, One Arrest

Police have arrested 22-year old Terry Brown of 414 Wilson on a felony charge of stealing over $50.

The arrest came following a report that a stereo tape player stolen in January had been seen by its owner.

Gary Chism reported to police in January that a $90 stereo tape player was taken from his car. The tape player had been pried from the vehicle.

Chism, a student at the high school, told police he discovered his tape player yesterday when another student at the school, Robert Lasment of 814 Mary, was repairing a player.

When Sgt. Leonard Campbell arrived at the school, he said Lashment told him that a friend had asked him to repair the player and he did not know it was stolen.

Lashment told police Brown had given him the player the night before.

Brown was arrested at his home and was reported to have denied the theft.

Brown was released without bond Tuesday afternoon.

SHS Pitchers Rule

Don Miller and Bob Blankenship teamed for a 1-0, 12-inning victory over Cape Girardeau Cental at VFW stadium yesterday and moved the Sikeston Bulldogs into the sectionals of the state high school baseball tournament.

Blankenship picked up the victory, working two innings of no-hit ball after Miller went 10, yielding only three hits while walking three and fanning 11. A prep rule prohibits a pitcher from working over 10 innings.

Nearly 500 fans were on hand for the 4 p.m. opening pitch and not a half dozen of them had left almost four hours later when the game moved into the 12th inning.

"It was one of the finest high school baseball games I've ever been associated with," Coach N. P. McDaniel commented. "A lot of excitement and tense moments."

Coach McDaniel said before the encounter, after reviewing the last meeting with the Bengals in which his pack were bombed 9-0, that he hoped the team would "put up some defense behind Don." Well it did, some outstanding defensive plays were recorded along with four miscues.

David Hackney, who led the team's seven-hit attack with two safeties, hauled in three long blasts in centerfield while second sacker Mark Adams came up with a big play and Third Baseman David Evans added perhaps the biggest when he hauled in a streaming liner at his shoe topes to end a ninth inning threat.

Despite that ninth inning bit of heroics, the 5-foot-9-inch speedster darted home with the only run of the game in the 12th after walking, stealing second and advancing to third on Hackney's second hit of the game he sped home as the Bengals first baseman had trouble handling Miller's high chopper.

Both teams threatened throughout the contest, but key defensive plays and some outstanding pitching on the part of both Miller and his opponent, Mark Hogan, kept the game scoreless through 10 innings.

Hogan, a peppery lefthander, scattered six hits, fanned eight and walked four during his nine and a third innings of work.

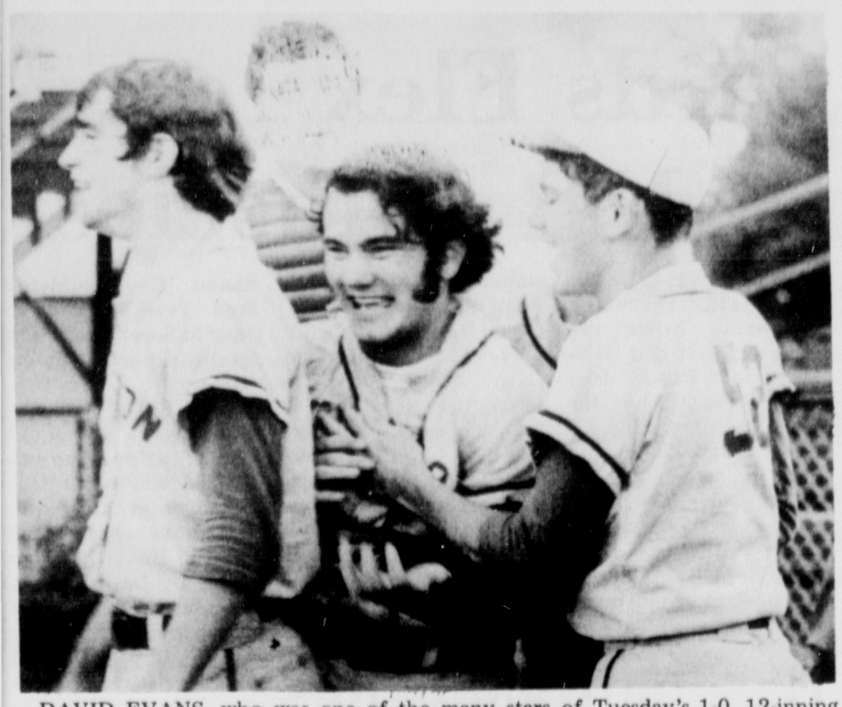
Gene Schlick was tagged with the defeat after working two and two thirds innings, giving up one hit, one walk and fanning three.

The Bulldog diamond crew will converge on the Bengals home grounds for a regular season game Friday afternoon before engaging Gideon in the sectional battle at VFW stadium Tuesday at 4 p.m.

The GHS crew sports one of the district's hardest throwing righthanders in Mark Littlell and have been poking the ball with great consistency.

Sikeston is the defending sectional champion. It bowed out to state action during regional play last year to perennial champion Lafayette of St. Louis.

Tuesday's winner will advance into the regional at Cape Girardeau with that winner moving to Springfield for the semifinals May 28.



DAVID EVANS, who was one of the many stars of Tuesday's 1-0, 12-inning victory over Cape Girardeau Central in district baseball action, shows his happiness after ending a ninth inning threat by hauling in a liner at his shoe tops. He scored the winning run in the 12th inning as the Dogs moved to the sectionals Tuesday at VFW stadium against Gideon.

SEMO Players Busy in Minors

Southeast Missouri's two minor league baseball players continue to see action.

Tom Nichols of Dexter, playing for the Charlotte Twins of the Dixie AA League, was o-for 1 last week nd dropped his average to .095 on two hits in 21 times at bat. He has scored four runs.

Greg Buys of Kennett, playing for the Ft. Lauderdale Yanks in the Florida State class A League, lowered his season's earned run average to 3 by pitching seven innings in two games last week, allowing eight hits, fanning six and walking four.

For the season he has pitched in three games, allowed 12 hits in nine innings, struckout six and walked six.

DON MILLER, who shut out Cape Central through 10-innings during district baseball action at VFW stadium yesterday, awaits his bats in the 12th inning. He drove home the deciding run and the Bulldogs won, 1-0, to move into the state sectionals Tuesday at VFW against Gideon.

'Dream Mile'

NEW YORK (AP) — Nothing since the 1968 Olympic Games has stirred interest in track and field as Sunday's head-tohead "Dream Mile" race between Jim Ryun and Marty Liquori.

Ryun, the world's top miler from 1965 until mononucleosis slowed him in 1968, and Liquori, who beat Ryun in the 1969 NCAA and AAU championships, will face each other on the lightning-fast Tartan track of Philadelphia's Franklin Field in the Martin Luther King Freedom Games.

On paper, Ryun has an impressive edge. He has beaten Liquori in six out of eight races at the mile and the "metric mile," 1,500 meters. He holds the world record for both distances, 3:51.1 for the mile and 3:33.1 for the 1,500 meters, while Liquori's best times are a 3:57.2 mile and 3:37.2 for the metric distance.

"Marty's a competitor," says Jim "Jumbo" Elliott, Liquori's coach at Villanova. "He never runs for time, but only to win, so naturally his times aren't as fast as Ryun's. But Marty's in the best shape of his life, and he's really ready for this race. Remember, he beat Ryun the last two times they raced, and he's two years older and stronger now."

"When I stepped into Jim's shoes as Number One," says Liquori, "I realized what it had been like for him. You feel you have to win every race—even the unimportant ones you don't care about."

Now Ryun, after more than a year away from competition, is making an impressive comeback. After tying the world indoor record of 3:56.4 in his second race last winter, he emphasized his return to form with a 3:55.8 at the Kansas Relays on April 24.

Ryun lives in Eugene, Oregon now, but his coach at the University of Kansas, Bob mail and long-distance phone Timmons, still advises him by call.

Schultz Takes It On the Nose

MONTREAL (AP)--Pitching Coach Barney Schultz of the St. Louis Cardinals suffered a broken nose when he was hit by a ball during batting practice before Tuesday night's game against the Montreal Expos.

A St. Louis team spokesman said that Schultz' activities would "be limited for the next four or five days."

Unser's Mechanic To Be Honored

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)--Geoge Bignotti, chief mechanic for 1970 U.S. Auto Club racing champion Al Unser, will be coaxed away from his wrenches next Wednesday long enough to receive the D-A mechanical achievement award.

Master mechanics value the annual award as much as race drivers cherish the Borg-Warner Trophy for winning the Indianapolis 500-mile race. The D-A winners also like the $3,000 that goes with the plaque.

Tom Binford, president of the D-A racing oil firm and former USAC president, started giving the mechanics' award 12 years ago for outstanding preparation of Indianapolis cars.

Battle Resumes

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah Stars Coach Bill Sharman has concentrated his team's efforts in two areas for tonight's battle with the Kentucky Colonels to break a 2-2 tie in the American Basketball Association championship playoffs.

"We have to play defense and not get scattered around like we did Saturday, and we will have to rebound better," Sharman declared.

The Stars were heavily outrebounded in losing the last two games of the series at Louisville. Sharman says he feels that was partly due to Zelmo Beaty's early foul trouble and Red Robbins being sick.

Sharman said he didn't think Kentucky played its best at Louisville.

Kentucky Coach Frank Ramsey will start the same five players that started the first four games of the series. Darel Carrier and Louie Dampier will be the guards with Jim Ligon and Cincy Powell at forwards and Dan Issel at center.

The Utah Starters are a little less definite. Beaty is healthy, but has gotten into foul trouble early in the last two games. Red Robbins has recovered from a weekend bout with the flu, but isn't expected to be up to par.

Merv Jackson is a doubtful starter at guard with a bad knee. Sharman may have to throw swingman Ron Boone against Dampier. Glen Combs is expected to guard Carrier. Willie Wise has recovered from a bout with the flu enough to take the forward position.

The 13,208 tickets for tonight's game have been sold out since Monday. Stars officials have announced they plan a closed-circuit television broadcast to a nearby auditorium which can seat 2,400 persons.

The sixth game will be played Saturday afternoon in Louisville. A seventh game, if necessary, will be played Tuesday in the Salt Palace.

Utah must win tonight's game to preserve the homecourt advantage, which it won by having a better regular-season record than Kentucky.

'Super Game' May 28

NEW YORK (AP) — "This 'Super Game,'" superstar Oscar Robertson said, "will show that the two pro leagues can play against each other at the highest competitive level without an illegal merger."

The game pits all stars from the warring National Basketball Association and American Basketball Association May 28 in the Houston Astrodome.

By agreeing to the first meeting between the two loops, the NBA Players Association defied the league owners who barred such a game until a formal merger occurs.

The players' group opposes any merger and has a court injunction now in effect to bar one. Just last week the owners of both leagues agreed to seek congressional legislation to clear the way for it.

Asked whether the owners approved of the game, Robertson, a star guard for the NBA champion Milwaukee Bucks and president of the players association, snapped: "It doesn't matter whether they approve or not!"

He said that by refusing to present such a game without a merger "the owners' sole motivation becomes clear—money.

"What should be of interest is the fan and the quality of product he sees."

NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy refused to say what action the league might take to halt the contest but ABA Commissioner Jack Dolph said his league would "take steps to stop our player ame would be detrimental to the league—which we have not.

"A player's contract requires him to get permission from his team for any such game," Dolph added.

But Arlen Preblud, attorney for the ABA Players Association, insisted:

"It is not the intention of the ABA players to play this in defiance of our owners. And it has nothing to do with the merger. The ABA players are merely playing a game with the NBA players for the Whitney Young Foundation."

The net gate receipts from the game will go to the newly created foundation which directs funds to programs that prepare ghetto youngsters for college.

The game will be syndicated for national television at 8:30 p.m., EDT, by TVS, an independent network. The television receipts will go to supplement the pension plans for the players in both leagues with a share of it also going to the participating players in the game.

The NBA players will be centers Lew Alcindor of Milwaukee and Nate Thurmond of San Francisco, forwards Billy Cunningham of Philadelphia, Dave DeBusschere of New York, John Havlicek of Boston and Elvin Hayes of San Diego and guards Earl Monroe of Baltimore, Dave Bing of Detroit, Walt Frazier of New York and Robertson.

The ABA's 11 players will be centers Zelmo Beaty of Utah and Mel Daniels of Indiana, forwards Rick Barry of New York, Roger Brown of Indiana, Willie Wise of Utah and Dan Issel of Kentucky and guards Charlie Scott of Virginia, Larry Jones of the Floridians, Bill Melchionni of New York, Steve Jones of Memphis and Donnie Freeman of Texas.

Robertson said the NBA will name its 11th player next week, along with the coaches for the two teams. They will not be existing NBA or ABA coaches, he said.

Cards Flex HR Muscles

The St. Louis Cardinals, featuring explosive home run power, ripped the Montreal Expos 10-4 Tuesday night, but the Kansas City Royals bowed to Baltimore 5-4 in 10 innings.

Joe Torre belted two two-run homers to pace the Redbirds. Dick Schofield and Jose Cardenal also had home runs to help St. Louis starter Reggie Cleveland boost his record to 32.

Torre's first shot broke a 3-3 tie in the fifth inning and his second blast highlighted a fourrun ninth. Catcher Ted Simmons contributed two singles and a double to the Cards' cause.

Carl Morton, 3-5, was the Montreal loser.

In Baltimore, Merv Rettenmund singled off Kansas City shortstop Fred Patek's glove to drive in Brooks Robinson for the Oriole's winning run.

The Royals tied the game 4-4 in the ninth when Joe Keough doubled and Amos Otis tripled with two out. Baltimore had gone ahead in the eighth on a double by Dave Johnson and a sacrife fly by Andy Etchebarren.

The Royals jumped into the lead with two runs in the first inning but Baltimore grabbed the advantage with a single run in the fourth and two more in the fifth.

Kansas tied it 3-3 in the sixth when Ed Kirkpatrick scored on a passed ball.

Eddie Watt pitched one inning and picked up his first victory of the year against no defeats. Ted Abernathy, 1-2, pitched one and a third innings and was charged with the Royals defeat.

When the teams square off again tonight Bob Gibson, 3-3, will pitch for the Cards against Ernie McAnally, 0-2, in Montreal and Mike Hedlund, 3-1, of the Royals will oppose Grant Jackson, 0-0, in Baltimore.

BATTING— Merv Rettenmund, Orioles, had four singles, the last of which drove in the winning run in a 5-4, 10-inning victory over Kansas City.

PITCHING— Clyde Wright, Angels, scattered eight hits in blanking Detroit 5-0.

Willies on Spree

A couple of West Coast Willies are off on a whirlwind spree and, for a change, neither one answers to the name Mays.

Willie McCovey, coming on strong after a slow start this season, belted three hits, including his seventh home run, as the San Francisco Giants widened their National League West lead to eight games with a 6-1 triumph over Cincinnati Tuesday night.

Willie Davis, meanwhile, continued his torrid hitting with three singles and a triple, helping the Los Angeles Dodgers whip Atlanta 6-1 to snap a three-game losing string and move into second place behind the runaway Giants.

Davis has banged out 11 hits in his last 13 trips to the plate, hiking his batting average to .395. McCovey has gone 9-for-12 in his last four starts, bringing his average up to .311.

Elsewhere in the NL, the New York Mets battered Houston 8-1 behind Nolan Ryan's three-hitter and Dave Marshall's grand slam homer; two homers by Joe Torre paced St. Louis to a 10-4 romp over Montreal; Pittsburgh drubbed San Diego 10-4 with Manny Sanguillen stroking four hits and the Chicago Cubs clubbed Philadelphia 6-2.

In the American League, Cleveland topped Oakland 7-5; Baltimore shaded Kansas City 5-4 in 10 innings; Boston nipped Minnesota 5-4 and California beat Detroit 5-0. Rain washed out the New York Yankees' game at Milwaukee and the Washington-Chicago White Sox contest at Chicago.

McCovery put the wraps on the Giants' 24th victory in 33 games with a two-run homer in the third inning after Mays, a .375 hitter, drew a walk from Jim Merritt.

Bobby Bonds' eighth homer, singles by Chris Speier, McCovey and Ken Henderson and another homer by Dick Dietz had given the division leaders a 4-0 first inning jump.

Gaylord Perry, 4-1, checked the reeling Reds on six hits. Merritt, a 20-game winner last year, absorbed his fourth setback in as many decisions.

Davis punched a two-out single in the first inning before Richie Allen walked and Wes Parker drilled a two-run double, sending the Dodgers ahead to stay at Los Angeles.

After Bill Buckner's three-run homer in the fourth chased Braves' starter Jim Nash, Davis tagged reliever Pat Jarvis for a triple and scored on a single by Allen.

Southpaw Claude Osteen tamed Atlanta on six hits for a 4-3 season mark as the Dodgers moved percentage points ahead of the Braves into second place in the west.

Ryan walked seven Houston batters and hit another, but pitched hitless ball until the fifth inning, struck out eighth and wound up, breezing to his fourth victory without a loss.

The Mets, who have won four in a row for a one-game edge over second-place Pittsburgh in the East, scored three runs off Larry Dierker in the third and knocked out the Houston ace in the sixth before Marshall rocked reliever George Culver for his bases-loaded homer.

Ryan has issued 24 walks—but has yielded just 12 hits while fanning 23—in 25 innings of work this season.

Torre broke a 3-3 tie at Montreal with a two-run homer in the fifth inning and walloped his sixth homer of the year— another two-run shot—in the ninth. Jose Cardenal and Dick Schofield also homered for the Cards.

Sanguillen drove in two runs for the Pirates, who overcame a 2-1 fifth inning deficit and then poured it on against the Padres. Roberto Clemente slammed a double and his first homer of the season, delivering three runs, and Gene Clines sent Pittsburgh in front with a two-run triple in the fifth.

Chicago's Bill Hands, backed by two-run homers off the bats of Johnny Callison, Billy Williams and Ron Santo, held Philadelphia hitless after the third inning, finishing with a five-hitter to square his record at 4-4.

Williams' homer off Rick Wise and Santo's blast off reliever Woody Fryman shot the Cubs out of reach in the third.

Exciting Novel Of a Miner Seeking Justice

THE BAREFOOT MAN. By Davis Grubb. Simon & Schuster. $6.95.

"It was through the north window that they would see the killers when they came . . ."

From the very first line of this brutally realistic and yet unreal novel, the reader understands this is no ordinary world he is entering, but rather one of nightmare. A strange, tormented place in which those who wander in unwittingly from the outside, as does the protagonist, Farjeon, immediately are regarded as potential strikebreakers rather than innocent wanderers. A place where men distrust — and with good reason — other men and instead trust rats, again with reason. ". . . don't chunk no more coal at them rats, Jack. A rat, he's a miner's friend. When the rats start running — it's time to get out. A rat like that one yonder, he can hear a fall coming before it's hardly commenced. There's many a miner owes his life to rats, mister."

This world into which Farjeon wanders, after being dispossessed from his farm during the Great Depression, is one in which tumbledown miners' shacks huddle close to the killer coal mine in which they work.

Coffee Corner

By Cherie

Did I ever have a Mother's Day! Charles was out of town so this day was strictly between the fellas and me and though I'm rather pooped by the whole affair still I wouldn't have changed it for the world.

Saturday evening I was tucked into bed amid much whispering and after a brief consultation was informed I should stay there Sunday morning until the fellas wanted me up — I agreed, they giggled and we all climbed into bed and went promptly to sleep. And we slept, and we slept and we slept until I thought (I am usually drinking coffee by six thirty every morning), I would have a caffine fit right there between and betwix the sheets till finally we awoke at nine thirty. "Don't get up", they cried, as one sprang from his bed and the other sprang from mine where he had been kicking me like a mule at regular intervals for about six hours when he had decided to "keep me cozy" in the middle of the night! Sitting up in bed and pushing the new bedspread as far off the bed as possible in case of spills, I awaited my breakfast. It finally came a wavering step at a time up the stairs, carried by my youngest who could hardly be seen behind the immense tray, upon which he had placed a cup of coffee and a vegetable bowl full of bran flakes floating in a quart of milk but minus the sugar. Bran flakes are hard to take, but you don't know nothing till you try and swallow them down without any sugar!! Next came the gifts and you can't begin to believe how many floaters, hooks, sinkers, lines etc. came spilling out of those packages, why, I've got the best equipped bamboo pole you ever saw! Next came, "get up and lets go try out your presents," (which they had to try out on their casting rods since my pole doesn't work too well with anything but a hook and a worm) and away we went fishing. Lee caught a bass and it was the first one we ever caught big enough to eat and then wonder or wonders, I caught one too, on my hook and worm — and Lee had the nerve to drop mine in the water trying to get it on a stringer and pull a crawdad out of its mouth at the same time. Oh well, I was so grateful to the fish for letting me catch him (my very first), that I didn't even mind and thus was the finale to one of the most exhausting but most wonderful Mother's Days a girl could ever have!

Malden Area Sprayed for White Beetle

MALDEN — A crew of workmen from the State and Federal Departments of Agriculture have been busy this week spraying yards and alleys in Malden in an effort to eradicate the white fringe beetle.

Lloyd Seagraves of Sikeston, an employee of the USDA, says that the Malden area is being sprayed in an effort to control and prevent the spreading of the beetle. He said that the beetle was discovered in Malden last year and they are spraying now while it is in the dormant stage.

The area being sprayed is from the Cotton Belt Railroad to about four blocks on both sides. He said that they are also spraying in Cardwell, Hayti and Portageville.

The white fringe beetle is a hitchhiker. It is common in the deep south and travels north on trucks, railroad cars, or on imported plants. It is destructive to farm crops and a number of plants. They are all females and reproduce rapidly.

A chemical named Chlordane is being used in an effort to destroy them. It is being sprayed at the ratio of about ten pounds to the acre.

Greased Pig Contest Set

NEW MADRID--A greased pig contest for two age divisions will be held at 4 p.m. May 16 at the city park during celebration activities of the Sesquicentennial of the state of Missouri, according to Sam Atwell, chairman.

Cash awards of $5 each will be given to three contestants in each division, who catch and hold a greased pig. Division one is for ages 8, 9, and 10, and division two includes ages 11, 12, 13, and 14.

The contest will be in the Little League baseball park, Atwell said, and is open to youths in these age groups.

Fancy Menus In Honolulu

HONOLULU (AP) — Take a tip from Waikiki's restaurants the next time your husband asks, "What's for dinner?"

Don't just say chicken and hot from the broiler where the sherbet. "Tonight," you tell him, chef has tenderly basted them "it's whole milk-fed baby squab, with a secret blending of wines fat and sassy little birds, bursting and herbs.

"And for dessert, passion fruit sherbet, le grande passion between you and tropical passion fruit, squeezed lovingly of its juices and whirled into a frosty delight, cool and refreshing as a fern sheltered waterfall."

That's what you get when you order squab at Canlis' Charcoal Broiler or sherbet at Paradise Park. Both descriptions come straight from the menu.

Hawaii restaurants like to serve up a dash of poetry and history with their fancy fare and menu writers are spending more time in the library these days.

The menu at the Dynasty could be required reading for students of Asian history.

"New England puts milk in its clam chowder," the menu says. "New York uses water and tomatoes.

MACON: Route RA -- 2.5 miles grading, culverts and 20-foot wide aggregate surfacing from Route J to Atlanta Wildlife Area.

REYNOLDS: Route RA -- 1.6 miles grading, culverts, and gravel or crushed stone surfacing from Route HH to Clearwater Lake.

Mitchell Compares Mayday Mobs to Hitler Brownshirts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell compared last week's Mayday demonstrators to Hitler's brownshirts Monday and said "Nothing else could have been done" except to make the mass arrests that swept them off Washington's streets by the thousands.

"I am proud of the Washington city police," Mitchell said.

"I am proud that they stopped a repressive mob from robbing the rights of others."

Mitchell's remarks were in a speech prepared for the 51st annual conference of the California Peace Officers Association.

He expressed alarm over what he termed "a growing threat to civil rights in this country." That is, he said, "the trend of extremist groups, in the name of free assembly and free speech to deny freedom of others."

"I hope that Washington's decisive opposition to mob force will set an example for other communities, in similar circumstances to do the same,' Mitchell said. "If they do we will see an end to the extremist practice of running roughshod over the rights of others."

Taking note of criticism of the tactics used by police to round up demonstrators attempting to stop traffic in the capital, Mitchell criticized what he termed "sideliners stepping forward to sympathize with the law-breakers and fault the police."

"Some have done so again, and unfortunately we find a few occupying high office, including some in the United States Senate," he said.

One of them, Mitchell said, "dragged out" the tired old comparison with the Nazis.

"Perhaps it is good that he brought this up, because I would like to recall another group of civilians who roamed the streets of Germany in the 1920s, bullying people, shouting down those who disagreed with them, and denying other citizens their civil rights," Mitchell said.

"They were called Hitler's brownshirts," he said. "And if they had been called to account for their theft of the rights of others and made to pay for it before they could take over the German government, the world might have been spared a whole era of violence and misery."

Mitchell did not name the senators to whom he referred.

Eye Clinic in Portageville On May 27

PORTAGEVILLE--May 27, the annual New Madrid county eye clinic will be held at the Armory.

This clinic is a part of the continuing program administered by the Bureau for the Blind with the cooperation of the New Madrid county welfare office. The clinic provides medical eye service to those who need help to prevent loss of sight or cure diseases of the eye.

The welfare office will refer for examination any individual who is believed to be in need of an eye examination and is considered to be medically indigent. All recipients of public assistance and members of public assistance households are automatically considered medically indigent.

Those who wish to attend the clinic may notify the New Madrid County Welfare Office, 600 N. Main in New Madrid prior to May 27. Those who are unable to come to the welfare office should contact the Office by mail or phone 748-5536 and a family service worker will visit them.

The Clinic is for all residents of the county who qualify.

Ratchford Will Address Seniors

COLUMBIA--Dr. C. Brice Ratchford, interim president of the University of Missouri, will speak at commencement exercises at the University of Missouri at 6 p.m. June 1.

Interim Chancellor Herbert W. Schooling said that the ceremonies will be conducted at Memorial Stadium.

A graduating class of 3,000, a little larger than a year ago, will qualify for degrees as members of the January and June graduating classes.

In Iceland children are required by law to learn to swim.

She is pianist for the Presbyterian Sunday school, prepares weekly bulletins for both New Madrid and Parma Presbyterian churches, teaches private piano students, and works after school at the county courthouse.

Miss Farrenburg has been a member four years of Beta club, band majorette and cheerleader, serving as captain one year. She has been captain of the high school volleyball team, JAC Club president and junior class secretary. She plans to attend SEMO state college at Cape Girardeau and the University of Tennessee school of nursing.

Miss Tallie plans to attend summer school at SEMO state college, and transfer to School of the Ozarks to major in elementary education. She received the outstanding home economics award. School activities include Future Homemakers Association, JAC Club, senior class play and chorus.

Robison to Take Part in Mock Trial

COLUMBIA, MO.--A mock arson trial and an arson investigation will be featured at the fourth annual arson investigator seminar June 7-9 at the University of Missouri-Columbia.

George E. Schaaf, circuit judge of St. Louis county, will act as judge, Arthur T. Stephenson, prosecuting attorney of Pemiscot county, as prosecutor, and James R. Robison of Sikeston as defense council at the trial.

The workshop will divide enrollees into 10-man teams with a leader to tour a fire scene and investigate. Rex McGraw, detective in the Jackson county sheriff department, will coordinate a panel for a critique of investigations.

The seminar is sponsored by UMC and the Missouri chapter of International Association of Arson Investigators of which Holdinghaus is president.

A PROMISING DRUG

NEW YORK (AP) — Arthritis and all its weakening effects on equines and canines (8 million horses and 25 million dogs) may become a thing of the past if a new drug called Neo-Arth lives up to its promise.

The Generic Corporation of America has developed this new drug which has proved successful on 76 per cent of the afflicted horses in New York and Florida, says Dr. J.O. Reed, DVM, who is Generics' director of veterinary medicine.

Hope is being expressed that future research may provide a similar breakthrough in the treatment and relief of human arthritis.

It is believed that 50 per cent of all dogs over age 5 suffer from arthritis, says the GCA.

OYSTER POWER

LONDON (AP) — Scientists at Aberdeen University hunting for drugs and anti-biotics in sea creatures say the oyster may contain tumor-fighting chemicals.

Mollusks, crabs, fish and protozoa are also being screened for use in human medicine.

CANTERBURY, England (AP) — Archaeologists have enlisted the help of school children in excavating a first to third century B.C. Iron Age settlement. The dig uncovered huts, storage pits and pottery remains.

Environment to Be Discussed at Seminar

CAPE GIRARDEAU–The student to the meetings which will be held at the Language Arts Building, Southeast Missouri State College, Cape Girardeau.

Sponsored by the University of Missouri at Columbia college of education and extension division in cooperation with State Department of Education and the United States Office of Education, Bureau of Educational Professions Development, the seminar will be free to the participants.

Beginning at 9 a.m., the students, teachers and officials will look at environmental problems from several vantage points and consider a variety of possible responses that educators might make.

Columbia Campus and University of Missouri at Rolla faculty members with diverse backgrounds and specialty areas will make presentations that highlight the problems of environment from the points of view of man, agriculture, municipalities, industry, economics and population.

These speakers will get together in the afternoon for a panel consideration of the problems. Then John Hooser, science consultant to the State Department of Education, will speak on "The School Curriculum and Environmental Studies."

At 3 p.m., the participants will join in small group discussions of what the schools are doing now in relation to the environment, what long range goals should be established, and the kinds of specific measures that can be taken, beginning with the next school year, to give more appropriate attention to environment in the school.

Representatives of school districts in these counties will participate in the seminar: Bollinger, Butler, Cape Girardeau, Carter, Dent, Dunklin, Iron, Madison, Mississippi, New Madrid, Oregon, Pemiscot, Perry, Reynolds, Ripley, St. Francois, Ste. Genevieve, Scott, Shannon, Stoddard, Washington and Wayne.

COMEDIAN BOB HOPE accepts the 1971 Lions International humanitarian award from Dr. Robert D. McCullough of Tulsa, president of the organization. The award was given to Hope for his continuous efforts and work in behalf of sight conservation and eye research, one of the major concerns of Lions clubs throughout the world.

School Contract Maneuver Ruled Out of Order

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)–Atty. Gen. John C. Danforth held Wednesday that a school board and its superintendent cannot terminate the superintendent's contract and then draw up a new one for the sole purpose of increasing his salary.

Danforth provided the opinion for Rep. Donald J. Gralike, D-St. Louis, who said such a procedure frequently is used in St. Louis County school districts.

"It is common practice," he said in requesting the opinion, "for superintendents to resign before the expiration of the three year contract and be re-appointed to this position by the school board with a salary increase for a new three-year period."

Danforth said that would be unconstitutional because it "amounts to a 'grant of public money' to a private person in violation of Article III, Section 38 (A)."

Rotarians Told of 4-H Club Work

Work of the Sikeston Community 4-H club was outlined last night at a Rotary club father, son and daughter dinner at the Holiday Inn.

Stan Polivick said the 115-member club will hold a bake sale May 22 and rummage sales to raise money to pay for 4-H camp fees. He said a car wash will be held in July to raise money for a 4-H Fair pavilion.

On May 23 at 7:30 p.m. at Hunter Memorial First Presbyterian church 4-H Sunday will be observed. A campout will be held June 11-13 at the Peter Meyers farm. The 4-H fair will be held during the Jaycee Bootheel Rodeo.

Other 4-H members reported on their projects, David Blackburn on small motors, Angela Cooper, child care; Peter Myers Jr., ecology; Chuck Springs, electricity; and Cathy Christiansen, sewing, foods and child care.

Mrs. Gerald Jackson, co-chairman of the club, said that 4-H interests no longer were confined to the farm. She said that the clubs offered training in how to conduct and participate in a business meeting, individual projects and club activities. Mrs. Peter Myers, co-chairman, reported on national activities of the clubs.

Ralph McElroy, introduced Tom Jennings, who has been awarded a Rotacy club scholarship at Southeast Missouri State College in Cape Girardeau.

Herbert Mennen of Wilmington, Ill., and John W. Skelton of Dexter were visiting Rotarians, Peter Myer Sr. was a guest of Alex Waters.

Debbie Launius entertained at the piano.

The club will meet next Monday at Lucian Stoner's cabin on Lake Wappapello.

Mother Accused Of Leaving Tots Locked up Alone

KANSAS CITY (AP)--Police reported a 21-year-old mother was charged with child abandonment Tuesday after two children, one 6 months old and the other 1½ years of age, were left alone for two days in a locked apartment.

The boy was treated at Children's Mercy Hospital for dehydration and hunger. His 6-month-old sister was taken to the Jackson County Children's shelter.

Police said the mother was held under $250 bond and ordered to appear in municipal court May 10.

Police said the mother told them she had to leave the apartment and gave a friend $10 with which to care for the children. Officers said the boy was found walking through trash and broken dishes in the apartment and the girl was found lying on a bed.

Falling Rock Fatal To Mine Worker

BIXBY, Mo. (AP)--Jess L. Wells, 28, of Fredericktown, Mo., was injured fatally Tuesday night in a mining accident at the Cominco Magmont operations near Bixby. Company officials said a piece of rock fell from the mine roof and struck Wells.

Interstate Brands Earnings and Sales Increase

KANSAS CITY---Record highs in both earnings and sales for Interstate Brands Corporation during the first quarter of 1971 were reported today by Ernest B. Hueter, president.

Net income for IBC — one of the nation's largest bakery-food firms — for the 16 weeks ended Apr. 17, was reported as $1,147,951 — an increase of 3.4 per cent, compared with $1,110,341 reported during the first quarter of 1970. Earnings per share increased to 49 cents from 47 cents for the same period a year ago.

Sales for the first quarter reached $79,832,899, representing an increase of $3,963,257, or 5.2 per cent, over record sales of $75,869,642 reported for the like period of 1970.

17 Girl Scouts Win Awards

DEXTER--The annual First Class Awards ceremony for Cadette Girl Scouts in the Cotton Boll and Otahki Councils was held Sunday afternoon at Southeast Missouri State College, Cape Girardeau.

Seventeen Girl Scouts from Stoddard county were among the 146 Girls Scouts who received awards.

From Dexter Troop 7 - Marsha Vowels, Janet Mayberry and Kyra Taylor; Troop 46 - Karla Baker, Ruth Ellen Bryant, Jan Hiett, Pam Hill, Kim O'Donnell, Karen Sue Waggoner and Sonja Nelson of Bernie who is also a member of this troop, were recognized.

Mrs. Terry Darcy and Mrs. Donald Maddox are leaders of Troop 7 and Mrs. Barney Miller, Mrs. Lloyd Garner and Mrs. Everett Tuley are leaders of Troop 46.

Girl Scouts from Bloomfield, Troop 51, who received the awards were Melissa Harper, Cindy McLain, Katie Shipman, Barbara Smith and Mary Williams. Troop leader is Mrs. Billy Almond.

Two Scouts from Essex, Jane Langley and Debra Triplett, Troop 128, completed the Stoddard County representation.

Greetings from the host council was presented by Mrs. Harold Williams President, Otahki, and the president of the Cotton Boll Council, Mrs. T. S. Hill, Dexter, presented the speaker, Mrs. Dorothy Weirich.

Mrs. Weirich chose for her topic "Only That Day Dawns To Which We Are Awake".

Five troops from Otahki Council and 17 troops from the Cotton Boll Council particiaptd in the ceremony. As the Girl Scouts received their awards they were escorted by their fathers, or other relatives and the escorts also received a pin during the impressive ceremony.

Girls Scouts represented Cape Girardeau, Scott City, Jackson, Perryville, Campbell, Charleston, Kennett, Poplar Bluff, Fisk, Sikeston, Malden, Essex, Bloomfield, Caruthersville, Dexter, Portageville and Doniphan.

Washington Report

U.S. Senator — Missouri

ADMINISTRATION REVERSES POSITION ON FUNDING OF OLDER AMERICANS ACT

Budget cuts planned by The Administration for programs under the Older Americans Act have been rescinded in the wake of Senate hearings that showed how adversely senior citizens would be affected if the cuts were made.

Specifically, President Nixon recommended reducing funds for the title III community grant program by $3.65 million, for the foster grandparent program by $3 million, and for the research and training programs by $2.15 million.

On March 25, 19, 30, and 31, the Senate Special Committee on Aging, presided over by Senator Church of Idaho, and the Subcommittee on Aging of the Labor and Public Welfare Committee, of which I am chairman, held joint hearings at which witnesses testified about the serious consequences that would follow from these funding reductions.

On April 27 this series of hearings was concluded with testimony from Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Richardson. At that time Secretary Richardson announced that the Administration has reversed its position on the funding of these programs and will now recommend that the title III community grant program, the foster grandparent program, and the research and training programs be funded at their fiscal 1971 levels.

This is indeed welcome news, and I commend the Administration for reconsidering its previous untenable position.

Still Not Enough

There is, however, no cause for euphoria. The Administration's revised budget requests amount simply to a status quo budget for these existing programs which have proven so popular and successful and which I believe should be expanded.

The increase of $7.5 million over fiscal 1971 in the total budget for the Administration on Aging is for the purpose of implementing two new programs authorized by Congress in 1969--the areawide model projects program and the retired senior volunteer program.

In other words, the Administration's revised budget represents not so much a step forward for older Americans as a decision not to move backward. Clearly the task of obtaining a higher priority for the needs of senior citizens remains before us. Nevertheless, the elderly citizens of the nation have had a minor victory.

Mail Box

Dear Charlie:

I'm answering the letter written by Duane Williams. He wrote about the farce Little league tryouts are, and about 100 boys left unable to play. I know my husband picks the boys by ability. He has had worked with Little League for 4 years now and our son isn't old enough to play yet. Mr. Williams hasn't put himself out and neither has hundreds of other parents.

I've been told that 4 more teams have been formed and Mr. Williams is going to manage one. Next year at tryouts I want to know how he comes out.

After one year of parents calling him and griping because he took their kid out of a game, or because he didn't play at all he'll know what the managers have put up with for years.

Good Luck Mr. Williams,
Yours truly,
Pat Harper

Odd Fellows, Rebekahs To Convene

CAPE GIRARDEAU — International Order of Odd Fellows Grand Lodge and Rebekah Assembly of Missouri will hold their annual statewide meeting May 23 - 26, the first time the state meeting has been held in Cape Girardeau since 1915, according to Russel L. Faust, general chairman for the Grand Lodge session.

He said approximately 500 representatives and delegates are expected for the meeting, and that at the present time over 300 have registered.

Registration of all units will be held May 23 from 2 to 6 p.m. and May 24 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Holiday Inn, headquarters for the Rebekah Assembly. Grand Lodge headquarters are at the Ramada Inn. Business and committee sessions will be held by each group at their respective headquarters duringthe meeting.

The sessions will be presided over by L. J. Fetter, grand master of the IOOF Grand Lodge, and Mrs. Inez Misner, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Missouri. They will be honored at a banquet May 25 at 6:30 p.m at the Arena Building to be followed by the joint installation of new officers.

A Decoration of Chivalry will be held May 24 at 7 p.m. at the Arena Building followed by the introduction [illegible] seating of officers at 8 o'clock.

Distinguished guests attending the sessions will include B. Edward Richter of Milwaukee, Wis., general commander of the patriarchs Militant; Clarence Bryant of Iowa, IOOF sovereign grand warden. and Mrs. Daphne Kenealy of Washington, president of the International Association of Rebekah Assemblies.

Room reservations must be made through the committee chairmen, Mr. an Mrs. Coy L. Welker. 1721 Brucher, and banquet reservations through the committee chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Boss, 642 Whitelaw.

Consumer Needs to Be Informed

OXFORD, Miss. — "Prosperity is everybody's business . . ."

This asseration by a former Secretary of Commerce points to the necessity of good salesmanship at all levels in our economy as the key to national prosperity.

Prosperity cannot be made by automobile manufacturers in Detroit.

It cannot be made by appliance manufacturers in Philadelphia or Los Angeles.

The manufacturers can help by producing better products and advertising them well and by keeping a large labor force employed.

But the giant industries are dependent upon the retailers of all the towns and cities of the nation. Their ambitions wither and their plants close when the local retailer fails in the ultimate job of placing new products in the hands of the consumer.

It is the business of industry to promote the general features of its products through national advertising. But it is probably of more importance for the local retailer to inform the consumer on specific details which will lead to purchases.

And it is, of course, the business of the consumer to spend his money when and where he may find goods and services which will enrich his life. However, the consumer cannot be expected to spend money for the sake of spending.

For the consumer to take full part in creating and maintaining prosperity, he necessarily needs the information which can be provided only through retail advertising.

Grant for 3 Workshops

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Three Southeast Missouri State College biology professors have received federal grants for summer study and research, Dr. Robert Kuster, head of the biology department, reports.

The three are Dr. Travis Brooks, Paul Heye, and Dr. Carl Train. Dr. Brooks and Dr. Train received grants from the National Science Foundation. Heye received his award from the Atomic Energy Commission.

According to Dr. Kuster, the grants are awarded on a competitive basis to provide college teachers with an opportunity to study and conduct research in areas that cannot be provided by their home institution.

Dr. Brooks, assistant professor, will take part in an NSF research program at the University of Oklahoma Biological Station at Lake Texoma from June 7 - July 31.

A member of the Southeast Missouri State faculty since 1967, Dr. Brooks earned his bachelor's and master's degrees at KANSAS State University and his Ph.D. at the University of Kansas.

Dr. Train, who received his bachelor's degree from Bethany College and his master's and Ph.D. degrees from Kansas State, will participate in an NSF Institute on the History, Philosophy, and Sociology of Science. It will run from June 13 - July 23 at The Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Train also joined the college faculty in 1967 and is an assistant professor.

Heye, associate professor and member of the faculty since 1955, will take part in an AEC Radiation Biology Institute at the University of Tennessee Medical School in Memphis June 21-July 30.

He received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Missouri. He has done additional graduate work there as well as at the University of Michigan.

$5,094 Grant To Schools

HOWARDVILLE--Dr. George S. Reuter, Jr., R-1 enlarged school superintendent announced that the school food services division of the state department of education, under the direction of Earl M. Langkop, has granted $5,093.76 to the district for the purchase of equipment for lunch rooms.

Sheriff Named

BLOOMFIELD--A. E. Hannel of Route 1, Bloomfield is the new Deputy Sheriff of Stoddard County. Mr. Hannel is married and has 4 children. He assumed duties April 1, He retired February 1 from the Unites States Air Force after 20 years service.

CRITICAL STUDENTS

NEW YORK (AP) — At a recent seminar students of Traphagen School of Fashion expressed a desire to change a lot more than just the style of garments worn by women.

They attacked today's poor workmanship, the designing of way out items for the sake of promotion and clothes that are styled to look well only on size eight models.

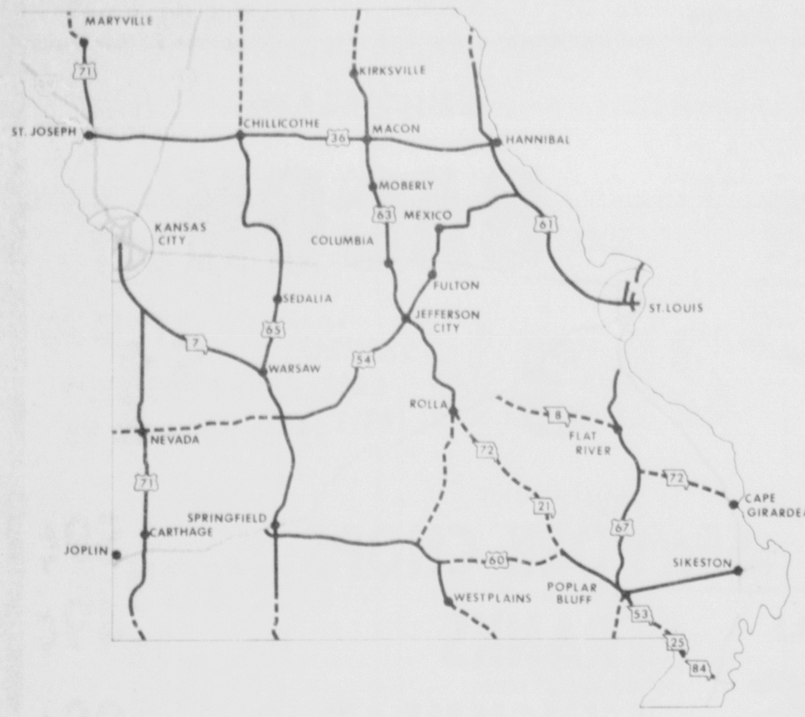
PROPOSED INTER CITY INTER REGIONAL SYSTEM (12 YEAR PROGRAM)



LEGEND

4 LANE FACILITY

ULTIMATE 4 LANE FACILITY

(GREY LINE) INTERSTATE ROUTES

Support Sought for Road Program

JEFFERSON CITY — The Highway Commission is attempting to gain public support for its proposed 12-year, $1.4 billion construction program to improve Missouri's Intercity-Interregional highway network.

Key features of the program include:

About 1850 miles of four-lane divided highways.

About 350 miles of ultimate four-lane highways.

Reasonable access throughout the system.

Grade separations at all railroad crossings where four-lane construction is planned.

Interchanges at all route crossings where traffic estimates indicate their necessity.

Improvement of overburdened facilities in the St. Louis and Kansas City areas.

Under the plan, most major routes through the state would become four-lane divided highways on the portions with heaviest traffic. Right of way for four-lane highways would be obtained on other sections where construction is required to provide an adequate quality of service.

Included in the north-south improvements to four-lane would be U.S. Route 65 from Chillicothe to near Branson; U.S. Route 63 from Kirksville to Rolla, and from U.S. Route 60 to West Plains; U.S. Route 61 from near Canton to St. Louis; U.S. Route 67 from Crystal City to Poplar Bluff; U.S. Route 71 from Maryville to Interstate Route 29 and from Kansas City to near Neosho; and Route 7 from Harrisonville to Warsaw.

The rest of these routes would be ultimate four-lane facilities, that is, two-lane facilities which will provide an adequate quality of service, with four-lane right-of-way purchased in areas where construction of the planned facility requires acquisition of additional right-of-way.

Four-lane improvements of east-west routes would include U.S. Route 36 from St. Joseph to Hannibal; U.S. Route 54 from U. S. Route 61 south of Hannibal to U.S. Route 65; and U.S. Route 60 from Springfield to Willow Springs and from Route 21 to Sikeston.

Also included for ultimate four-laning are:

U. S. Route 54 from U. S. Route 65 west to the Kansas line; U. S. Route 63 from West Plains to the Arkansas line; U. S. Route 60 from its junction with U. S. Route 63 north of West Plains to the intersection with Route 21; Route 72 from the U. S. Route 67 junction to Jackson; Route 8 from Interstate Route 44 to Flat River; and Routes 53, 25 and 84 from Poplar Bluff to Interstate Route 55 at Hayti.

Funds to construct U. S. 63 from Rolla to U. S. 60 near Cabool as an expressway are committed to developing this facility or the route from Rolla to U. S. 60 near Van Buren by way of Salen, whichever section indicates the greater need near the end of the plan's period.

In the St. Louis area the plan would include work on Routes 141 and HH, and the Page Avenue and Brown Road extenstions.

In the Kansas City area, work would include the Route 24 Freeway, completion of the South Midtown Freeway and a speedup on the northern segment of Interstate Route 435.

The proposed system would provide service equal to or approaching that experienced on the Interstate system.

The added cost for the average Missouri driver would be less than $22 a year, about $1.80 a month, 42 cents a week – or 6 cents a day.

That's The Law

State Liable for Accident

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

The night was clear but the road was dark as Herbert drove home from his vacation. And, for 12 miles, the state-maintained highway, which was several hundred feet above sea level, had been as straight as a church minister.

But then, Herbert and the highway suddenly parted company. Without warning, the road curved at an 80 degree angle and Herbert shot off into space as if he were headed for Mars. Upon landing on earth, he sued the state for his many injuries.

"The state wasn't driving his car," was the state's defense. "He was! He should have kept his eyes peeled at all times."

"If I kept them any more peeled," retorted Herbert, "I would have felt like a banana. What's more, my headlights were on and I wasn't speeding. The fact is, the state should have posted a warning that the road was going to curve. Not having done so, was pure negligence."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you hold the state liable for Herbert's voyage into space?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that a motorist is entitled to be warned that danger and sharp curves lurk in the road ahead. By not giving this notice, a state can be held liable for negligence in failing in its required duty.
